PLAN ENORMOUS DAM.

Ingenious Scheme to Heat

Modern ingenuity has discovered a most efficient mode of heating houses in winter—that of hot water. Furnace and caldron are sometimes, in the case of hospitals or other large buildings, placed at a distance from the apartments to be warmed. In such cases pipes conduct heated water into the radiators and back again when cooled. Thus, cool water is continually entering the bottom of the caldron while heated water flows from the top. It is now proposed to apply the warm waters of the Gulf Stream to the eastern portions of Canada and the United States, that such regions might enjoy a more even temperature through out the year and permit a more luxurious vegetation.

The closing of the Straits of Belle Isle, which are about 11 miles wide at the narrowest point, thereby shutting out the Labrador current, the harbinger of Arctic blasts and the reason why St. Lawrence ports are closed during the winter months, would divert the "Cold Wall" to the Atlantic and allow the warm waters of the Torrid Zone to circulate freely around eastern shores. Such a change, it is thought, would increase the value of lands and natural resources by billions of dollars; would greatly improve living and public health conditions; would release wast quantities of fuel, now necessary for heating purposes, to be used in industry; would be the means of augmenting the population, commerce and revenues of Canada.

The project has been pronounced possible by engineers. The cost would be great, but nothing in comparison to the results to be gained. The saving in fuel alone to the benefited areas, it is thought, would repay the entire expenditure.

The Labrador current sends a large volume of water through the Strait of Belle Isle, including the Labrador current sends a large volume of water through the Strait of Belle Isle, including the Labrador current of Canada covers a wide extent of territory. It brings winter earlier; makes spring later, and materially lowers the temperature caused by the Labrador current, the portions of the Province of the L

War Saving Stamps.

A handbook issued by the Canadian Government in furtherance of the campaign for the sale of war savings stamps, contains a concise statement of this plan of investment, its attractive features, the methods of conducting the campaign and reasons why the money is needed. The attractive features of this form of investment are its absolute security, backed by the collective wealth of Canada, easy payments by means of small savings made at the investor's convenience, protection again loss by registration if desired, power of redemption with interest before maturity, and a fair rate of interest of five per cent, on the investment. The Government has authorized the issue of $50,000,000 of war savings stamps during 1919, and it is expected that they will all be absorbed. This money, says the handbook, is required in order to meet the interest charges on the war debt and to furnish funds for needed development in Canada, as it is probable that Canada will be thrown on her own financial resources for a considerable time to come. "Overseas in the devastated countries there is an immense demand for commodities such as we produce, but those lands devastated by war have not at the moment the cash with which to purchase. If we must do so on credit and the banker of the situation is the Canadian Government."
