

THE ROYAL AND ANCIENT

That was quite a remarkable game played at the Toronto Golf Club the other day. The contestants were Mr. B. L. Anderson, secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, and Mr. Seymour Lyon vs. Mr. George Lyon and Mr. Dudley Dawson, champion of the Toronto Club, who, during a few years' residence in Winnipeg, won nearly all the chief events in the West. In the last nine holes these four players between them gathered in thirteen threes, which surely must constitute a record. The best ball of Messrs. Anderson and Seymour Lyon for the nine holes was 22 and the best ball of all the players, 30. And the Toronto course is no "pink tea proposition" either, but one of the stiffest in Canada. The secretary of the R.C.G.A. and his partner were rather too good for their doughty opponents at both the morning and afternoon rounds.

And here is a very interesting statistical item in reference to holes-in-one. The short hole at Lambton, the well known Toronto course, is No. 12. It is 138 yards in length over a nasty little water hazard and well guarded by traps. It is in no sense of the term, however, a particularly hard one-shotted hole. The green is a generous one and does not take a lot of negotiating. A couple of years ago Mr. Stanley Pettit, the chairman of the green committee, out of curiosity checked up the records and found that over 11,000 games had been played at Lambton, not counting morning rounds and the rounds of many of the ladies, who have the privilege of playing the men's course at certain restricted times. Four ball matches at Lambton are largely in the majority, but taking an average of three players per match this would mean at a conservative estimate that 33,000 and more tee shots were made at the short No. 12 and yet not a single hole-in-one was recorded that season. In fact, during the many years that it has been played, it only has twice been made in one—Mr. Henry Wright and Mr. J. C. Breckenridge having performed the trick. Talk about a hole-in-one being a 20,000 to one shot. At Lambton it figures out about 200,000 to one.

The recent successful but severe fighting in France has made a heavy call upon some of the finest athletes in the Empire. The toll has been great, but "how can man die better." Among the well known young golfers who have gallantly paid the price are Lieut. Lindsay Wright of Toronto and Lieut. F. Stanley Schell of Brantford. The papers generally referred to the former as a fine cricketer, football player and hockey expert. But Lieutenant Wright was also a very good golfer indeed. He took up the game when he was only fourteen years of age and had a lot of good shots in his bag. Lieut. Schell, who joined the Imperial Artillery, had played for many years and was quite above the ordinary when it came to swinging a club, either wood or iron. Both were very fine types of clean-cut Canadians and both will be much missed in club house and at course. Lieut. Wright's father, who is President of the McLaren Imperial Cheese Co. is a very well known Toronto golfer—in his younger days an expert canoeist. The total toll of the golfers of Canada since the world-wide war conflagration is now well over two hundred.

Lord Shaughnessy, the President of the C.P.R., is the most recent prominent convert to the Royal and Ancient. This season he has been seen very often on the links at St. Andrew's-by-the-Sea, where he has his summer home. He has been for some years a member of the Royal Montreal, but never really took up the game seriously until a few months ago. His friends say that His Lordship is already developing quite a respectable short game.

Another prominent figure in the affairs of the Dominion, who dearly loves a round of the links is Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, general manager of the Bank of Montreal. Sir Frederick is a very determined player and is never beaten until the last putt is holed. He is, by the way, the owner of the most coveted golf prize in Europe, namely, the gold cigarette box presented annually by the Grand Duke Michael, which he won at the Cannes Annual Club Spring Meet in 1913. Upon this occasion he was playing at the top of his game, in fact, admits himself that he was a dozen strokes or so better than usual. He followed this up the next day by winning the Princess Henry Pleas prize. Both Lord Shaughnessy and Sir Frederick are members of the recently formed Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, the former Honorary President.

Saskatchewan, the Province of many acres and of many good golfers, had over one hundred players, men and women, compete in the 1918 championship. The venue was the Wascana Club, Regina, (they are two clubs in Regina), and the participants enjoyed five days of capital golf. Mr. J. H. Cuthbert, of Moose Jaw, for the second time in succession, captured the championship, whilst Saskatoon for the fourth time also in succession, handed the team trophy. Judging from the

TORTURED BY RHEUMATISM

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought Quick and Permanent Relief

MR. P. H. MCHUGH 108 Church Street, Montreal. December 10th, 1917.

"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 10 years. I consulted specialists, took medicines, used lotions; but nothing did me good. Then, I began to use 'Fruit-a-tives'; and in 15 days, the pain was easier and the Rheumatism was better. Gradually, 'Fruit-a-tives' overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. Also, I had severe Eczema and Constipation, and 'Fruit-a-tives' relieved me of these complaints; and gave me a good appetite; and in every way restored me to health." P. H. McDUGUE.

scores made, they play rattling good golf in "Sask." At the annual meeting it was very wisely decided to make the Calkins system of handicapping obligatory with all the clubs affiliated with the association. Sir Frederick Haultain, Chief Justice of the Province, was at the annual meeting elected Hon. President, whilst the other officers were chosen from Regina, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Qu'Appelle, and Swift Current. A sum of $100 was voted to the Red Cross. Although a very virile sensation, Saskatchewan will get the 1919 tournament.

Miss Phyllis Nelson-Terry the charming English actress, was a recent visitor to Toronto and incidentally played her sixth game of golf whilst there. In relating her experience to a feminine journalistic sleuth-hound, she is thus reported: "I hit the clubhouse," she said, with the air of a child not more than half sorry for being a little bit naughty. Nobody ever did it before, they say, and the caddies were adorable—they laughed like anything. That "adorable" caddy places is certainly some camouflage. It's not the term generally applied to the "freckle-faced" imps. The one that fits them best may end with an a-b, l, e, but it begins with a D—a very big D. They can be cheapened by a roar; be patient. What if the measly profiteer is growing richer every year? The day of wrath for him is near; be patient. What if there are abuse and wrong, until you cry, "Oh, Lord, how long!" The arm of retribution's strong; be patient. There's no occasion for despair; if night is dark, the morning's fair, and things are right side up with care; be patient. It's vain to hunt around for grief; it's vain to rend your rage and beef; if things are tough, there comes relief; be patient. These are the times that try the soul; they cheer, shake with themselves, console; the brave boys laugh when in the hole; be patient. Oh, grieve and bear whatever load you have to pack along the road, and hark a flag on your abode; be patient.

"What is the best of a brain for a golfer to have," is the very interesting question asked by a writer in The New York Evening Post. Many argue that the individual with highly developed artistic tastes makes the best exponent, while others contend that the only brain of any use to the golfer is one of extreme dullness. Those who contend that dullness is necessary to good play, hold out very little hope for a successful business man, for the simple reason that he thinks too much. Too perceptively and altogether too much. It is a soothing reflection for the great army ofuffers who even if they have not yet risen to fame in art or commerce, can take much heart of comfort from their constant foibles. Not to speak to the serious side, golf requires and in many instances develops a particular kind of intellect which declines to be thrown off its balance by either success or adversity. The nerve who has the power to cultivate that temperament has gone far on the road to success. The theory that a sluggish, stolid brain is the great desideratum for the golfer is also shown by the persistence of many famous golfers.

NERVOUS TROUBLE

The nerve system is the governing system of the whole body, controlling the heart, lungs, digestion and brain; so it is not surprising that nervous disturbances should cause acute distress. The first stages of nervous debility are noted by irritability and restlessness, in which the victims seem to be oppressed by their nerves. The matter requires immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a complete breakdown. The victim, however, need not despair for even severe nervous disorders may be cured by improving the condition of the blood. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood that this medicine has cured extreme nervous disorders after all other treatment had failed. The nerves thrive on the new blood made by these pills; the appetite improves, digestion is better, sleeplessness no longer troubles the former nerve-shaken victim, and his generally keens up a cheerful aspect. Every sufferer from nerve troubles, no matter how slight, should lose no time in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, thus regaining their old-time health and comfort. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RANELAGH

(From Our Own Correspondent.) A number from here attended London Fair on Wednesday. We are glad to report that Miss Mary Wood is improving nicely. Miss Emma Jull spent Wednesday at Mr. Thos. Wood's. Mr. and Mrs. Saywell have returned home after spending a few days at St. Thomas. Mr. D. Purdy of Scotland spent Saturday with his mother here. Mrs. L. Kelly of Kelvin was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wood Friday afternoon. Mr. James Haggard spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. Thos. Wood.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled. Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of cream white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of cream white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes, it is harmless.

LADY'S OR MISS' ONE PIECE NIGHTGOWN

By Anabel Worthington.

The simplest kind of a nightgown is shown in this pleasing design, No. 8678. The gown is all in one piece, with a round neck, which may be drawn in by a ribbon if desired. The short kimono sleeves are trimmed with ruffles of lace. A new and interesting idea for this type of garment is shown in the lace edged triangular pockets, but of course these may be omitted. The Empire waist line is very pretty, and this effect is gained by slashing the gown at intervals and running a broad satin ribbon through. Nainsook, batiste or crepe de chine will be suitable for the nightgown. The lady's or miss' one piece nightgown pattern No. 8678 is cut in six sizes—16 and 18 years and from 36 to 42 inches bust measure. The 36 inch size requires 5 yards 27 inch or 3 3/4 yards 36 inch, with 5 1/4 yards edging, 1 1/2 yards narrow ribbon and 1 1/2 yards 3 inch ribbon. Price, 10 cents.

To Obtain This Pattern Send 15c to The Courier Office; or two for 35c.

Our Fall Lines of Wall Papers! Are Now Complete. The Patterns are beautiful. The colorings lovely, and the values are even better than previously, but this condition will not continue long, as prices will advance again very shortly. J. L. Sutherland "Paper Hangings and Window Shades"
