

TWO LITTLE SONGS.

I. WE WON'T ADVERTISE.
 There is a land of tears and bitter-wailing—
 A land most like that dear one Dante knew,
 Where wan-faced Niomes with dark robes trailing,
 In sad procession move, brow bound with rue.
 It is a land peopled by witless mortals—
 Compared with them the Virgins five were wise—
 And it is writ above its gloomy portals:
 "We did not think it paid to advertise."
II. WE DO.
 There is a land that flows with milk and honey—
 Not the condensed nor yet the sorghum strains—
 Each dweller bears a gipsack fat with money,
 Bonds, coupons, stocks and various other gains.
 Happy are these as, at high tide, the fishes;
 Nor tear doth drown the laughter in their eyes;
 For better luck they have no sort of wishes;
 The pastry's there—they learned to advertise.
 —Goff's Hand Book.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

Where? Where the dear old mother runs from her arm chair with a smile to greet you.

Where the hearted father clasps you in a warm hearty grasp. Where the bright faces that cluster around you are full of happy remembrances, and every heart throbs in unison with your life and labor.

Where, when the bustle and hurry and strife of living are over, the weary hands and aching heart can lie down awhile, lie down and wait a little and look into the far off celestial city just beyond the billows that touch our feet.

Where some will miss us when we've crossed to the other shore, and loving eyes will look wistfully through the surges and the mist that lies between them and us almost to the portal where heavenly messengers wait.

God pity the poor wanderer who can never know the joy of this earthly resting place.

This little glimpse of heaven to the heart so long a stranger to the tender accents which fall from loving lips, or the gentle touch of father's, mother's, or sister's hand with the warmest solicitude, smooths our way into the valley of the shadow of death.

Poor stranger, who is in far off lands, amid sickness, poverty and want, can only dream of the home he may never reach. Uncared for, unloved, alone. Alone, save the sweet administering of God's angels, who come to the beggar, the hungry, the sick, the homeless, the outcast of the earth, who take them in all their poverty of body and soul, far within the pearly gates that enclose the "Father's mansions."

DIFFICULTIES OF PROOF-READING.

About one hundred years ago, a number of Professors of the Edinburgh University attempted to publish a work which should be a perfect specimen of typographical accuracy. Every precaution was taken to secure the desired result. Six experienced proof-readers were employed, who devoted hours to the reading of one page; and after it was thought perfect, it was posted in the hall of the University with a notification that a reward of fifty pounds would be paid to any person who would discover an error. Each page was suffered to remain two weeks in the place where it had been posted before the work was printed, and the Professors thought they had attained the object for which they had been striving. When the work was issued it was discovered that several errors had been committed, one of which was in the first line of the first page. The "Vinegar Bible" and the "Breeches Bible" are also cases in point.

A gentleman afflicted with the chronic rheumatism says: "No description of my case can convey the vast amount of benefit I have received from the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I believe it is the best article in the world for rheumatism."

THE WRONG EXPLANATION.

It is sometimes a misfortune to be deaf. At a revival meeting not far out of this city, a few nights ago, a German arose to express his opinion, and said: "Der pees a good many on te, reat to hale." A worthy deacon, who was hard of hearing and regulated his responses by the inflection of the speakers' voices, exclaimed: "The Lord be praised!" — Bradford Sunday Mail.

This season has arrived when everybody who own horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, and fowl should begin to feed out Sheridan's Condition Powder. They all need to be braced up for winter. Get Sheridan's. The large 25 cent packs are worthless. Sheridan's in large cans $1.00.
