CONVERSION LOAN HAS PROVEN GREAT SUCCESS

OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—(Canadian Press Dispatch).—Canada's conversion loan appears to have "gone over the top" in splendid style.
Last minute inquiries and communications received at the department of finance indicate that the results in the amount of former loan converted to the new issue will exceed former expectations, through, of course, the complete returns will not be known for perhaps a couple of weeks.
The conversion closed at the various banks throughout the country to-day and according to all reports banks were practically swamped with conversion business.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.
It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Menthosulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Advt.

ST. THOMAS THEFT AT AYLMER

Millard Startles Court by Calling
Accuser "Liar"

CASE FURTHER ADJOURNED

Counsel to Summon Another
Witness for Defense

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 1.—James Millard, an Aylmer young man, appeared before Judge D. C. Ross in county court on Saturday morning charged with the theft of five dollars in money, chocolate bars, candy and cigarettes from Alex Zimmerman, proprietor of the Brown House, Aylmer, on May 31 of this year. After hearing the evidence in the four charges of theft, the case was further adjourned to Tuesday morning at the request of G. St. Clair Leitch, K.C., who appeared for the defense, and who wished time to bring forth other witnesses to testify in behalf of his client. Millard was convicted two weeks ago by Judge Ross of stealing one dollar from Mr. Zimmerman, but judgment was deferred till after the hearing of four similar charges.

Mr. Zimmerman, chief witness for the crown, told of finding the alleged stolen goods in Millard's room. Accompanied by Chief of Police Dr. Augustine and Constable William Mills he had gone up to the rooms following Millard. When he had entered the room the accused had all the cigarettes, chocolate bars and candy stuffed together ready to throw out of the window. At this point in his evidence, Millard started the court by raising from his chair and shouting at the witness, "directing his finger at the witness."

DISAPPEAR FROM SAFE.

After Mr. Leitch had quitted his client the case continued. The witness told of finding two small sacks of chocolate candies in Millard's room and all the candies and cigars were hidden in court, for some had unaccountably disappeared from the safe in the town hall at Aylmer, where they had been placed for safekeeping by Dr. Augustine.

Cross-examined by Mr. Leitch, Mr. Zimmerman admitted he had borrowed $500 from the accused and also been the means of securing a loan of $500 for his brother-in-law from Millard. He also admitted payment of the latter loan and his brother-in-law had repaid him the money.

Mr. Leitch wanted to know why Zimmerman had not paid the money back to Millard.

"The reason I don't pay the money back is because I think it is mine," replied the witness.

"Then you don't intend to pay Millard what you owe him?" questioned Mr. Leitch.

"I am waiting for his honor to decide that question. I don't intend to pay him until the court says so," answered the witness.

Questioned as to his identification of the cigarettes, Mr. Zimmerman replied that his conscience told him that Millard got them from him.

"Never mind your conscience," broke in Mr. Leitch, "will you swear that he got them from you?"

Millard in the witness box admitted that the cigarettes and other articles had been found in his rooms when searched, but he swore that the things had been stolen.

The chocolate bars and cigarettes had been given to him by his friends while he was working as a clerk at the hotel. The copper and small silver he had been saving for months in a bank improvised from a tobacco box.

Cigars produced in court, which were found in the defendant's home in his father's writing desk, were produced in court. They were alleged to have been stolen from Mr. Zimmerman. The father of the accused swore that the cigars had been given to him by his son, a bartender in Aylmer, and that his son had nothing to do with them.

DR. LAWRENCE WINS.

Almos, of Brantford, had been arrested by the chief of police on a charge of fraudulently obtaining board and lodging to the amount of $35 for himself and wife at the Parkview Hotel in June of this year. Constable Sam McKee, of Brantford, was given the assignment to take Almos to St. Thomas for arrest. Finkelshtein, on Wednesday afternoon, from the front of the owner's store, on Talbot street. Disposition of the case was postponed for a week by his worship. The bicycle was found by Police Constable Harry McCord in a local garage, where it had been left by the lad. The boy's parents will be requested to appear with their son next Saturday.

He leaves one brother, Alexander, in Australia.

The remains were removed to the parlors of P. R. Williams & Son and burial will take place on Monday, at p. m., from the residence of John Buchanan, 45 Hughes street, to South Park Cemetery. Rev. H. E. Thorndike will conduct the service.

TRUE FREEDOM IN THE LAWS OF GOD

Only Ideals of Christ Will Solve
Modern Problems

DR. E. L. PIDGEON AT KNOX

St. Thomas Church Celebrates 85th Anniversary

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 1.—Knox Presbyterian Church to-day celebrated its 85th Anniversary. Rev. Dr. E. Leslie Pidgeon, former minister of the church, now of Winnipeg, preaching at both services to large congregations. Mr. Pidgeon opened his morning sermon by expressing his great joy at being back in his old pulpit again and to see the many familiar faces of his old congregation. He spoke of his call to Knox Church as the turning point of his career. He was then a young man and the Christian treatment and sympathy of the church did much to his future. Unchristian treatment of an inspiring young entirely changed the course of a life, he declared.

A WORLD-WIDE STRUGGLE.

His sermon was a sweeping survey of the relation between philosophy and action, and the freedom that comes from conformity with the laws of God. Every man desires freedom above all other things and the struggle for it is a great one, caused by the fact that man is a self-directing being in a universe of law. Man is directed by will; if the will is not in harmony with the outer laws his purpose will be blocked from outside.

Other matters of public interest were taken up at the meeting. The Horticultural Society was requested to replace all of the poplar trees in the city with maples to carry out the plan of beautifying the banks of McGregor's Creek, at the rear of the Kingsmill's property. The portion of the bank has been an eyesore for many years, right in the heart of the city, and it is believed that through the planting of a few shrubs and vines a great improvement could be made.

ADMIT ROBBERIES

Casey and Wilson, accused of several robberies in Dresden and vicinity, appeared before Judge Stanworth this morning and sentence was reserved. The two men pleaded guilty to the theft of automobiles and the ransacking of the homes of the victims.

The two men just finished drawing off a quantity of liquor and consumed it immediately. Henry's wife was attacked and bruised. The still was found on the farm. The men are now in jail awaiting trial.

ASK HYDRO LIGHTING

Residents of Taylor avenue, at a recent meeting, appointed a committee to meet the Chatham Township Council for the purpose of applying for hydro lights on the avenue, which is outside the city limits. It is likely that the Council and the hydro authorities will act promptly in the matter.

An improvement which will be noticed at the Port is the new approach to Port Stanley. The ground around the L. & P. S. station, from the bridge back to the Nukol siding, has all been cleared and is now being prepared for the planting of shrubs, etc., similar to that at the Port Stanley branch of the Horticultural Society, soon formed, launches, its campaign for improvement of the water front, the east side of the creek opposite the station and bring it on a par with the west side.
