Portsumere son Pennors in Toncer. A rather singular scene took place on the 22d ult, at Adrianople. Two men, the chiefs of a neighbouring village, who had been found guilty of perjury, were promended through the Bazsar mounted on donkeys with their faces turned to-wards the tails of the animals, and hav-ing their heads dressed out in a grotes-que manner, with the heiry part of a sweeping brush on their forehead, and some cloves of garlic round their neck. They were preceded by the public crier, who announced the crime of which they had been guilty. After being thus for some time exposed to the hootings of the people, they were taken to the court of the Palace, were dismissed, and declar-PUNISHMENT FOR PERJURY IN TURKET the Palace, were dismissed, and declar-ed incapable of ever holding any public office. The offenders had been bribed to give evidence that the widow of Turk, recently dead, had been delivered of a child, afterwards deceased, and which circumstance would make the widow the sole heir of all her husband's pr perty. The relations of the husband however, interfered, and clearly proved the guilt of the witnesses, and they were condemned to the punishment above mentioned

MARITIME CASUALTINS .- From the Admirally register of wrecks, recently pre-sented to Parliament, it appears that in 1850 there were 681 British and Foreign vessels wrecked on the coasts and in the sens of the United Kingdom, and 784 lives lost; that in 1851 there were 701 wrecks on our coast, and so far as could be ascertained, 750 lives lost; and that in 1852 there were no fewer than 1,100 vessels wrecked, and about 900 lives lost. The greatest havoc took place about the latter end of last October and the begin-ning of November. In this interval, no fewer than 600 ships sought refuge in Humber. Many more, however, the could reach no shelter; and thus, in the course of a few days, the unprecedented number of 300 vessels were lost or damaged, with the fearful loss of 217 lives. The greater part of this terrible work of destruction took place on the east coast of England, off Flamborough Head. A SINGULAR WAIF .- We have heard of frogs and toads entombed in the heart of solid stones, and flies and straws in amber; but we have before us a sight quite as remarkable, and altogether unparalleled, an old horse-shoe that was found imbedded in the middle of a stout tree in the forest. a few weeks back. The person who first related to us the circumstance of discovering the article has sent it to us, occompanied by a note, about. Mr. Martin Cleveland, of Horton, found it in the centre of a spruce tree, measuring 14 inches in diameter, about 6 feet above the root. The tree was solid and the heart of it run through the shoe ; but the outside presented no sign of anything strange being enclosed within. The way Mr. Cleveland found the shoe was, he put a log on the fire, and when it was partly consumed he saw the corks stick-ing out of the brand." The shoe is well made and in a good state of preservation. It may have belonged, perhaps, to a poney of one of the French inhabitants of Horton, that lost it in straying through the woods, when the tree that hid it so long and closely was just peeping above the ground. Acadian Recorder.

THE EARL AND THE GUEST .- A noble lord of immense possessions had his house lately full of company. Among them was a somewhat dihupiduted country squire, whose pride is much more in extent than his parchments. One day there was a new arrival. The stranger did not certainly smack much of the air of Belgravia, and the squire aforesaid, after few supercitious remarks upon his style few supercitious remarks upon his style and appearance, to other people, at last, when he had an opportunity, asked the noble host himself somewhat sancity, Who's your friend?" '4 Who's my friend?" he replied, with a chuckling sinile, " 'tis only _____, the member for _____; and, let me add, he's able to buy up you and me and all the rest of us, and still have a large surplus in his poc-ket;" and he added, with an emphasis of admiration which could not be mistaken, as it told of the proper price with which admiration which could not be mistaken, as it told of the proper price with which he regarded such men as his newly-arriv-ed guest, "and he has made it himself !" "Oh, do introduce me to him as soon as possible," said the creat-fallen squire, who already had conceived a "golden opinion" of the stranger, and saw in him a million attractions which he had not perceived at first. Such is the world :----, "Mortals, life moths, are ever caught by glaze. And mammon wine his way where saraphs might despair." When Miss Hannah More asked Dr. Johnson why he drank no wine, he hon-

A CRIFFLE SETS ASIDE HIS CRUTCHES AT-TER TEN YEARS SUPPERING. Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thompson, Chemist, Li evipool, deted August 20, 1862. To Professor HollowAT, DEAR STR-I am enabled to furnish you with a most extraordinary cure effected by your invaluable Ointment and Fills which has astonished every per-son acquainted with the sufferer. About 10 years ago, Mr. W. Cammins, of Saltney Street, in this town, was thrown from his horse, whereby he receiv-ed very serious injuries; he had the best medical ad-vice at the timie, and was afterwards an immate of different infirmaries, yeth be grew weree, and at length a malignant running ulcer settled in his hip, which so completely crippled him, that he could not move without curtches for nearly 10 years; recently he be-gan to use your Ointment and Pills, which have now bealed the wound, strengthened his limb, and enabled him to dispense with his crutches, so that he can walk with the greatest case, and with renewed health and vigor. (Signed) J. THOMPSON.

FUL SKIN DISEASE, WHEN ALL MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED. Copy of a Letter from Mr. Hird, Draper, of Kea-dy, near Gainsbro', dated March 14, 1852. To Professor HoLLOW AX, SIE-Some time since, one of my children was af-ficted with dreadful eraptons over the body and limbs. I obtained the advice of several emisent Sur-geons and Physicians, by all of whom the case was considered hopeless. At length I tried your Oint-ment and Fills, and without exaggeration, the effect was miraculous, for by porsevering in their ace, all the eruptions quickly disappeared, and the child was restored to perfect health. I previously lost a child from a similar complaint, and I fimly believe, had I in her case adopted your medicinas, she would have been saved also. I ahall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer. (Signed) J. HIRD, Draper. Feb

BAD LEGS, DEBILITY, AND GENERAL ILL HEALTH. Copy of a Letter, from Mr, J. M. Clennell, of Neu-castle-on-Tyne, dated September 20th, 1852. To Professor HoLLOWAY, Instan Srn-I am authorised by Mirs. Gibbon, of 31, Balley Street, in this town, to inform you, that for a considerable period she had been a sufferer from de bility, and general ill health, accompanied by a dis ordered atomach, and great derangement of the sys iem. In addition to this, she was terribly afflicted with ulcersted wounds, or ranning screes, in both her legs, so that she was totally incupable of doing her reasal work. In this distreming condition she adopted the use of your Fills and Olinthent, and she states that in a wondwrful short time, they effected a perfect cure of her legs, and restored her constitution to health and strength; and that she is now eashed to walk about with ease and comfort. Several other persons in this neighbourhood have also received ex-triordinary benefit from the use of your invaluable medicines.
