The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

8764.—A UNIQUE AND COMFORTABLE HOUSE APRON.

The "body and sleeve in one" idea has been carried out in garments of every sort, hence the busy sewer and home dressmaker, will welcome this mode in an apron that is not only simple but practical in that it covers most of the dress worn underneath, and is easy to make because of few seams. The Pattern is cut in 3 sizes: Small, Medium and Large. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for the Medium size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Suitable materials for any of these patterns can be procured from AYRE & SONS, Ltd. Samples on request. Mention pattern number. Mail orders promptly attended to.

9139.—A NEW AND PRACTICAL CAPE MODEL.

Girl's Cape With Hood Collar. This design is suitable for evening or rainy weather. It affords protection and comfort. The collar may readily be converted into a hood. The Pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 6, 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. It requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for the 12 year size. Cravenette, rainproof cloth, broad cloth, silk rubberized material, serge or velvet may be used for this design. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for the 12 year size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Cascarets Surely Straighten You Out

No Headache, Biliousness, Upset Stomach, Lazy Liver or Constipated Bowels by morning.

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage through these alimentary or drainage organs every few days with Salts, Cathartic pills, Castor oil or Purgative Waters.

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret-to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, coated tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

One of my letter friends, who was particularly interested in the talk about "G o d's delivery horses," has sent me a most interesting little document along this line.

This document was issued by authority of the Police Department of New York and has been published in several cities. I do not think it can be published too widely or too often.

If you haven't seen it yet, I'm sure you'll find it in much food for thought, in regard to man's best animal friend. If you have seen it before look it over again. It's worth it.

Horse's Prayer to His Master.

Feed me, water and care for me, and when the day's work is done provide me with shelter, a clean, dry bed and a stall wide enough for me to lie down in comfort. Talk to me. Your voice often means as much comfort as the reins. Pat me sometimes, that I may serve you the more gladly and learn to love you. Do not jerk the reins and do not whip me when going up hill. Never strike, beat or kick me when I do not understand what you want, but give me a chance to understand you. Watch me, and if I fail to do your bidding, see if something is not wrong with my harness or feet.

Examine my teeth when I do not eat. I may have an ulcerated tooth, and that, you know, is very painful. Do not tie my head in an unnatural position, or take away my best defense against flies and mosquitoes by cutting off my tail.

And, finally, O, my master, when my useful strength is gone, do not turn me out to starve or freeze, or sell me to some cruel owner to be slowly tortured and starved to death; but, do thou, my master, take my life in the kindest way, and your God will reward you here and hereafter. You will not consider me irreverent if I ask this in the name of Him who was born in a stable. Amen!

"Well, Miss Cameron, you must be just about perfect, you write against so many faults," a woman said to me the other day.

Although she was polite enough to say "you must BE about perfect," I was bright enough to know that she meant "You must THINK you are about perfect."

Just about once in so often, personal friends or letter friends present this point of view to me—that by talking against so many faults, I seem to set myself on a pedestal, and I feel as if I must say a word for myself in this matter.

Dear friends—near and far—if you please, I do not mean to imply that I do not possess a fault when I inveigh against it. Quite the contrary. For I'll tell you a secret—half the time when I diagnose a fault successfully and inveigh against it bitterly, I can do so because the fault is right in my own heart and life. You see, having it at such close quarters, gives me both the ability to understand it thoroughly, and the reason to hate it bitterly. Half the time it is myself more than any one else whom I am censuring.

And now that I've made this most humiliating confession, you will reward me by never thinking me a prig again, won't you?

A little girl went into an unlighted room to get something, and stood for a moment gazing intently into the darkest corner.

"What's the matter," said big sister, who had followed her, "are you afraid of the boogey man?"

"My no," said the little girl, who had reached the mature age of ten. "I'm too old for that. But I always look into the darkest corner once 'cause then, everything else looks real light."

I wonder if the little girl will take her philosophy of "looking into the darkest corner" into her grown-up life with her. I wonder if she will realize the analogy. For it seems to me there is one.

Look once at the dark corner, make yourself face and be prepared for the least cheerful possibility, and then turn your back on the darkness and look towards the bright side, and see how the very bright seems—in other words be prepared for the worst but look for the best.

Don't you think that philosophy would be as good for life as for dark rooms?

What has become of Chang Lee, our Laundry man, is now the burning question. Chang went to St. John's nearly three weeks ago and has not since returned, notwithstanding the fact that quite a number of our citizens have laundry there. Chang was a very quiet, good fellow, and we would be sorry to hear of any mishap befalling him. Too long, Chang, too long, no good, too much away.

Mr. Collis' Concert takes place on Wednesday next, 31st inst., and promises to be a very enjoyable affair, as the majority of our local talent is taking part.

Mr. J. J. Norris, of Notre Dame Bay, who with his wife and children removed here last fall to spend the winter, left on Thursday for a trip to Canada and the United States. The trip will take about six weeks, and is on business and pleasure combined. We wish our friend a very pleasant trip with most profitable business.

Hr. Grace Notes.

The funeral of the late Mr. John Sheridan took place yesterday morning and was very largely attended by all classes and creeds by whom he was largely esteemed.

The Telephone Company are today putting in additional telephones for parties desirous of enjoying its benefits. The Telegram placed an order with them some time ago for one for its correspondent here, but up to the present we are like the man on the house; still we keep believing.

The Please U was again well patronized last night, and the pictures were very good. The company are already practicing for a big entertainment on Easter Monday night.

Playing With Dynamite.

Children Injured by Explosion.

As the result of a dynamite explosion recently at Mudford, near Yeovil, several school children received serious injuries.

A nine-year-old boy named Colley discovered in a outhouse two small brass tubes containing dynamite and used for blasting purposes. Imagining they were fireworks he called his playmates together, and after emptying the contents of one tube into the other he applied a match.

The tube exploded with great force, and a boy named Garland had his left hand almost blown to pieces, his right hand torn open in several places, and his face severely cut, while his coat buttons were blown to fragments and parts of his body scorched.

Colley's hands and face were severely injured, and his sister was struck in the face by flying metal. All were found in a stupefied condition.—Daily Mail.

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.
It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Household Notes.

A cloth dipped in ammonia will often remove the stains from the collar of an overcoat.

Whip cream in a pitcher instead of a bowl, to do it in half the time and without spattering.

Paraffine rubbed on the heels of stockings will cause them to last much longer without wearing out.

Orange fritters are as delicious an accompaniment to broiled or fried ham as apple sauce to spare rib.

In cooking beans and peas, their flavor will be much better if they are cooked in as little water as possible.

Dates stuffed with peanut butter and then rolled in sugar are a pleasing change from dates stuffed with nuts.

If curtain or portiere pole is rubbed with hard soap before being put up, the draperies will slip on easily.

Dates and figs cut in small pieces and served with plenty of sugar make a tasty accompaniment to a dish of rice boiled in milk.

Cheese may be kept soft and good for a long time if wrapped in a cloth wrung out in vinegar and then wrapped again in a dry cloth.

Whole wheat or brown bread cut into very thin slices and spread with unsalted butter is tasty served with oysters on the half shell.

Strange as it may seem, beef may be kept for months if immersed in sour milk. The lactic acid destroys the germs of putrefaction.

Scraps of toilet soap should be saved, and when half a cupful or so in hand it is a good plan to make the scraps into a jelly.

To use sour milk for griddle cakes, never add baking powder, but instead, an even teaspoonful of baking soda to each cup of milk.

Stick a pin through the cork of every bottle that contains poison, and this may save tragic mistakes when seeking medicine in the dark.

Some of the most attractive glass mustard jars come provided with glass spoons. Many prefer these to silver, as they will not tarnish.

Potato balls which are sauted in butter after being boiled are delicious. They should be served with a generous sprinkling of minced parsley.
