MATTERS MUNICIPAL.

Municipal matters frequently made calls on the time of the aldermen as heavy as we have made this week. There would be fewer candidates for vacancies on the council board when the time to select the directors of our civic affairs comes round.

The question under consideration was the agreement with the Radial Railway Company and it is understood that the contract finally agreed to in the evening was a vastly different one from that to which the attention of the council was directed in the morning.

Before it is accepted that the Government is responsible for the delay it will have to be shown that an effort was made to get them to provide the funds for use during this season. The Dominion Government was understood to have promised 15 per cent. of the cost of the railway bridge, and the Provincial Government $175,000.

Substantially the bargain with the C. P. R. amounts to this: the company got what they wanted and will build when they get ready. Their promise to begin construction in February has been shown to not be worth the paper it was written on.

The question of the milk supply of the city has provoked a mild controversy between the doctors and the milk dealers, and has attracted, no doubt, very wide attention among the citizens. The milkmen declare emphatically that care is taken in the handling of the milk, that no preservatives have been used, and cite the reports of the inspector to show that it comes up to the standard of richness required.

The Medical Health Officer reports that the inspector no longer constitutes a nuisance since the burning of manure has been stopped.

ance and a very pronounced one. In deciding this point, any doubt should be given to the protesting parties, who reside in the neighborhood. They persistently assert that their peace is disturbed and the value of their property deteriorated by the presence of the plant. Their complaint is worthy of the most sympathetic consideration, and of relief, even though relief will cost something.

The C. P. R. seem to be very anxious to explain why they are not proceeding with the erection of their high level bridge—anyway, at least, to explain that somebody else is responsible for the delay. They now place the blame on the Provincial and Dominion Governments, which have not yet passed the votes for the amounts expected from them.

Mr. Roosevelt was in Norway a few days and succeeded in getting mixed up in the national politics. President Roosevelt might get rid of his supposed rival by making him commissioner extraordinary and regulator general for that portion of the universe lying outside the U. S. A.

Mr. Burns proposes in a degree to return to the "closed" lease. Under the circumstances this would only be an expedient adopted to perpetuate the ranching industry in spite of the operation of the law of evolution. It would at best only postpone the clash of interests from today until another day ten years hence.

the city can save $100,000 as against the counter proposal of a large trunk sewer outlet. Financially the proposition looks very attractive. If in saving this sum a satisfactory solution of the sewage problem can be provided, the city will have received many times over the cost of the expert's advice, on this one item alone.

A point to be borne in mind in this connection is that the east and park side comparatively near the proposed site for the sewage disposal plant. When the street car line is extended to the park via Jasper Avenue, considerable settlement will no doubt take place in that vicinity.

settlers began to come in and locate. Immediately there has been trouble in every community in which this conflict of interests has occurred. Sometimes the war has been fought out with pistols and knives, sometimes in the courts, sometimes with tongues in the Canadian House of Commons.

In Southern Alberta, as elsewhere on the prairie, the rancher was first, and being the only man in the country his interest had to be considered. To carry on his business it was necessary for him to have a large amount of land, and to be certain that he would have it for a number of years.

to be a long period in its history. Before that time has elapsed the corners which are now remote from settlement will be sought out and occupied by settlers. To tie up from all possibility of settlement for ten years, good agricultural land in the most distant part of Alberta would be dangerous.

President Taft uttered a rebuke the other day to demagogues who assail the Supreme court of the United States as inclining unduly toward corporations in the judgment of cases brought before them.
