That Collision in Fortune Bay.

Inspector General Sullivan yesterday received sworn statements signed by W. J. Farrell, master, and Simon and Thomas Farrell, watchmen of the schr. Edna Carter, and the captain of the Victoria which were in collision off Brunette Island Wednesday night, April 13th.

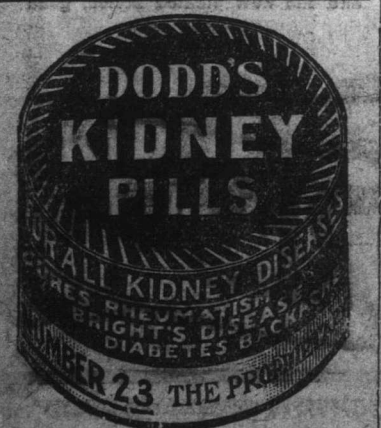

The Edna Carter went to bottom and the crew barely escaped with their lives, losing all their clothing and effects.

The collision occurred at 11 o'clock at night. The Edna Carter was from Burgeo, had her port and starboard lights burning, and had two men on watch. They were running in Fortune Bay, and just about five miles off Brunette Island they came into violent collision with the schr. Victoria, Capt. Geo. Moulton, striking her on the starboard bow. Both schrs. were entangled for two hours before they parted. The captain and watchmen of the Carter say they saw no lights from the other schr., but what they did see after the collision, and when they went on board the Victoria was the port light in the bow of a dory instead of being in its place in the rigging. After getting on board the Victoria the crew were brought to Jersey Harbor.

Capt. Moulton's statement is that the Victoria left Rose Blanche on Tuesday, the 12th inst., at 7 a.m.; was becalmed off Burgeo until 11 a.m. on Wednesday, the 13th, when the wind veered to the N.W. with frequent snow squalls. She passed Pass Island at 8 p.m. with both her port and starboard lights burning and a man on the lookout. Before running in the bay the watchman reported a vessel to windward also running in, and as the Victoria was just dodging along with a stiff breeze blowing, and a clear night they thought the other vessel (the Carter) would steer clear of them, but suddenly she crashed into the Victoria taking away the bowsprit and all the headgear, and both vessels were entangled for two hours, and only with great difficulty were cleared, with a heavy sea running. The Victoria leaked badly as a result of the collision.

LEAVING BELL ISLAND.—During the past week a large number of men have quit Bell Island to get ready for the summer's fishery. The companies do not, however, anticipate trouble in the securing of workmen during the summer.

FISH AT CODROY.—Codfish is now fairly plentiful at Codroy, boats get from two to three quintals when the weather is civil enough to get out on the grounds.

Change of Sailings.

A change of sailing has been made for the coastal boats Prospero and Portia. Heretofore each ship sailed on Wednesday, but henceforth the Prospero will leave at the usual hour, 10 a.m. Wednesday, while the Portia will sail west at 4 p.m. Thursday. The change of the latter ship's date will preclude the possibility of interference with the Glencoe, which leaves Placentia each Wednesday. The change places the Portia two days behind the Glencoe and this will give a tri-weekly connection at Placentia—the Glencoe, Portia and Argyle arriving there separately.

THE MYSTERIOUS NERVES.

How like electricity is the mysterious nerve force which courses through the body controlling the movement of every muscle and the working of every organ. The secret of keeping the marvelous nervous system in health and vigor is found in the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative.

Curliana.

PRESENTATION TO MR. SALTER.

The Terra Nova Curling Club held their final meeting last evening in the Curling Room, Curling Rink. The secretary-treasurer, A. H. Salter, submitted his report on the past season's games, and also a statement, which was audited by F. C. Berteau, Esq., on behalf of the Club. The past season has proved most successful and great enthusiasm prevailed. Next season promises to be even more successful than the past. A very happy feature of the meeting was the presentation to the secretary-treasurer of a handsome Morris Chair, as a token of esteem and appreciation for services rendered. Much important business was transacted, and next year promises to be one of great rivalry, as a new idea has partly been arranged, viz., to even up the teams. It was decided by a unanimous vote to go ahead and arrange the rooms immediately. From the success of the past season next year promises to be the banner year of Curling in Newfoundland.

Budget Resolutions Passed Commons.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, April 20.
The Government may now proceed to collect the long overdue arrears of the Income Tax, the House of Commons, having by majorities averaging 85, sanctioned the various Budget Resolutions and passed the first reading of the Finance Bill which carry the Budget Resolutions into effect. There is now no further prospect of the Budget being defeated. The liquor interests are raising a great outcry against the greatly increased burdens placed upon the licensed houses. Many big brewery companies, owning public houses, will be so severely affected by the increased license dues, to be faced with possible inability to pay interest upon their ordinary shares. Formerly three hundred dollars was the maximum duty of a licensed house but under Chancellor Lloyd George's Budget this in many cases has been increased to $7,000.
