

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY OF STRIKE

Nearly Three Million Workers Idle in the Old Land—Hope of Settlement is Still Remote

LONDON, March 25.—The twenty-fifth day of the national coal strike ends with nearly three million workers idle, with many thousands dependent upon charity to keep them from starving, with every manufacturing district in the land undergoing a throttling and a settlement apparently as remote as ever.

The sanguine expectations at the beginning of the day were that the joint conference of coal owners and miners, dramatically summoned by the premier, would reach an agreement that would end the strike but those were replaced by the gloomiest forebodings when it was learned that no joint conference had been held. For two and a half hours the prime minister and his colleagues labored with the committee representing the coal owners and for four hours and a half with the miners executive but failed, so completely, as to secure concessions from either which would afford a basis for agreement, that it was found inadvisable to bring the disputants together again.

As in previous crises in the situation the government resorts to secrecy, the only information vouchsafed in the official statement issued this evening being: "The conference adjourned until tomorrow."

Coal $20 a Ton

Coal has reached famine prices especially in the north of England, where it is higher than at London, as merchants in the metropolis had large reserves when the strike began. At Newcastle the price of coal is more than $20 a ton; at Dover, coal is $15 a ton.

One colliery at Yorkshire which had on hand a stock of 200,000 tons sold on the 24th only 50,000 tons at $5.50 per ton pit price. This usually sells at ten shillings ($2.50) a ton. This colliery is now offering some steam coal in Sheffield at 46 shillings ($11.50) pit price.

BUILDING ACTIVITY

Daily Demand for Permits Shows Growing Expenditure for Structures

Permits for structures aggregating $50,000 in cost were issued yesterday by the building inspector. The increased building activity is daily being indicated by the application for permits. While the returns for the present month will not equal those for February, in which latter month the permit for the new additions to the legislative building was issued, at the present rate of issuance March this year will constitute a record for any monthly figures since the system of recording values of structures proposed to be erected was established three years ago. Permits were yesterday issued to Mr. L. P. Frederickson, for two-story brick apartment and stores building at the corner of Fifth and Bay streets, to cost $6,500; to Mr. William Moore, for a dwelling on Colquhoun street, $4,500; to Mr. J. D. Sims, for a dwelling on Chamberlain street, $2,200; to Mr. James Holyoake, for a dwelling on Highview street, $1,950; to Mr. G. A. Downard, for a dwelling on Belmont avenue, $1,750; to Messrs. Breeze & Houghton, for a dwelling on Graham street, $1,300; to Mr. H. E. Beasley, for a dwelling at the corner of St. Charles and Regent streets, $1,800; to Mr. D. H. Hale, for four dwellings on Emma, Cook, Elford streets and Gorge road, to cost in the aggregate $14,800; to Mr. A. E. Hameel, for a dwelling on King's road, $1,500; to Mr. F. Loeffler, for a dwelling on Taunton road, $3,000, and to Mr. W. Dobson, for a dwelling on Dallas road, $4,800.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Man Suspected of Salmon Arm Shooting Held in Nanaimo Jail.

Held in the Nanaimo jail, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of John Kaven whose body was found at Salmon Arm on the 17th of the present month, the first of the present month, Edward Stowe, arrested by Provincial Constable Sampson, is awaiting trial at the forthcoming assizes.

Kaven's body was discovered by a man named Clary, who called at the shack to visit. Police investigation showed that Kaven had apparently been shot while he was asleep. The course of the bullet was traced by Provincial Constable Sampson and Constable Marshall and Lyons. It had pierced the wall of the shack, penetrated Kaven's body, again pierced the opposite wall and buried itself in three feet of earth.

A shell, which proved the clue leading to Stowe's arrest, was found lying on the ground outside the shack having apparently been ejected from the breach of magazine of a high power rifle.

Several persons residing in the vicinity were examined and finally Stowe was placed under arrest, a rifle and cartridge corresponding in calibre to the empty shell being found in his shack.

Of the dead man little is known in the vicinity. He is supposed to have come from Ireland and a remarkable circumstance was that when his clothing was searched he was found to be in possession of between $15,000 and $16,000 in cheques and money, all of which he had secreted about his person. The police authorities are at a loss to find a motive for the shooting. Stowe is a powerful man standing well over six feet.

The inquest on the body held at Campbell river was to the effect that Kaven came to his death by being shot by a person or persons unknown.

Lost Rex Charter

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—According to Balfour, Guthrie & Co., the British ship Kirkcubrightshire has been released from her charter to load grain for the United Kingdom. The vessel arrived on the Columbia river March 19 after a passage of 58 days from Newcastle, Australia, and reached port too late to claim her charter for grain. She had an exceptionally good charter of 22 shillings, 6 pence for the voyage.

Presidential Primary Law

SEATTLE, March 25.—Governor M. E. Hay will not call a special session of the legislature to enact a presidential preference primary law. He made that clear tonight when he disembarked from the steamer Governor on which he returned from San Francisco, where he selected the site for the Washington building at the Panama Pacific exposition.

SENATE TRIES TO BLOCK BILLS

Policy of Obstruction to Government Measures Said to be Dictated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier

OTTAWA, March 25.—The house this afternoon and evening discharged a variety of routine business. In the course of the morning the Grand Trunk bill came up. Major Currie, who has it in charge, asked that it stand till Wednesday. He added the Grand Trunk solicitor had instructed him that Mr. Kelly, the master of transportation, was to be held in the morning. The same attitude was taken by Mr. Currie with regard to the Grand Trunk bill to ratify the agreement between it and the Ontario government for the use of the Temiskaming and Northern. Hon. Mr. Rogers' bill to grant $100 each to the Fenian raid veterans was read a second time. Hon. Mr. Doherty's bill to prevent the incorporation of race track companies by letters patent, was read a third time. An amendment by Mr. Pugsley to make it retroactive so as to shut out two charters recently granted, was lost on division.

Mr. Doherty put through his bill to amend the judge's act. It makes general provision that a barrister must have ten years' standing before he can be made a judge. This is the rule in Ontario and Quebec with regard to the High or Superior Court, and it is intended for other provinces. The bill provides an assistant judge of an exchequer court, who shall be specially acquainted with Quebec law, provides the superior court of Quebec with an additional judge at $5,000 and increases the salaries of judges of the districts of Terrebonne, Montmagny and Blainville to $7,000.

Course of Senate

If there is to be a trial of strength between the Conservative majority in the House of Commons and the Liberal majority in the senate, the upper house will not find the government shirking its encounter. The upper house has gone gunning after all the more important legislation involving new features of the ministerial policy, sent up from the house. A bill authorizing federal aid to the provinces for the building of good roads, has been amended. The same sort of treatment seems to be in store for the bill to assist the provinces in the encouragement of agriculture.

The attitude of the liberal senate appears to be that in the desire to close the session, the government may be willing to accept these amendments coming in the senate although some amendments were refused when proposed by the opposition to the House of Commons.

The attitude of the senate majority is understood to have been dictated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who has been paying rather frequent visits to the precincts of the upper house recently for the purpose of coaching his followers there.

What will the government do? Government's Attitude

It is officially stated tonight that the government will not yield an inch on either the highway's bill or the measure in regard to agriculture. If the liberal senate at the bidding of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, is looking for a fight, they will be able to find it. The government will refuse the amendments if, then, the senate insists on amending, even to the holding up of these bills for a year, the responsibility will be theirs and their tutors. In the meantime the government is prepared with supplementary votes in the estimates to carry out at once the policy involved in these measures if they be permitted to pass. These will allot the grants to the provinces.

Hon. Mr. Rogers' bill to transfer to the provincial government the administration of water in the railway belt and the Peace river block, was discussed at length by the committee and was finally stood over till Wednesday. Sir W. Laurier contended the bill should be assimilated to the B. C. statutes. Mr. Guthrie procured the insertion of a provision protecting the rights of litigants, saying the case of New Westminster vs. The King concerning the ownership of Lake Coquitlam might be affected.

Late at night Hon. Mr. Monk's bill to increase the aid to drydocks was passed. It increases the capital stock on which the country may pay interest from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000. Questioned by Mr. Pugsley, Mr. Monk said that no special enterprise was in view. He believed that before long the opening of the Panama canal would make it necessary to construct on the Pacific coast drydocks a thousand feet long. He laid stress on the need of anticipating the future developments and mentioned the type of dock which was 1,100 feet long, 110 wide and 47 feet deep. There is no dock of such dimensions in the United States. He stated that no application for a subsidy is before the government.

DEER INCREASING IN THE PROVINCE

Fame of B. C. as Big Game Country Spreading—Several Noted Hunters Plan Trips to Canadian West

The provincial game department has recently received information that several parties of noted big game hunters will visit British Columbia almost immediately to take advantage of the early bear shooting, while others are already perfecting their plans for autumnal expeditions into the wilds of this province in quest of moose, bear, goats and mountain sheep. Among the first expected visitors will be Herr Adolph von Hagen, one of the most distinguished of German sportsmen, and a party of Britishers headed by Lord Beauclerc, a famous lion and tiger killer.

Several Americans have also applied for licenses to hunt in British Columbia during the present season and information has also reached the provincial game warden to the effect that Mr. Montgomery, an American, has lately purchased an island off the west coast of this island, where he proposes to breed a herd of wapiti for this island game preserve. The foundation stock for this herd are to be imported from Wyoming.

This latter intimation is especially interesting inasmuch as the provincial government is also at present considering the practicability of restocking the wapiti herds of the interior with importations from Wyoming, provided the difficulty of bringing the animals over the mountains can be satisfactorily solved.

Wapiti Starving

"On account of the scarcity of food on the ranges, consequent upon the great increase in sheep and cattle runs, the wapiti in Wyoming, which are the finest of their species in the world, are dying out by the thousands," says Mr. Bryan-Williams.

"It seems a shame that this splendid animal should become extinct, more especially as he would easily breed in British Columbia, where every condition is favorable. The great difficulty which would confront us in bringing these animals into Canada is, a difficulty met right at the outset. The animals would have to be brought over the Teton range in sleighs in the spring of the year, when the snow is on the ground, thence transferred to wagons and conveyed in this fashion until the railroad was reached. The government of the United States, after many costly experiments, succeeded in getting one herd across a year or so ago. If we were only successful after a similar number of attempts, the animals would cost the government of this province a great deal of money. The game department is open to suggestions from sportsmen as to the solution of this difficulty and if it can be done it may be taken as certain that the department will proceed further in the matter."

OUTBREAK IN TURKESKAN

Defeated Government Troops Lose 1500 Men and Three Guns

ST. PETERSBURG, March 25.—A despatch from Kujik, Chinese Turkestan, reports a battle between government troops and Ghrampti and revolutionary forces near Shikho. The revolutionists were victorious and were advancing on Shikho. The government troops according to the despatch, lost 1500 killed, 80 prisoners and three guns. The rebels lost 200 killed.

Estate of $300,000

TORONTO, March 25.—The inventory of the estate, accompanied by the will of the late Hon. Edward Blake, was filed in the surrogate court on Saturday. The papers filed show a total estate of $295,431.94. With the exception of a few minor bequests, all of the estate is left to the widow and family.

New Provincial Bridges

Reports have reached the public works department of the completion by Foreman Dan McKinnon and his crew of the new North Francois bridge, near Burns lake, while the bridge over the Nadinia river at the west end of Francois lake was to have been completed by the 25 inst, and is probably is now carrying traffic. The new bridge over the Illicilweat is well under way—in fact almost completed—and the main braces of the Coquahalla bridge are in place and work on this structure is advancing rapidly. Arrangements are being made for bridges over the Columbia at or near Gateway and at Athabasca, while the Kicking Horse is to be bridged at Golden and ferries established at Brisco and Carbonate. Work on the new bridge at Trill is advancing most satisfactorily. The new Pitt river bridge it is expected will be undertaken next year.

Oak Bay Council

At a protracted meeting of the Oak Bay council yesterday evening, half a dozen reports from various committees obtained consideration, and an extensive list of routine business was disposed of with business-like rapidity. One feature of the evening was the presentation of the report forthwith with the sanction of the new municipal hall at the corner of Oak Bay avenue and Hampshire road, which will include a public hall, council chamber, police station and officers' quarters, etc. The new hall is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $75,000, and the architects, Messrs. James and James, were instructed to invite tenders at once. The question of providing for the erection of a wharf and bunkers at last evening's meeting, the engineer being asked to prepare and present an estimate of cost. The suggested wharf and bunkers are primarily to facilitate the landing of materials required by the corporation in road and sewer construction works, etc., and will also be available for the handling of such commodities as coal, wood, etc., for residents of the district.

More Than Ever

There have been more deer seen in the interior districts during the past few months than ever before. It is a noteworthy fact that the range of the mule deer is extending farther north, while, at the same time, the animals are as plentiful as ever in southern British Columbia. This species is now found as far north as the 55th parallel of latitude. Ten years ago there was not a herd north of the 53rd parallel. There are now plenty of mule deer at Francois Lake and along the Babine. It is understood that the provincial government, which has carried out its game protection policy with such splendid results, intends by judicious importation of foreign species to make British Columbia not only the greatest but the most varied game country in the world. The exception which prove the rule cited by the provincial game warden would seem to present itself in the Boundary district where, owing to the deep snow, the past winter has proven very hard on the deer, many of them dying of starvation. For some time herds of black-tailed deer have haunted the suburbs of Greenwood and Phoenix in quest of food. To avoid being pulled down by the coyotes, the deer have stood together in herds of fifteen or twenty each around the Bonnie Belle mine, Corbin's, Floyd's ranch and other Boundary points, during six weeks past. One two-year-old doe was picked up exhausted by Sid Oliver of Greenwood, who carried her to his stable and served her with a feast of hay and turnips. She was too weak to eat, however, and died the following day. Billy Oliver also found a herd of twenty, with two dead of starvation and the others too weak to move away. Steps are being taken by the provincial authorities to put out feed in this district, for the salvation of the herds.

Slaughtering Game

An exceptionally curious circumstance presents itself in connection with recent wholesale arrests in the neighborhood of Mara, in the Okanagan, of Indians who have been making the slaughter of deer out of season a wholesale business. Game Warden Blurton and Constable Price recently discovered the carcasses of thirteen does hidden in the bush. They made no move until abundant evidence was available and then arrested the Indians. Speaking of these arrests, Mr. Bryan-Williams says that evidence has been secured showing that these deer, and many others, were killed for the purpose of getting the unborn fawns, which are regarded as an especial delicacy by the Indians. There is also a nefarious trade being carried on by the Chinese, who pickle them in alcohol and later drink the fluid which is supposed to possess peculiar medicinal virtues.

Throughout the province during the past few weeks there has been record activity in the prosecution of whites as well as Indians for out of season shooting. The indiscriminate slaughter of deer has been especially prevalent along the line of G.T.P. construction and at Prince Rupert. Six Montenegris are now under sentence of three months' imprisonment for illegal killing of deer of all ages, while others have been severely fined for being found in "possession." In Vancouver six convictions have recently been secured, and in Comox district three. At Creston, also, Frank Burns has just been fined $50, and costs, and other prosecutions are on the tapis.

Bank Hold-Up

An employee of the bank at Chantilly, who escaped in a miraculous manner, relates the story of the bandits' attack as follows: "Four assassins entered the bank and lined up before the counter with military precision. At a word of command one of them a volley was fired and the cashier dropped dead, while another victim was mortally wounded and expired in a few minutes, a third man was wounded by two bullets in the shoulder. A fourth happened to be stooping to open a drawer when two bullets passed close to his head without hitting him and he escaped into the yard."

The German Emperor, alluding to the war, said that Italy was offering a touching spectacle of union and loyalty to the dynasty. This evening the Emperor gave a dinner in honor of the King aboard the imperial yacht Hohenzollern. The whole basin was illuminated brilliantly.

Mr. Butler repeatedly asserted that the government had established its case beyond question. Instructions from U. S. District Judge Carpenter held the jurors' attention for more than an hour.

ROAD PIRATES STORM BANK

Kill Cashier and Another Employee, Escaping With Loot—Exploits of Desperate Men Terrify Rural France

PARIS, March 25.—The most recent exploit of a band of road pirates who have put rural France in a state of terror by the swiftness and relentlessness of its operations, has created a tremendous impression upon Parisians. Apparently the police are powerless against this organization and a certain section of the press are determined to criticize Louis Legras, the prefect of police, who is charged with allowing his administration to get out of date.

The feature of today's series of crimes was the rapidity with which they were committed. A motor car was stolen by the bandits as it was passing through the historical forest of Senart about 25 miles from Paris, at a quarter past 8 o'clock. From that place it was traced to Paris and Chantilly, where it arrived at half past ten. Its occupants had stored the bank of Chantilly, twenty-three miles northwest of Paris, returned to the suburb of Asnières, with the spoils and made good their escape at half past eleven, after which all traces of them was lost. The stolen motor car was seen and recognized by the cyclist police on watch at Asnières about 11.30 a.m. The police sprang upon their bicycles and gave chase but soon were abandoned by the bandits close to the railroad. This is the last trace of the assassins and it is presumed they jumped the fence to the track and boarded a train going northward to Ardenneville.

In the abandoned vehicle the police found an empty portfolio belonging to the Chantilly bank which removes all doubt the Villeneuve-St. Georges assassins are also those of Chantilly.

A number of bloodstains were on the motor car and two hats with a number of cartridges for revolvers and carbines were found.

Alphonse Bertillon was summoned immediately and photographed the fingerprints on the automobile for the anthropometric department of the police.
