

VASSAR GIRL'S BODY FOUND.

She Had Jumped Into a Cistern in Her Father's Yard.

Men With Bloodhounds Had Been Searching for Her Body.

Her Parents Driven Almost Crazy by the Discovery.

Poughkeepsie, Dec. 8.—With the finding of the body of Miss Marguerite Douerty in a cistern holding twelve feet of water, in her father's yard at Hugbushville, at half-past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the mystery that had stirred the whole region was cleared up. Miss Douerty, daughter of the Rev. William H. Douerty, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Hugbushville, Dutchess county, left her home early Sunday afternoon, telling her mother she was going for a walk. She wore a sweater and no hat.

When she did not return in two hours her father sent out an alarm and nearly everybody in the place turned out to search for her. Along the streams, over the fields and through the woods and swamps the search was kept up all night and all to-day.

Bloodhounds from the city traced the girl to a place on the Fishkill road about two miles from her home. They lost the trail and it was found that she had retraced her steps carefully back to her home. Mrs. James Smith, who lives by the road where the girl stopped, says that she saw her standing in the road Sunday afternoon as if pondering where to go next. That she turned and went home is shown by the sequel. While she was being searched for about the surrounding country she lifted the cover of the cistern and jumped in, pulling the cover on after her.

This afternoon Detective Jas. Young, of this city, after searching since Sunday, was about to give up the work. The Rev. Mr. Douerty begged him to continue. The detective mentioned the cistern, but the girl's father said that he had already looked into it and felt sure that she was not there. The house was searched from top to bottom and with the almost distracted father still declaring that she could not be in the cistern the detective insisted upon another investigation. Putting down a pole, he found the body on the bottom. The clergyman and his wife were made at Vassar today. Miss Douerty entered Vassar last June and remained until October, when her father took her home. Dr. Elizabeth Thelberg, the physician at the college, said to-day:

"Miss Douerty was simply genuinely homesick and nothing more, so far as anybody here could tell. That was all she complained of. She had no trouble with her studies in any way and her work had nothing whatever to do with her leaving. She did not live on the campus at all, but boarded with a private family on College avenue. It is no new thing for a girl to become homesick and want to go home so badly that her parents take her away."

Miss Douerty was attractive both in person and intellect. She was a favorite with her friends. Although just past 18, she passed for a girl of 16. She looked forward to a college career, and it was expected by all of her friends that she would return to Vassar after she had recovered.

SANTA LEFT TOYS.

Kris Kringle Found a House Where None Had Been Before.

For years Santa Claus has been leaving toys to most all the other houses in Hamilton. There was one place at which he left none. But this year on his early "wholesale" rounds of Canada he left three big sleighloads there. That house, by the way, is the Right House. Have you seen the toy house on the third floor?

Equally as interesting are the head-kerehief, linen, fur, umbrella and brass-ware displays.

GIRL DROWNED.

Was on Her Way to Attend Ladies' Aid at Iroquois.

Iroquois, Ont., Dec. 8.—Miss Euphemia Sharma, daughter of Mr. W. J. Sharma, lockmaster, and a prominent man of Iroquois, was drowned last night while on her way to attend a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church. Miss Sharma took a short cut across the lock gates, instead of going over the bridge, and must have been blown into the canal. The wind was blowing a gale at the time, and the night was dark and stormy.

CENTENARY SALE.

The bazaar of the Mission Bn., of Centenary Methodist Church was continued last evening and this afternoon, and in spite of the inclement weather was attended by many, who were surprised at the large display of goods this year, including some from Japan. Tea was served last evening, and various forms of entertainment provided, including a musical programme by the younger members of the band, and which was heartily applauded. Although the committee in charge will not be able to ascertain the exact profits of the sale for some time, they are assured that they will be greater than those of previous years.

New Arrivals.

Pomegranates, Red Dahl, peanut oil, Bar du Duc, Wisconsin strawberries, half finish roast chicken, in jelly; crystallized fruits, pearl onions, in glass; Harriet Verts, in glass; olive oil, anchovies, in kegs, fresh cod steak, Tom Smith's crackers, Christmas stockings, extra choice loose muscatels.—Peelies, Hobson & Co., Limited.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP.

The city's stone quarry on the mountain top closed down to-day for the season.

—A. S. and Mrs. James, Master Douglas James and Miss Alice Byron will sail on December 10 for Antwerp on the steamship Marquette.

—Mr. Howard, 321 Emerald street north, has been suffering for some weeks past with nervous collapse, caused by excessive work and worry during the summer.

—Mr. W. F. Robinson was a guest of Mr. John Philip Sousa in Toronto yesterday at the band concert given in Massey Music Hall. The famous Sousa and his band sail from Vancouver next August, starting on a tour around the world.

—To-night a strong deputation from the Methodist Laymen's Missionary Movement will have charge of the meeting in Emerald Street Methodist Church. Seneca Jones will occupy the chair. Addresses will be given by representatives of the various Methodist Churches.

A GOOD ONE.

Emerald Street Ladies Sold Every Article in Their Bazaar.

Notwithstanding the terrible weather of yesterday and last night, the annual bazaar of the Ladies' Aid of Emerald Street Methodist Church was the best they have had for years. The lecture room was beautifully decorated. Four long tables were laden with goods of all descriptions. At an early hour people began to come and they were buyers from the start. In the evening the place was crowded. Many enjoyed the tea and ice cream provided. The programme began about 8:30 when Mr. William Ling was called to the chair. Miss Vera McComb gave a delightful piano solo, which was followed by a solo by Rev. Dr. Williamson, entitled "A Thousand Years." Responding to an encore, he gave an original parody on "John Brown's Body," which proved to be a ringing comment on the Ladies' Aid and their bazaar. It was very complimentary to the Ladies' Aid for their excellent work. Mr. T. Lovejoy combined a speech and song, entitled "Cheap Jack," which was cleverly done and greatly enjoyed. Miss Hazel Rickards and Miss Irene Miner sang beautifully "O Happy Day," and responding to a hearty encore gave "Annie Laurie" in good style.

Mr. Alex. Mackie was the last, but not the least in point of excellence and music. He sang a comic selection entitled "When Father Laid the Carpet," and responded to the encore with "Everybody is Good to Me," which delighted the crowd.

It was complete the success that at the close not a single article for sale was left on any of the tables.

MINER'S MONEY.

Bandit's Lawyer Wan's His Fee From Government.

(Special Wire to the Times.) Ottawa, Dec. 8.—Bill Miner, the famous British Columbia bandit, whose escape from the New Westminster penitentiary was so fully discussed at last session of Parliament, has again the subject of correspondence in the Justice Department.

W. Norman Bole, K.C., of Vancouver, who defended Miner at the time of his trial, recently secured an order of the Court of British Columbia for payment to him of money taken from Miner at the time of his arrest. This money is claimed in payment of Mr. Bole's legal fees in the case, amounting to $500, and for costs amounting to $28, but the total amount of cash taken from Miner was only $142.10, this sum having been held ever since in trust by the department. The rule governing the case of money taken from a convict is that it shall be paid over to him at the time of his release or to his legal heirs or in case of death, Miner having been convicted of a peculiar nature, the department doubts if it has right to hand over the sum to Mr. Bole and is may therefore remain in the treasury as a souvenir of the departed desperado.

GREAT GALE.

Damage at Port Colborne—Skillful Captain.

Port Colborne, Ont., Dec. 8.—The furious southwest to southeast gale which prevailed here yesterday afternoon and last night has done considerable damage along the lake front. A portion of the eastern breakwater has been washed away the boat houses and Contractor Hogan's machine shop and also the railway spur line to the new Government wharf have been damaged by the line square. The steamer Cannon, from Fort William to Prescott, with wheat, commanded by Captain J. H. Smith, which arrived at dark in the middle of the storm, entered the harbor safely. Marine men here say Captain Smith exhibited the most skillful seamanship in guiding his boat into the harbor in such a gale. The steamer Plummer is here disabled by a broken wheel. The water was so high in the harbor many cellars were flooded in the lower section of the town.

WANT GATES.

Beachville, Ont., Dec. 8.—The coroner's jury in the case of Lela Draper, the little daughter of Rev. Mr. Draper, killed at a crossing here last Saturday, last night found that the said Lela Draper came to her death through no fault of the employees of the Grand Trunk, and that no blame through error of judgment or neglect of duty can be charged against them, as conditions exist, adding a recommendation for gates or other protection at this crossing.

A TRANSFORMATION.

Barton street east, between Cheever and Little William streets, presents a brilliant appearance at night. The Bank of Hamilton and Mills' Hardware Company have erected powerful incandescent lights on the north side, which makes a great improvement. The effect is noticeable for blocks away, and sometimes people passing on the cars wonder what it is all about.

IN A DREAM SAW SON KILLED.

Vision Led to Discovery of Boy Mangled by Car.

Was Killed Six Months Ago and Buried in Potter's Field.

As Result of Mrs. Adams' Confidence Remains Were Exhumed.

Philadelphia, Dec. 8.—A mother's dream was the means yesterday of identifying a boy who had been killed over six months ago by a trolley car and buried in Potter's Field. The boy was Robert Adams, 15 years old, of 337 Carre avenue, Essington, and his identification was established beyond a doubt and the body taken charge of by his parents for burial.

On Sunday night Mrs. Adams dreamed that she saw her boy being run over and killed by a trolley car, and that, mangled and torn as his flesh was, and with many bones in his body broken, he was able to call for his mother before he passed away.

During the remainder of the night Mrs. Adams declared, she was unable to sleep, and told her husband of her strange dream. He, however, told her that dreams never came true, and asked her to drop it from her mind, but he was unable to quiet her nerves, and nothing he could say seemed to make her forget her dream. She arose before her usual time and awoke her husband, and asked him to go to the Coroner's office and make inquiries. At first he refused to go to Philadelphia, but in order to satisfy his wife, although he declared the journey was a useless one, he decided to make the trip.

The boy, although only 15 years old, had been away from home several times before, and always turned up all right, and when he left in the middle of May to come to this city to get work it was believed he would soon return, as he had often done before, and very little attention was paid to his absence.

Mr. Adams reached the Coroner's office early in the day and was shown a description of the missing people who had been buried in the potter's field. Among them was a boy, but from the description he stated it did not resemble his son. He at once returned to Essington and told his wife what he had discovered, declaring that the description did not tally with that of their boy. She was not satisfied, however, and told her husband she would be unable to sleep if she did not find out for herself that the boy was not really that of her son. Mrs. Adams and her husband then came to Philadelphia together, and arriving at the Coroner's office about 1 o'clock in the afternoon, she was given a description and shown a photograph of the boy buried as an unknown in potter's field, and she at once declared it was her son.

The funeral still continued to doubt, but his wife declared she had no doubts whatever, and to convince him the body was exhumed and then both mother and father exclaimed that it was their missing son. The body of the lad was then given into the charge of an undertaker and prepared for decent burial. In speaking of the matter at headquarters at the Coroner's office Mr. Adams declared she had no doubt that her dream was true—that in fact it was more than a dream—that it was a vision.

Young Adams was killed by a car of the Southwestern Trolley Company not far from Rose Ferry bridge on May 30. The testimony of a peculiar nature. It was declared that the motorman was going at a high rate of speed along a stretch of about a mile of track where there are no stoppages and saw what he thought was a coat and hat on the rail. As things are often blown or placed on the track, it was alleged, he did not stop, and that what was thought to be a hat and coat was, in reality, a boy; and that this lad now turns out to be young Adams. He had been two weeks from home at that time.

FRED FISHER

Missing and Fears That He Has Been Drowned.

Huntsville, Ont., Dec. 8.—Word has been received of the disappearance of Fred Fisher, a young man living on the Lake of Bays, about four miles from Dorset. The young man was in the habit of spending Sunday with relatives in Dorset, and started for there in a canoe on Saturday night. Since then no trace of him has been found, and it is feared he is drowned. There is a great deal of floating ice in the "narrows" through which he had to pass.

—A telephone message from Dorset announced that Fisher has arrived safely, after being stormbound since Saturday.

MRS. FELKER'S CASE

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Jane Felker's action, in which she seeks to prevent the construction of the Hydro-Electric transmission line across her farm, will be tried at Welland on Dec. 29, without a jury. Pending the trial, no further construction work will be done in the disputed property.

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board has fixed Dec. 21 as the date for settling the terms of the order annexing part of the township of Nelson to Burlington village.

FIERCE BATTLE.

Nearly a Hundred and Fifty Troops Killed in Fight.

General Toledo Besieged—France Won't Interfere.

Panama, Dec. 8.—Passengers arriving here from Nicaragua say that the people in that republic are kept in ignorance of what is happening throughout the country. So strict is the censorship maintained by President Zelaya that residents of the western part of Nicaragua have not learned of the breaking off of diplomatic relations between the United States and Nicaragua.

General Toledo is besieged at Greytown, which is surrounded on land and sea by the insurgents. General Vasquez, commander of the government forces at the last battle near Rama, was court-martialed because of the defeat suffered by the government troops. This battle is said to have been a desperate one. A government column when it entered the fight with 150 soldiers left all but four of them on the field.

WON'T INTERFERE.

Paris, Dec. 8.—France will not send a warship to Nicaragua. This was decided today, following the receipt by the Foreign Office of advice from M. Arlot, French Charge d'Affaires in Central America.

Of these foreigners, 7,000 are Jews, 600 Russian Christians, 1,300 Italians, 100 Russian Polish Christians, 50 Greeks, 50 Germans, and 50 Bulgarians and Macedonians. "They are all living under cramped conditions," said Dr. Sheard, city medical health officer.

COOK'S REPORTS

Reach Copenhagen University Closely Guarded.

Great Precautions Taken to Preserve the Records.

Copenhagen, Dec. 8.—The North Polar observations of Dr. Frederik A. Cook reached here to-day on board the steamer United States. Extraordinary precautions were taken to insure the safe delivery of the long-heralded data to the university authorities. As soon as the United States was tied up at her pier an iron box containing Dr. Cook's report and the diaries in which his original entries were made was brought ashore. The box was closely followed by Walter Lonsdale, Dr. Cook's secretary, who had stood guard over its precious contents since they left the hands of the explorer. Upon the pier Lonsdale and two detectives bundled the iron box into a motor car and jumping in themselves, were driven hastily to the University of Copenhagen.

Their car was followed by a second automobile. At the university the papers were formally turned over to the authorities there, and placed in a strong room, where they will be guarded closely until the committee appointed to examine them is ready to begin its labors. The examination will be probably in Copenhagen observatory.

No one but the committee representing the University of Copenhagen will be permitted to be present. United States Minister Egan was to have attended the committee meetings, but will not be able to do so, because of the delay in the arrival of the records. Mr. Egan leaves to-morrow for the United States. The contents of Dr. Cook's papers is accompanied by signs of a revival of the Cook-Pearry controversy. The Politiken asserts to-day that the supporters of Commander Peary are trying to enlist the services of Greenland explorers in the anti-Cook press campaign.

MARTIAL LAW.

Fear That Gen. Bonilla May Invade Honduras.

Porto Cortes, Honduras, Dec. 8.—Martial law in Honduras was proclaimed yesterday. A state of expectancy exists.

The proclamation of martial law in Honduras is the result probably of a suspicion at the capital that General Manuel Bonilla will take advantage of the situation in Nicaragua to invade Honduras with a rebel band and regain the presidency, from which he was deposed by President Zelaya, of Nicaragua. Driven from the presidency of Honduras, Bonilla took refuge on the United States cruiser Chicago on April 12, 1907. Since then he has spent much time in Mexico, the United States and British Honduras. On Nov. 23 last he sailed from New Orleans for Colon. He is suspected of intriguing with Guatemalan and Salvadoran, with the purpose of bringing about a revolution in Honduras, overthrowing the Davila Government and then forming a union between Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador for an attack on President Zelaya's government in Nicaragua.

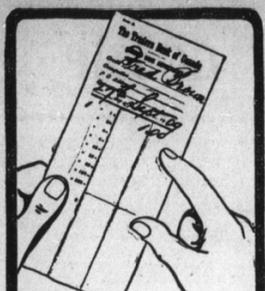

VICTORIAN ORDER.

The monthly meeting of the House Committee on the Victorian Order of Nurses was held yesterday. Miss Hanna, one of the nurses, was present, but the other two were too busy with their cases to attend. The committee thanked Griffin & Richmond for a present of bill heads for the nurses' use. As Christmas approaches, with its message of goodwill and gladness, the Victorian Order of Nurses expresses the hope that its good work will not be forgotten. Contributions of money to assist in carrying on the order's operations will be gratefully received, and may be sent to the treasurer, Mr. C. W. Cartwright, Landed Banking & Loan building.
