Martin vs. Martin.—This was an action in which evidence was taken at the last sittings of the County Court, but the argument was postponed. The action was by Martin Bros., Mount Forest, to recover $200 damages from Robert Currie, of Markdale, for alleged breach of contract to sell and deliver to the plaintiffs about two thousand bags of potatoes at 90 cents a bag. The contract was made in March last. Besides a defence in law, the defendant pleaded that he had not been guilty of any breach of contract. The breach which the plaintiffs complained of was that the potatoes had been sold as good merchantable potatoes, and that they deliable to that the defendant pleaded that he was argued at great length today by counsel on both sides. At the close of the argument His Honor said that he was inclined to agree with the defendant in the legal defence set up that the contract was net binding under Statute of Frands, but if his judgment were to be based upon that ground he would require more time to look into the law bearing on the question. As, however, his opinion was in the defendant's favor upon the facts, and because he believed that on the whole evidence, although there was considerable conflict between the witnesses, the potatoes of the quality contracted for, he gave judgment for the defendant, disminsing the action with costs.

turned to the Market Square to watch the TRADES PROCESSION which was set down to start at ten o'clock, but at that hour there was scarcely a team on the Square. It was not long, however, before they came pouring in from every road leading to the market, decked out in great style. It took Adja. Ross and Capt. Knowles, marchals, some time to get the unwieldy looking mass of conveyances into line, and even when this was done a delay was made for the arrival of the rains. It may be mentioned here that a large number came by rail from neighboring towns and villages. Beslin alone sent five hundred including the Mayor, Reeve and three editors, but it is an open question whether the latter were to takecare of the 500, or the 500 of them. Galt, Fergus, Elora, Waterloo, Hespeler, Rockwood, Acton, and Georgetown, also sent large delegations. At five minutes past eleven the procession started out, and pursued the following route:—From the Market Square to G. T. R. station, Macdonnell street to Norfolk street, along Wouldenstreet to Norfolk street, along Wouldenstreet to Wayudham street, and along Wyndham street to Market Square. It took the procession 25 minutes to pass a given point, and when the last of it was crossing Wyndham street on Market Square. It took the procession pass, falling in at the rear, and returning to the Market Square, where the carriages in front halted and watched the procession pass, falling in at the rear, and returning to the Market Square, where the procession was broken up. The following is the order of the procession and some of its special features:—

A GRAND DEMONSTRATION

Trades Procession

Games and Amusements,

Probably never in the history of Guelph was there a more successful celebration held within its borders than that of yesterday. It was a success in every respect. St. George's Society has to be thanked to a certain extent for the treat provided. It was at one of the meetings of this Society that the idea was suggested of getting up a grand demonstration on the last of July, not alone to celebrate the day, but also with the object of giving the people some attraction at home, save them the expense of going outside for amusement, and that whatever little money was spent would remain in the city. The other sister societies were consulted in the matter and so was the City Council, the result being that an executive committee composed of the following gentlemen was sppointed to arrange for a demonstration:

—Mayor Goldie, Hon. Chairman; A. W. Alox ander, Vice-Chairman; Ald. Dowler, Scoretary; A. Robettson, Treasurer; Ald. Hamilton, Laughlin, Sully and Falmer, and Measrs. T. D. Fenwick, R. Higham, H. Weatherston, E. O'Connor, John Burgess, R. McKenzie, A. E. Lyon and John Anderson. Probably never in the history of Guelph

The Committee deserve the thanks of the citizens for providing such as a second The Committee deserve the thanks of the citizens for providing such an excellent programme, and carrying out to so successful an end the trust reposed in them. The citizens on their part did nobly in upholding the hands of the committee in decorating their residences and places of business and in taking part in the monster procession. As regards the decorations they were not on an elaborate scale, but they were neat and tasty, and gave the city a gay, and not gaudy, appearance. The weather too seemed to smile on the cocassion. A heavy shower of rain fell in the early morning, effectually laying the dust, and leaving the air nice and cool. A slight shower fell in the afternoon, but it in no way interfered with the proceedings.

The first part set down on the programme was the firing of a royal salute of 21 guns by the 1st Brigade of Field Artillery, under command of Col. Macdonald. Seven o'clock was thought'to be too early and it was changed to half-past nine, when a large crowd assembled on the fair ground to look on and hear the guns. This opening part of the proceedings only took a few minutes, and the spectators leasurely returned to the Market Square to watch the TRADES PROCESSION

Chase in charge, had also an interessing exhibit. Hands were in the dray busily engaged in making tops, oushious and trimmings as they went along. All the kinds of work turned out by the firm were also shown.

The O. A. College had a model yet interesting turn out. It was the shorthorn bull Baron Waterloo, driven by a four in hand. The Baron took things very easy, and was quite docile, notwithstanding his 2,900 pounds and the suggested banner that floated over his head "We kill to live." He was secured by the butchers to head their turnous.

The singing of the hymns was very nice.

The Tolton agricultures, works had three conveyances showing harrows, peatheresters, intermitter, plows, and material for repairs.

Ald. Kleepfer had a dray load of rims, spokes, and all kinds of carriage hardware on its way to shipment after the procession was over. John Drysdale, of the G.T.R., had his horses adorned with half dismond braid. The G. T. R. teams were the best fixed up in the whole procession, which is most creditable to the teamsters.

The exhibit by the fire department was worthy of the officers and the men. The engine was polished to such a degree that it would have answered for w looking glass, and was beautifully adorned with dowers, and so were the hose reels and other appurtenances belonging to the brigade.
