STRANGE ASPECT

Structures and Decorations in London Streets Transform Old Capital — Sightseers Crowd Thoroughfares

LONDON, June 15.—The important development in the general shipping strike today was the concession of an advance of $2.50 a month in wages to an employes involved by the White Star company and the Canadian Pacific railroad, an example which was followed later by the Holt and other lines in Livernool.

LONDON. June 15.—All London is now awaiting the gorgeous spectacle of the coronation. The present aspect of the coronation. The present aspect of the town is rather topsy-turvy, but a day or two more of work on the decorations is expected to transform everything. At present the site and smell of many miles of new timber flung against a normal gray background make the metropolis a strange place even to the metropolis a strange place even to the metropolis a strange place even to the private decorations, especially the costly and elaborate set pieces, have been covered with waterproof cloth to protect them from the raib.

The noullook is that the strike will come to a speedy end.

The enormous and growing crowds and the babel of foreign tongues give unmistakeable evidence of the public in unmistakeable evidence of the public interest in the event. Every day this week has seen crowds traversing the routes of the processions to view the routes of the processions to view the decorations. Aristocratic equipages of the wealthy, the humble market cart of the coster and his family, brakes carrying tourists of every nationality are driven over the routes, while on the sidewalks are dense masses of slowly moving pedestrians. There are many provincial folk in the town, and every arriving train is adding to the crowds. In Trafalgar square and in some of the thoroughfares leading from that point the congestion was so great today that the omnibuses sometimes found it impossible to proceed. Visiting Americans are largely in evidence at some of the leading hotels. Londoners whose business constantly brings them in contact with the tour ist classes, one and all; declare that there are not so many Americans in England now as at this time a year ago. This statement is borne out by the opinions of the steamship officials, who declare that ample accommodations could be found on any liner leaving New York, Boston or Philadelphia so far this summer. The statements regarding the absence of American visitors do not apply, however, to the Canadians. It does not take numerous in London today than ever before.
