

ALL EUROPE RINGS WITH WAR ALARMS

But Great Britain Makes a Definite Move Towards Retention of Peace.

London, March 19.—War alarms continue as loud as ever, but the only definite developments today tend towards peace.

Great Britain informed Austria this evening that she fully accepted the conditions for a conference proposed by the Vienna Government, that it should formally approve the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is expected that France and Italy and probably Russia will give similar assurances.

This public announcement should pave the way for Serbia to announce that she accepts the situation as it stands. At all events, it will leave nothing in the shape of a practical issue in the present dispute, and it would be absurd that war should be the outcome of mere questions of diplomatic etiquette and amour propre.

Still, half of Europe today fully expects war. M. Milovanovich, Serbian foreign minister, certainly has a difficult task before him in the extremely next communication to Vienna in such form as will satisfy blooded countrymen to read him as a traitor.

If war comes after the quarrel has been stripped of all substance, it will be the most senseless catastrophe of modern times. Serbia has declared that she is ready to accept the decision of the powers without question, the powers avowing their approval of the situation as it stands. That settles everything except the actual signing of the papers, and yet most of the telegrams from Belgrade, Vienna, St. Petersburg and Berlin today express the general belief that war will begin within a week. If common sense is left in Serbia and Austria there will be no war.

The depression in the stock market today was caused more by yesterday's naval debate in the House of Commons than by the Balkan situation.

The sensational announcement that the British navy within four years unless a big additional programme is adopted by England may be ominous of a great crisis in the future, but it makes for peace at present. Germany, if she has secret hopes of crushing Great Britain in a few years, will not allow Austria to drag her into dangerous adventures today.

BACK FROM WILDS

Pelletier, Once Reported Lost, Reaches Gimli in Safety.

Gimli, Man., March 19.—Sergeant-Inspector Pelletier, R. N. W. M. P., arrived here yesterday morning after the longest and most northerly trip ever made through Northern Canada. He left Edmonton in July, and proceeded to Fort Churchill by way of Cape Fullerton. Thence he came down the Great Nelson River to Norway House, and across Lake Winnipeg, which is at the head of the railway.

Last fall the report was circulated that his party had perished in the northern wilds.

Boils and Pimples

Are caused entirely by the blood being in an impure condition, and the quickest and simplest way to get rid of them is to take a few bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

This purely vegetable remedy has cured thousands of cases of these painful and unsightly troubles during the past thirty years.

Mr. S. J. Weir, Riverview, Ont., writes:—
"Last summer I had nineteen boils on my neck and back. I was off work for over two weeks. I took everything I could think of but to no effect. I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before I had used half the bottle the boils were gone. I took the rest of it, however,
and I have not had a boil since."

Mrs. W. J. Cran-
don, St. Mary, Ont., writes:—"I was
troubled with pimples
on my face for a couple of years and tried a good deal of patent medicine, but they were not of much use.
Finally I used four bottles of Burdock
Blood Bitters and am now entirely cured."

THE STRIKE TIES UP PARIS AND FRANCE

Nothing Going Over Wires Or Through Mails and Confusion
Is Complete.

Paris, March 18.—There was not the slightest indication at a late hour tonight of a break in the deadlock between the Government and its striking employees nor was there any prospect of an improvement in the situation. The strike, however, will be made the subject of consideration in the Chamber of Deputies tomorrow and a solution of the problem may then be found.

The climax of the strike was reached tonight when 5,000 repairmen, linemen and mechanics decided to join the strikers. These were the last remaining workers employed by the postal administration.

Despite the fact that the cabinet at the session tonight passed a decree authorizing the dismissal of its late employees and reaffirming the decision not to yield, the semi-official note giving the result of the meeting also announced that many merchants have offered to let the Government employ their employees to insure the public services.

This is indicative of the completeness of the strike and the extremity to which the Government has been forced. The note does not mention the sensational rumor that the Government intends to call the reservists to the colors, thus gathering in practically all the male postal employees and forcing them to work as soldiers under the penalty of mutiny. This rumor is discredited.

The general opinion is held that M. Simey, the under secretary, will resign. The strikers have said that it was largely due to the attitude of M. Simey that the decision to strike was taken, and they have refused up to the present to have any dealings with him.

The last two foreign mails have not been delivered. The Havas agency, which receives thousands of letters daily, did not find any at the post-office today. The entire public service is paralyzed, and business, both public and private, is in a condition of inextricable confusion.

Throughout the day the situation in the capital and the provinces grew worse with every hour. The undelivered letters number into the millions, and not less than 300,000 telegrams were stacked up this afternoon awaiting distribution.

Foreign incoming mails remain unsorted, and only a small proportion of the outgoing mails have been sent away. A few days more of these conditions, and Paris will be reduced almost to a state of siege so far as food supplies are concerned.

The funds necessary for the smooth running of the provincial trade are hanging up in the postoffices, and the supply of eggs, milk, butter, meat and country produce threatens to speedily run out. Already numerous merchants have been obliged to send out agents to the provinces with ready cash to obtain supplies.

So far there has been no rioting. The railroad unions threaten to declare sympathetic strikes.

MAFIA THREATENS AMERICAN CONSUL

Orders Him to Have Nothing To Do With Petrosino's Body.

Palermo, March 18.—The body of Joseph Petrosino is still in the mortuary chamber of the Rotoli at the disposal of W. H. Bishop, the American consul. It is being carefully guarded. Mr. Bishop received an anonymous letter, in which the writer says he heard a certain man whom he indicates does not identify, utter the threat that if Mr. Bishop continues his activities in the Petrosino case he would return to America dead instead of alive.

The influence of the Mafia in Palermo is strikingly indicated by the following occurrence. Mr. Bishop a few days ago concluded a contract with the agent of a shipping company for the transportation of Petrosino's body to America. Today the agent went to Mr. Bishop and threw up his engagement. He said he had received secret warnings that his life would be in danger if he in any way became connected with the matter, and he is fearful of the Mafia's revenge. Among the men taken into custody are two whose connection with the case is thought to be very close. The police maintain absolute secrecy with regard to their identity.

NOT REALLY HURT

Christian Scientist Run Over, But Refuses Medical Aid.

New York, March 19.—Protesting that doctors and medicines were worthless and that Christian Science was the only cure for all ills, Mrs. James Inglis, 60 years old, a distinguished-looking woman who lives in Paterson, N. J., stoutly refused to let Dr. Sheehan, ambulance surgeon of St. Vincent's Hospital, render her the slightest aid today after she had been knocked down by a pair of horses, and both legs had been run over by the wheels of a truck. She never winced, and when she was finally lifted into a cab by Patrolman McKough, she said to him: "Please get me that doctor's name and address. I could soon convince him of the true worth of Christian Science. It is of more value than all of his learning."

Zet Piercy, driver for Dominick Bros. of Great street, was driving up Broadway, at Ninth street, when he ran down Mrs. Inglis, who, with her 20-year-old daughter, had stepped from a car. As Mr. McKough, after carrying her into a hallway, was about to make his way to a telephone, Mrs. Inglis exclaimed: "Here, officer, don't you call an ambulance or a doctor, either. Christian Science takes precedence over all physicians. If I am hurt I know how I may find a cure." But McKough telephoned. To the surgeon Mrs. Inglis said repeatedly: "No matter how much I may be hurt, I will go home. I forbid you to touch me."

Mrs. Inglis whispered something to the driver of the cab, and with a farewell message that her mother would not prosecute Piercy, she ordered a hasty trip up-town.

A COMPROMISE ON THE DRUG SALE BILL

List of the Articles Which May Be Sold by the Country Storekeepers.

Toronto, March 19.—After a consultation with the authorities of the Ontario Pharmaceutical Association, the sub-committee appointed by the private bills committee some days ago in connection with P. H. Bowyer's bill to amend the pharmacy act reported yesterday morning that an amicable arrangement had been arrived at.

The result is that country storekeepers are now allowed to sell carbonates of magnesia, Rochelle salts, bluestone, copperas, rhubarb root, saltpetre, spirits of nitre, solution of ammonia, phosphate of soda, chloride of lime, gum camphor, citrate of magnesia, and quinine, tincture of iodine, hellebore, a 5 per cent solution of carbolic acid, and arsenate of lead, thetine or scenes of violence or of an immoral or obscene nature shall be shown or exhibited.

They fear that the "crime" or "scenes of violence" will place a large proportion of their films under the ban.

"The chief objection to the bill as at present drawn up is that it says all the films shall be used to empty the theatres. This we think a hardship."

"We have the exits marked so that everyone knows of them, and could use them if there were a fire, but where there are eight or ten performances a day it is more convenient to have the people go out of a side entrance so that they will not block those coming in. This does not increase the danger."

There is Only One "Bromo Quinine." That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the world over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 3c.

A company with a capital of £10,000 has been formed with the object of supplying Biskra, Algeria, with electricity.
