DRESS and MANTLE MAKING

The Fashionable West End.

To the Ladies:

We have during the past two years contemplated the establishment of a Dress Making DEPARTMENT, in connection with our other branches. The difficulty of obtaining a suitable person to take charge, has, up to the present time, only prevented us from doing so.

We have now great pleasure in informing you that we have secured the services of Miss Morrison, of Toronto, a lady of the past ten years occupied the position of cutter and fitter in one of the leading Fashionable Dress making Establishments in the City of Toronto.

Miss Morrison is also an experienced Mantle maker, and all orders entrusted to her will be executed in a style equal to anything that can be obtained in the largest cities.

Orders for these departments will be received on and after Monday next, the 4th of May.

A. O. BUCHAN, Fashionable West End Dress, Mantle and Millinery Establishment.

Arrival of Sir Geo. E. Cartier's Remains.

The steamer Prussian, with the remains of Sir George Cartier on board, arrived here early on Monday morning. She was met by the Government steamer Druid, and the body was taken off and deposited in a chapel ardente on board the Druid, which then proceeded to Queen's Wharf, where it was visited throughout the day by a large concourse of people, the water police being on duty to maintain order. It was impossible to see the remains, the coffin being hermetically sealed. The chapel which was all of black, bound in silver, and surmounted by a silver cross, was profusely decorated, and contained an altar at the head of the remains. Sentries from the Dominion Artillery guard the entrance. At 5 o'clock the funeral cortege assembled on Champlain Market, and at 5.30 proceeded from the Druid to the French Cathedral in the order already telegraphed. Many persons along the route closed the safe guard of his country, as a true and enlightened patriot. After the religious ceremony the procession, in diminished numbers returned in somewhat better order, and accompanied the remains back to the steamer Druid, which then proceeded on her way to Montreal. Hon. Mr. Langverin and Hon. Mr. Robitaille took part in the cortege.

Active preparations for the reception of the remains are going forward in Montreal. In addition to the arrangements that the military authorities are endeavoring to make for the reception of the remains, it is contemplated to have a military guard of some two dozen volunteers on watch duty during the three days that the Baron's body lies at the Court House. The Mayor of Montreal has refused to ask the citizens to observe Friday—the day of the funeral—as a holiday. He gives as a reason that the funeral is a Government affair, and that, besides, deceased was a politician and not indifferently associated with Montreal and her interests.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

Great Fire in Dublin.

A Palace in London Burned.

Indians in the South West.

The Wallworth Paricide.

London, June 9, 3.30.—The Alexandra Palace, Muswell Hill, a northern suburb of London, was entirely destroyed, nothing remains of the building but a mass of ruins. It is reported that seven persons lost their lives. Consternation prevails in London over the calamity.

London, June 9.—A Dublin despatch says a great fire is now raging in a timber yard in that city. The crowd of persons, whose object is plunder, hinder the efforts of firemen to extinguish the flames. At one time they stoned the firemen, and a detachment of soldiers which had been brought to the spot to preserve order. The latter charged on the mob wounding many of them. The Mayor of the city, who was present, was hit by one of the stones. Intense excitement prevails in the vicinity of the fire, and there is fearful property to the value of $100,000 has already been destroyed.

St. Louis, June 9.—Dr. Williams, who has resided in Mexico for two years past, in an account of affairs in that country confirms the death of Gen. Gosaes, the rebel chief, and states it was believed he was immediately shot. In relation to Gen. Mackenzie's pursuit of the Kickapoo Indians on Mexican soil, Dr. Williams thinks there will be no serious complaint made on account of the Mexican authorities, as the latter have long felt the necessity of some mutual arrangement between the two countries, by which the Indian marauders upon either side can be followed across the river and punished. The Doctor apprehends that the Mexicans will use the Kickapoo Indian affair as a pretence and pursue fugitives on this side of the Rio Grande. They will be sure to avail themselves of the example set by the Americans if not dissuaded; this will eventually lead to trouble, and plunge the frontier into war. There are, however, efforts made by some leading parties on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, which may lead to a negotiation for annexation of more Mexican territory to the United States in order to strengthen the boundary line, and by which Mexico will be enabled to pay her debts.

Omaha, June 9.—The damage to the Union Pacific Railway by the wash-out is not yet fixed.

A scouting party sent out from Fort McPherson two weeks ago were caught last Monday night in a severe storm in camp on Blackwood Creek. The camp was flooded and six privates of Company F, Third Cavalry, and twenty-four horses were drowned. The rest of the command saved their lives by climbing up the rocks, where they were compelled to remain 18 hours.

New York, June 10.—The Tribune says that the grand jury have found an indictment against young Wallworth the paricide, of murder in the first degree.

Town Council.

A special meeting of the Council was held on Monday night in the Council Chamber. Members present—Messrs. Robertson (Mayor), Howard, Kennedy, Hefferman, McLagan, Massie, Horsman, Coffee, Hogg, Richard Mitchell, Chadwick, Elliott, Holiday and Crowe.

The Mayor said he had called the meeting to receive the report of the Exhibition Committee, and called upon the chairman of that Committee to read the report.

Mr. Hogg then read the second report of the Exhibition Committee which stated that certain improvements had been made in the grounds and buildings; that a joint Committee of the South Riding Association and the Central Exhibition Committee had met for the purpose of conferring with regard to the use which should be made of the exhibition buildings and with regard to the repairing and re-building of a portion of them and "are of opinion that to submit the report of the Committee of the Directors of the South Wellington Wellington Agricultural Association would convey in a more substantial manner their views," that they hoped to be able to bring in a by-law regulating the use of the buildings and grounds; that those who were shortly to use the grounds, &c., had been notified that they could only do so by obtaining the necessary endorsements on the insurance policies from the Companies; and that the President of South Wellington Agricultural Association, Warden of the County, and the Mayor be a deputation to invite the Governor-General and Lieut. Governor to present and open the next Exhibition.

He then read the report of the Joint Committee which appeared in our columns yesterday, and laid both on the table.

Upon the suggestion of Mr. Chadwick, the Council went into Committee of the whole, Mr. Massie in the Chair.

The first clause was carried unanimously.

Mr. Hogg moved the adoption of the clause which recommended the building at the expense of the Town, of the building with the roof fallen in. He said that the second clause of the report only referred to that.

Mr. Elliott thought that the Committee had submitted that report as containing their views.

The chairman pointed out that it was simply proposed that the Town should repair the building and contained no recommendation as to what use it should be put to.

Mr. Howard thought they should strike out any reference to the report of the Joint Committee.

Mr. Chadwick thought that the report of the Exhibition Committee recommended the whole of the report of the South Riding Association. He thought we were quite able to help ourselves and should not ask the South Riding to assist us. He was willing to allow the South Riding Association the use of the grounds and buildings at all times and for all time to come, but he thought this Council was able to frame a by-law regulating the use of the grounds without any aid from any Committee of that Association.

Mr. Hogg deided them to read one sentence which recommended the adoption of the Joint Committee's report.

Mr. Chadwick said he understood that to submit a report to recommend its adoption, if he was wrong why then was the report laid on the table? He could not see why that was done if not that the matter had not been brought up properly.

Mr. Hogg after referring to the last speaker's insinuation that he did not know how to submit the matter properly, over the report of the Joint Committee and said it was all clear to his mind or to the mind of any one else who had a clear head.

Mr. Mitchell thought they were digressing. They were to consider clause after clause and not run over the whole report. It would be well to take the sense of the Council at once.

The Council then became slightly demoralized. Confidential chats were indulged in by some, while the remainder removed to one corner to arrange matters after their own fashion, as we suppose, but were prevented by a call from the chair—after order had been obtained.

Mr. Hogg moved that instead of the word "their" they should alter it to read "the views of the South Riding Association." This was carried, but when it was moved to adopt the clause as amended many members objected, and a "conversation" was indulged in freely, the gist of which, so far as we could hear, was that the town had put up the buildings after their own plan and had engaged their own architect to superintend the work, and as it had not been done properly the town was in duty bound to repair the damage that had ensued. On the other hand a majority of the Board thought they were being dictated to and thought if the South Riding wanted any improvement done, which they thought the town should do, they should memorialize the Council and they could then consider it.

The second clause was adopted, as was also the third. When considering the latter some members thought a general endorsement, even though it did cost more, would be preferable; they could charge a nominal rent to defray the additional expense.

Mr. Horsman thought, however, that the ratepayers would never be satisfied until it was thrown open to them at all times.

Upon the last clause also a great deal of volubility conversation took place both upon the mode in which the report was submitted and the cost of sending the deputation.

On the suggestion of Mr. Chadwick Mr. Hogg amended the report, so that it was on the recommendation of the Central Exhibition Committee that the Mayor was added to the deputation.

Mr. Coffee wanted to know who would "foot the bill." If the Council accepted that report they would in reality be sending the deputation, and might at the last moment find out that they were liable for the cost.

The report of the Joint Committee was then taken up.

Upon the motion to adopt the first clause, Mr. Elliott wanted to know by what right the town was asked to repair a building, which was not built by them.

Mr. Hogg said that although the South Riding provided the means it was done by the town, and, therefore, they were liable for repairs.

Mr. Hefferman objected to establishing a precedent by which outsiders could tell the Council what they should do.

Mr. Elliott objected to any increase in the expenditure.

Mr. Chadwick objected to the South Riding Association telling us what we should do with what was our own. He was prepared to guarantee to them for all time to come the use of the grounds and buildings, if the Central Exhibition lived that long. The Town would be found quite willing to pay its share of all legitimate expenses.

The motion for the adoption of the first clause was then put and lost on a division. The second clause was then read, when Mr. Hefferman said he would vote against every one of the clauses. The Committee should not have sent it to the Council as they did.

The chairman was sorry to hear such antagonistic views expressed. The result would be to kill completely and forever the Central Exhibition of which they were all so proud.

Mr. Howard thought they had no right to discuss it at all; it was the report of another committee.

Mr. Elliott moved to amend the clause, but the chairman ruled it out of order. He then asked what they could do. He thought that report was an appendix to the Central Exhibition Committee's report. Notwithstanding the Chairman's ruling, the amendment of Mr. Elliott was severely criticised, after which it was ascertained that they could only accept or reject the report. The clause was rejected, as were also the remaining clauses.

The Committee then rose and the Council resumed. Some personalities then passed between Messrs. Hefferman and Hogg, but they were called to order by the chair. The latter then said that the Central Exhibition Committee had not recommended that anything be done with the report of the South Riding Association—they had simply laid it on the table.

On motion Rule 52 was suspended for half-an-hour.

Mr. Elliott said that it must be gratifying to learn that they had spent the whole evening discussing the report of another and foreign Committee, which had no business on the table as the chairman of the Exhibition Committee had just repudiated it.

Mr. Hogg moved, seconded by Mr. Massie, that the second report of the Exhibition Committee as amended be adopted.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Massie, seconded by Mr. Hogg, that the report of the Joint Committee and South Riding Association be referred back to the Exhibition Committee, with instructions to report upon it.

Mr. Massie said he felt himself placed in a peculiar position. They had just told the South Riding that they had no right to know how their money had been spent—more than that, that they had not spent their own money. He hoped the feeling shown to exist would not be made public. He was sorry to see such a bitter animosity manifested. If it got out among the people of Wellington it would be the death blow to the Central Exhibition.

Mr. Elliott objected to the remarks of the last speaker. An agreement between two parties could hardly be so faithless as to be beyond amendment. The Council did not ignore the rights of the South Riding Association, but the manner in which the report was presented was so ambiguous that they could not do anything but reject it, for fear of committing an error. If the Committee had brought up a proper report, and incorporated the report of the Joint Committee in it, something might have been done. Look at one item. If that report had been accepted, and the Exhibition continued for fifty years, at that time those buildings would be mere rotten boards, yet; if anything happened, the South Riding could claim, and the Town would have to pay them their first investment.

After a few remarks from Messrs. Chadwick and Coffee, the report was referred back to the Exhibition Committee.

Moved by Mr. Howard, seconded by Mr. Kennedy, that His Worship the Mayor and Messrs. Richard Mitchell and Elliott, co-operate with the Committees of the County Council and South Wellington Agricultural Association, in preparing an address of invitation to His Excellency the Governor-General and the Lieut. Governor to attend the next Central Exhibition.

The Council then adjourned.

BASE BALL NOTES.

On Saturday the Athletics, of Philadelphia, defeated the Resolutes, of New Jersey, in their second game by a score of 14 to 4.

The fourth game between the Mutuals and Philadelphias took place in Philadelphia on Saturday. Score—Philadelphia, 12; Mutuals, 10.

The first game between the Bostons and Washingtons in Washington on Saturday resulted in the defeat of the Washington Club by a score of 28 to 10.

This week is a busy week for the professionals. To-day the Bostons and Baltimore in Baltimore; the Mutuals and Athletics in Philadelphia; and the Athletics and Philadelphias in Brooklyn. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the Bostons play the Mutuals, Athletics and Resolutes on the Brooklyn Union Grounds.

LOCAL.

The Secretary calls a special meeting of the Maple Leaf for to-morrow evening. See advertisement.

A friendly game was played last night between the Athletics and Athletics, which resulted in the defeat of the latter by a score of 15 to 8. The Athletics played poorly while the play of their opponents was unprecedented.

Port Elgin has been incorporated. Its population is 941.

Guelph Evening Mercury

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 10, 1873.

Town and County News.

LECTURE.—The Rev. W. S. Ball will deliver a lecture in the Good Templar's Hall to-night, on "The duty of temperance men towards the suppression of the liquor traffic." Lecture to commence at 8 p. m. Admission free. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

Got His Foot Crushed.—A man named Nessler got his foot badly crushed this morning at Goldie's mills. He was helping to take the cylinder of the engine off a wagon, when it, by some means or other, tipped over and fell on his foot, cutting through his boot and one or two of his toes, and otherwise crushing his foot badly. He was at once taken to the doctor and had the foot dressed. The poor fellow is rather unfortunate, as he had his arm broken last summer.

THE CHOLERA IN THE SOUTH.

We observe by the telegraphic reports that the cholera, which was first announced to be prevalent among the negroes in New Orleans, has reached Nashville, where there is much excitement in consequence. Several deaths have been reported, but there has been no increase in the mortality within the last day or two. How it reached New Orleans, and bounded from there at one jump to Nashville, not affecting intermediate ports on the Mississippi and Cumberland rivers, between the two cities, it is not easy to explain.

GUELPH MECHANIC'S INSTITUTE.

The Committee of the Institute have lately had the books carefully gone over and rearranged, and a very neat catalogue printed, containing every book in the library, its number, section, name and the name of the author. This will be of great service to members of the Institute, and will greatly facilitate their search after books, as each section is arranged alphabetically. The catalogues are now ready, and for sale at the Institute, price 10 cents each. Until we perused this catalogue we had no idea that there was such a large and excellent selection of books in our Institute, and we would advise those—especially young people—who are not members, to call at the Institute, and examine it, for it furnishes them with a wealth of good reading at the very low charge of $2 a year, besides giving them access to the reading room. With the advantages now offered the number of subscribers to the Institute should be doubled, and we hope that the Committee will at this time make a vigorous effort to secure this, and that the people in the town will heartily respond to their appeal.

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT.

The Vesivolin Sisters made their first appearance last night under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and were welcomed by a good audience. These young ladies are gifted with excellent voices, and they have by careful training and much practice together, succeeded in producing such sympathetic and effective harmony as is rarely heard in the blending of three voices. Louise, the soprano, has a voice of considerable compass and much sweetness, and her solos were admirably sung, especially the well-known, but always welcome, "Waiting." Eva's rendering of "You and I" was equally well sung, though not with perhaps the same expression. Frances, the contralto, sang "Kathleen Mavourneen" very well. But it was in the trios and duets where the sisters showed their power and elicited the largest measure of applause. The sacred, simple hymn, "Nearer, my God, to Thee," was sung with a tenderness and sweetness which took possession of all hearts, and though the arrangement was not so good or so simple as the ordinary air, yet it was very beautiful. The same feeling and expression were thrown into "Come like a Beautiful Dream," which was rendered in a way to defy criticism. The duets and the instrumental portion of the programme were also done through with much artistic skill and taste, and the applause and encores were frequent and quite enthusiastic. The sisters, by request, give a second and last concert this evening, when the most popular ballads of Ireland and Scotland will be produced. This enticing programme cannot fail to please, and will be sure to attract another large audience.

Assembly of the Canada Presbyterian Church.

The Committee appointed to wait on Rev. John Campbell, reported that he had accepted the Professorship of Church History and Apologetics in Montreal College.

On motion the Rev. Dr. MacVicar was designated Principal of Montreal College. The Assembly then took into consideration a petition on higher education in Manitoba, and regarding Manitoba College, and requesting that steps be taken to advance the educational advantages of Winnipeg, by the erection of proper buildings, and the appointment of proper teachers for that College.

The Rev. Mr. King introduced Prof. Calderwood, of the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, the successor of Christopher North, and delegate from the Presbyterian Church of Scotland.

Rev. Mr. McLaren read the report of the Committee on Foreign Missions. The receipts during the year have been $10,522, being a decrease of $688 from the receipts of the previous year. The report recommended that a second Missionary be sent to China; that a field be selected for the young women now studying in Ottawa, in the foreign mission field. The operations of the Church in the Saskatchewan, Hudson's Bay territory, among the Indians, and in China, have been very cheering.

The Rev. Mr. McLeod of Birkenhead, England, then addressed the Assembly on behalf of the English Presbyterian Church.

A SAILOR ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

A sailor named P. Duffey of Kingston on the schooner Madeira fell from aloft when taking in sail off Port Colborne early on Monday morning and striking the boom and sail was instantly killed.

BONUS FOR A SHOE MANUFACTORY.

By the by-law granting the bonus of $1,000 to John Turner & Co. to establish a shoe manufactory in this town was submitted to the electors on Monday, and resulted in a majority of 52 for the by-law. The vote was very light—only thirteen being recorded against it.

THE RAILWAY ACCIDENT AT COPETOWN.

On Monday Thomas MacCarthy, the switchman who, through carelessness in leaving a switch open, caused the accident on the G. W. R. on the morning of the 3rd inst., at Copetown, was brought before the Police Magistrate of Hamilton charged with misdemeanor and after hearing evidence was committed for trial.
