Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gentlemen—Ever since coming home from the Boer war I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many salves and liniments; also doctored continuously for the blood, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT. The effect of which was almost magical. Two bottles completely cured me and I have worked every working day since.

Yours gratefully,
JOHN WALSH.

Notor Party for Volunteers.

The volunteers who have returned from active service will be the guests of the Ladies' Patriotic Association at a party at Murray's Pond, Portlaur Cove, this afternoon. Automobiles driven by the ladies themselves will convey the party to the beautiful fishing resort. On the way out the men will have an opportunity of seeing the new water works, and a drive around the charming Winsor Lake where the city gets its water supply. The men greatly appreciate the kindness of the ladies who do not doubt find delight in the good work they are doing. On Saturday last a visit was made to Power's Pond.

Did Well With Furs.

By the Moravian mission ship Harmony we learn that the people on the northern Labrador did very well with furs last winter and the weather on the whole was mild. More fur-bearing animals than for any one season previously were captured, but the prices were low. The Harmony brought along a cargo of various kinds of fish and after discharging will take another load of supplies to the Labrador stations.

The Three Watsons.

Mr. W. W. Watson, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Toronto, and formerly manager of the local branch here, has three sons with the Canadians under arms. Fred, a law student and L.L.B. of the Manitoba University, is now in training at Camp Borden; Bert in France, and Harry with a Toronto regiment.

THE PUMPKIN.
The pumpkin is a round, yellow object which dots the American landscape in the fall of the year and later dots the boarding-house table in the form of canned pie. Some of these dots can be made to look and act like real pie, and when eaten in a hasty and tempestuous manner by a color-blind border are not complained of for several hours afterward. Others, however, are a greater disappointment than a bow-legged actor in a love scene and leave the stomach in a restless and dissatisfied condition. The pumpkin is one of the largest and most robust members of the vegetable kingdom, and never has to be propped up on its feet, like the sweet pea, and the shy string-bean. It is much easier to raise a family of pumpkins than it is to rear five or six boys who are waiting until they get big enough to lick the high school superintendent. When once a pumpkin is firmly planted on its feet, it is harder to uproot than the unreasoning prejudice against that noble instrument of torture, the ukelele. The pumpkin does not have to be planted, plowed, cultivated or harvested, and as a general utility article is second only to the combination bath-tub and kitchen cabinet.

The pumpkin is a blood relative of the summer squash, but moves in a higher sphere and has a better complexion. In localities where the pumpkin is not available, people attempt to make pie out of the squash, the result being one of the most dismal failures in the annals of mankind. The squash pie is as right as a feller when there is nothing else in the house to fall back upon, but it will never cause a normal, healthy appetite to sit up and cry for more. In some states the serving of squash pie two days in succession is considered sufficient ground for divorce, and if this law were in general application there would be fewer woe-begone husbands roaming to and fro seeking rest.

The mammoth pumpkin is a fleshy variety which is harder to lift than the mortgage on a second-hand runabout. Nature has been lavish in her gifts, but when she neglected to put handles on the mammoth pumpkin she inflicted a terrible hardship on man. Thousands of ambitious farmers have attempted to pick up the mammoth pumpkin and transfer it to a lumber wagon, only to lose two of their best ribs and scatter sender burtons in every direction. Luther Burbank could do some real good in this world if he would graft boy-strap on the mammoth pumpkin by crossing it with the Congress shoe, instead of frittering away his time trying to make the domestic cucumber perform the functions of the oil pickle.

He is not dead but only sleeping. In the sweet refuge of his Saviour's breast, And far away from sorrow, toil and weeping, Not dead, But only taking rest.

FIRST SUBMARINE BUILT.

Is Bought by New Yorker—Famous Creation of James Holland Becomes Property of Dr. Austin Flint Gibbons.

Philadelphia, Aug. 10.—While the Chamber of Commerce of Elizabeth, N.J., has been seeking James Holland's first submarine, the pioneer of all U. boats, word came from New York last night that Dr. Peter J. Gibbons of No. 289 Madison Avenue admitted that he and his son, Austin Flint Gibbons, had just bought the Holland. The price is said to be about $350. At present the submarine is on view on the lawn of the Commercial Museums in this city and will be turned over to Dr. Gibbons on August 20.

It is a pity that the first working products of great inventions such as Fulton's steamboat and the Wright's aeroplane have been allowed to be destroyed," said Dr. Gibbons, "and I bought the Holland so that she may not suffer a similar fate."

The Elizabeth authorities wanted to place the boat on a recreation pier to honor Holland's memory.

BOWING'S SHIPS.—The Portia left Curling at 10 a.m. to-day. The Prospero sails for northern ports to-morrow morning.

Another assault case was withdrawn.

Several civil cases were disposed of in the Central District Court.

Wedding Bells.

REID-HAGGETT.

A very pretty wedding took place at the S. A. Hall at Dildo, T.B., recently, when Miss L. A. Reid was joined in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. A. M. Haggett, Deputy Mayor of the Island by Adj. Oldford. The bride looked very charming in her blue uniform with white sash thrown over her shoulders. The groom was also dressed in his uniform and was supported by the bride's cousin, Mr. E. Reid. Many spoke on the lives of the happy young couple. After the nuptial knot was tied the young couple expressed their desires to follow the Lord. The bride received many valuable gifts and showers of congratulations were bestowed on the happy couple. Mrs. Haggett has been the means of cheering many weary hearts by her fondly smiles and kindly actions, and I am sure Mr. Haggett feels proud to own such a charming young lady for his life partner. The happy young couple leave on Monday train for the city of St. John's, where they will make their future home. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Haggett many years of happy married life and all success.

DANGEROUS ACT.—Yesterday evening a five-year-old boy thoughtlessly placed a piece of iron on the street car rail on Holloway Street. Shortly after a tram approached and but for the alertness of the motor man in discovering the obstruction and having it removed, the car might have gone off the track and probably the outcome would have been serious, as there is a steep grade in the section referred to. Parents should warn children against this dangerous practice.
