HON. S. HUGHES VISITS VICTORIA

Minister of Militia Here to Examine Into Situation Re-

Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, accompanied by General Colin Mackenzie, chief of staff, arrived by the steamer Princess Adelaide last night. A salute of seventeen guns was fired by the Work Point battery as the steamer passed into the harbor. Col. Hugher stated that he was visiting the Pacific coast for the purpose of acquainting himself thoroughly, at first hand, regarding the fortifications and the situation generally on this coast. He realizes that following the completion of the Panama canal in 1913, there will be a great development on the Pacific seaboard of Canada, and intends to see that proper protection is provided for the Canadian trade route on the Pacific.

"I realize that Esquimalt is an important strategic centre," said the minister of militia, "and that it will be the duty of the Dominion government to see that its requirements are properly looked after. I have every reason to believe that the Premier, Hon. R. L. Borden and my colleagues at Ottawa are fully apprised of the necessity of providing for the safeguarding of this seaboard, and properly protecting its trade routes and its harbor of refuge for the fleet.

"Hon. Mr. Borden, I am well aware, is taking a great interest in the proper development of everything that pertains to the welfare of this great western coast. What will be done it is too early for me to say. I will visit the fortifications at Esquimalt during my stay with General Colin Mackenzie, and will look into what is required."

Asked if the garrison would be augmented, or if changes would be made, Hon. Col. Hughes said he could not make any announcement in this regard at the present time, but as he had stated the importance of this strategic centre was realized. It was too early yet for him to say anything regarding the plans the government would adopt, The minister of militia made an important announcement regarding the arming of the local forces. He said: "You may say that I shall take steps to see that the local forces are armed with Ross rifles, Mark 3, double star, as soon as they can be turned out by the factory. The training of the men to shoot, whether with a big gun or small arm, is one of the chief considerations and every opportunity will be given to train. Any man who is carried on the strength who cannot shoot with some degree of accuracy is wasted, and I will see that the local forces are properly armed with the latest type of the Ross rifle as soon as the factory can make

Col. Hughes did not go to New York state recently to investigate military airships as was reported in certain tele grams. He said the deputy minister had observed some airship flights. "How ever," said the minister of militia, whatever experimenting is done in military aviation will not be done by

Canada. The new minister of militia is losing no time in thoroughly acquainting himself with the work of his department, ake place in June, the object being to and that changes will result for the ourage boys throughout the empire betterment of the militia service of Can (Continued on Page 2.)

Movement in China is Simply Unorganized Demonstration Against Corrupt Methods of Government

SITUATION GROWS MORE COMPLEX

Provincial Assemblies and Rebel Generals Object to National Assembly Drafting Constitution for Country

PEKING, Nov. 4.—The situation China is becoming more complex, if not more serious, every day. A week ago co-operation was suspected between Yuan Shi Kai and the national assembly. It is now evident, however, that all elements have up to the present no onnection whatever. The whole movement is a spontaneous uprising against old corrupt methods, and the fact that foreigners have not been attacked indicates that the desire for genuine reform is sincere.

It is reported tonight that the nation al assembly, at a secret session, decided to resign in a body, owing to protests telegraphed to Peking by many of the provincial assemblies, objecting that a provisional body should assume authority to draft a constitution, which should be the work of a duly elected Parliament. It is stated that General Li Yuen Heng and other rebel leaders, who do not recognize the Peking government, decline also to recognize the powers of the national assembly in conjunction with the efforts of the throne and Yuan Shi Kai, now their military opponent and premier-elect, towards a

MEETS DEATH IN CAR WRECK

Conductor Killed When B. C. Electric Freight Train Runs Away and Dashes Down Hill in New Westminster

OTHERS ESCAPE WITH SLIGHT INJURY

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Nov. 4.—Tearing down the Twelfth street hill from Fifth avenue at a speed which must have reached 100 miles an hour, a B. C. E. R. freight train, four box cars, one flat car and one shunter, on rounding the sharp curve at the foot of the hill, turned turtle, causing the death of one man and injuring three others. The box cars were heavily leaded with grain and merchandise, and the flat car was loaded with steel wheels, so that the whole train weighed over 240 tons. When the train reached Fifth avenue, where the incline commences, the brakes did not hold it back on the silppery rails. Fred Cooper, conductor, was crushed between the wheels of the shunter and a box car, and died an hour and a half later in the hospital. A. J. Mercer, motorman, was thrown off the car. He escaped with slight injuries about the head and arms, and will be able to be about in a few days. J. Sincock, a brakeman, also escaped with slight injuries, while D. Gracy was able to imp for safety, and only received a number of bruises as he took a somerault from the rear end of the trailer Mr. Gracy was riding on the flat car. which was loaded with wheels, and he remained at his post until the box car commenced to turn over, when he ook the chance and made a leap for

The Akron landed in the meadows off Grassy bay, seven miles from here, this afternoon and had to be towed to this city: A propeller blade broken and a guy wire snapped were the only parts damaged, and these can easily be repaired. The airship left the hangar at the inlet at the northern end of the city at 10 a. m., and made a spectacular flight along the beach, across the city and over the meadows between this recent and the meadows between this resort and the mainland, at a height of about 300 to 400 feet. The balloon was up nearly two hours when the cold air began to affect the gas, and it soon failed to show proper buoyancy. Several landings were made and finally, when the Akron-could not

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 3 .- A plea of not guilty was entered b yWatson Snowdon today before Polic Magistrate Shaw to the charge of the murder of William Urquhart, on the night of September 11. Mr. Hart-McHarg appeared on his behalf and asked that there should be a preliminary hearing. Mrs. Lois Gauge, of Nanaimo, identified the prisoner, whom she saw on th 7th and 8th of October. He was standing in the hall and she heard him ask her daughter for a bed. He gave the name of W. Snowdon and asked for a drink. He asked for whiskey, which he afterwards got. Snowdon told her he was a married man and that his family was coming to Nanaimo. She was standing at the dining room window and the prisoner came over beside her and commenced to talk. He asked who murdered Urquhart on Cordovs street, and then said. "I am talking to

She became frightened and then left the room and told her brother to get rid of him. Her grandfather came into the room, and Snowdon remarked that the old man had lived ten years too

Witness described the condition of the prisoner at the time he was speaking to her. His lips quivered, and he seemed to be uneasy. When he sar down he would rise up and look around the passage. Witness also stated that on the advice of friends she reported the matter to the detectives in Vancouver. While she was writing letters to friends in Vancouver he looked over her shoulder. He also put his hands on her and said he would not hurt her. P. C. George Hanna, of Nanaimo and Comox district, detailed the story of a dispute in the train near Nanaimo between the prisoner and three Hindus. Afterwards he tackled two Chinese and then he went back to the Hindus. Witness cautioned him, and Snowdon re-"Now, look here; there would not be any harm in killing these. killed a man before and they did not do anything to me for that, and I do not see why they would do anything to me for killing three black - like them. Correspondents Reiterate the Statements in Regard to Slaughter of Arab Population -Troops Much Discouraged

LONDON, Nov. 4 .- "Munchausen in his palmiest days never wrote half as many falsehoods and misrepresentations as have appeared in the Italian press and in the official statement issued by the Italian government," telegraphs the correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company at Tripoli, who arrived at Malta. From Malta he was able to send an uncensored message which contains a pessimistic description of the condition of the Italian army around what he terms the besieged city of Tripoli. He says:

"To sum up the results of the campaign; The Italians hold, with nearly twice as many men, half the ground that they held three weeks ago. They have lost in killed and wounded, not counting the sick, well over 1,000 men. Many Arabs have been killed and vast numbers shot in cold blood. Now 25.000 soldiers find themselves with their backs to the sea, cramped and confined, with an active enemy within a few yards of them, and with the cholera raging among them; for, despite official efforts to conceal the truth, there have been many cases among the troops and the civil population is suffering so much that whole streets in Tripoli have been closed by armed sentries. "There has been no disgrace. On the contrary, the Italian troops fought with great courage, and their officers set a noble example. Mear Disaster.

The correspondent says of the engagement of October 26: "Far from being a decisive victory, the fight nearly ended in disaster, and would have had the enemy had a few thousand men at any point instead of a few hundred. B. C. POTATOES ARE THE BEST

Provincial Government Exhibit Wins Stillwell Trophy in Pan-American Exhibition in New York

By winning the Stillwell trophy and $1000 at the great Pan-American exhibition at Madison Square Gardens, New York, yesterday British Columbia has earned the reputation of growing the best potatoes on the North American continent. The exhibit which gained this award consisted of 101 varieties drawn from all sections of the province aggregating in weight about one

The credit for the display rests entirely with the department of agriculture. The entire province was scoured to secure the finest specimen's and Mr. W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, and those who assisted him in the task, deserve the highest credit for the new honor which they have won for the province. The exhibit was in charge of Mr. Asahel Smith, the "potato king" of British Columbia, who brought with him to New York as assistants in charge of the display Mr. Stuart Wade, New Westminster's publicity agent, and Mr. H. McClure Johnson of Vernon. The potatoes were se cured from the Okanagan, the Kootenays and the Fraser Valley through the energies of the three gentlemen named acting under instructions from the department of agriculture, while Mr. S. H. Lawrence covered the Ashcroft and Salmon Arm districts. They were packed in the market building at New Westminster in boxes containing thirty pounds each and each specimen was wrapped and packed in the same manner as apples so as to insure their arriving at their destination in the best condition. That the potato industry of the province, which is admittedly carried on in a slipshod manner, should have been successful in winning the great Stillwell trophy is a wonderful ecomium or the productivness of British Columbia's soil. The provincial exhibit was in com petition with carefully selected displays from practically all the agricultura areas of the continent. It is only few months since the idea was monted that British Columbia should compete so that there was nothing done in the way of preparation as far as soil and planting are concerned, and the specimens were selected just as they are grown year in and year out in the

The value of the advertisement can not be overestimated. Mr._W. E. Scott, teputy minister of agriculture, stated last evening when asked to express at opinion on the result which was communicated to him by wire, said that he believed that it was one of the great st advertisements which the province had ever secured. As far as he knew practically every state in the America Union was represented by an exhibit so that the outcome was an immense triumph for the fertility of the soil

The exact text of the telegram re ceived by Mr. Scott was as follows: "British Columbia won Stillwell trophy. Eugene Grubb, agriculturist of Colorado, judge."

Financial Arrangements Under Way by B. C. Marine Railway for Largest Plant on the Continent

SITE LOCATED AT LANG'S COVE

Expected That Ground Will Be Broken in Spring-Specifications Call for Absolutely Modern Equipment

Financial arrangements are new being made by the B. C. Marine Railway ompany of Esquimalt with a view to getting under way next spring the con-struction of the largest drydock on this continent at Lang's Cove, adjoining the present yards of the Esquimalt shipbuilding and ship-repairing plant of the company. It is expected that early next spring ground will be broken. The new dock will not only be larger than any now in existence on the American continent, but will equal in dimensions the largest docks of the Motherland. The drydock will be 1000 feet in length and 100 feet wide-120 feet at the topand 36 feet deep, these dimensions being practically similar to the new graving dock at Southampton, the largest in the world, where the monster steamer, the Olympic, was recently docked. The Esquimalt drydock will be built with reinforced concrete with granite facings. The dock will be fitted with the latst style of electric capstans. The pumps will be electrically driven, and the boilers will be on consumers. The nodern pumps will empty the big dock in fifty minutes. It requires many nours to empty the present dock. Standard-guage branch railroad lines will be run along the side of the drydock and fitting-out basin connecting with the Escapinale & Nanaham railroad at a point near the Admiral's road and Naval hospital. These rails will be laid in such a way that freight can be moved on the cars to be stored in the respective buildings or placed on the vessels in dock or in the fitting-out basin. A modern electric travelling crane will be operated on the railroad track and with this heavy weights like propellers, shafts or boilers, can be picket up and deposited on the vessels, in the dock, or wherever required. The fitting-out basin will be 700 feet in length by 250 feet in width, and there will be two commodious building slips. When the new shipbuilding plant is complete and the shops all in place the present yard will mantled and the space utilized to provide other building slips.

Suit Admiralty. The plans for the drydock have been drawn to suit Admiralty requirements, and could accommodate two cruisers at once, or if necessary, could handle a Dreadnought and a cruiser at the same time. All experts who have seen the plans, including Admiral Lord Sir Charles Beresford, have expressed their appreciation of the enterprise, which, in the event of war in the Pacific at any time, would provide the only place of refuge where the crippled vessels could find accommodation for repairs. In connection with a naval station the proposed dock would be of great value, and in the event of Britain's war vessels ever being engaged in the Pacific its value would be incalculable. As one prominent shipping man remarked: "At such a time were the dock built of gold the country would reckon it cheap."

The necessity for a drydock at Esquimalt is apparent, especially to shipping men. Recently the big Blue Funnel line steamer Bellerophon injured her propeller and when m the harbor at Vancouver this steamer was tipped by the bow at great risk to allow of repairs being effected. Capt. Collister of the big Holt liner said at the time that he would never have taken the great risks he then incurred with his vessel if he could have avoided doing so, but there was no dock available where the, Bellerophon could be floated and the only way in which the work could have been done was by the method adopted.

There is now scarcely one of the ocean liners plying to this port that could be docked in the government graving dock at Esquimalt. This dock has been outgrown long since by the steamers which trade to this port. It is 450 feet in length by 65 feet beam and has a depth of 26.6 feet of water on the sill. The utmost to which dock can be extended is 31 feet, and none of the trans-Pacific liners now in service in the lines plying to and from the port of Victoria could be placed in the dock. The steamers under construction to be added to the lines are of even greater dimensions and when the Panama canal trade develops still larger steamers will come here. If any of these vessels met with acciden temporary repairs would have to be effected by divers to allow of the steam er being taken to a drydock across the border for repairs. The largest present on the Pacific Coast is the Hunter's Point, which is 750 fee
