PALE, WAN CHEEKS A SIGN OF ANAEMIA To Have Good Color and Health the Blood Must be Kept Red and Pure

Many women who had good color and bright eyes in their girlhood grow pale and colorless and lose much of their charm when they become wives and mothers. Why is it? When the fading color in the cheeks and lips is accompanied by a loss of brightness in the eyes and an increasing heaviness in the step and a tendency to tire easily, the cause is to be sought in the state of the blood.

Many causes may contribute to the condition of the blood known as anaemia. Care of the home, overwork, lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient rest and sleep, improper diet, are a few of them. The important thing is to restore the blood to build it up so that the color will return to the cheeks and lips, brightness to the eyes, and lightness to the step. To do this, nothing can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They begin at once to increase the red corpuscles in the blood, and this new blood carries strength and health to every part of the body. The appetite improves, digestion becomes perfect, and energy and ambition return. Proof is given in the statement of Mrs. Alex Archambo, Cornwall, Ont., who says: "Two years ago my health began to fail. I was suffering from headaches, pains in the back and sides, and a constant tired out feeling. I had used a lot of medicine, but instead of it helping me I seemed to be growing weaker. My friends urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and while I felt disheartened at my experience with other medicines, I decided to do so. To my great joy I soon found the pills were helping me, and their continued use for a time fully restored my health. I feel that I would be ungrateful if I did not give my experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the hope that it may point the way to health to some other poor sufferer."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or may be had by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IN MEMORY OF FLORENCE R. LEE

The Angel of death
Another has claimed—
A sister we cherished
So dear.
But as she has left us
We'll not wish her back,
For we know she is happy
Up there.

She has fallen asleep in Jesus,
The sleep that knows no pain;
She has gone just over
That river.
From which travelers return
Not again.

She has passed thro
The Valley of shadow;
She has reached the gates of
Pure gold.
Her feet are now walking that city
Whose inhabitants never Grow old

The struggle is o'er; the Victory won;
She is safe on the other
Green shore.
Where we soon shall join her
To walk hand in hand
To be parted by death
Never more.

We are willing to leave
Her with Jesus,
She is safe in his
Loving care.
For we must finish the work
He has left us to do
Before we can meet her
Up there.

Mrs. Brown—"You told me that if I left my table cloth out all night the fruit stains would be gone. Well, I put it out last night."

Mrs. Jones—"Of course, the stains were gone in the morning?"

Mrs. Brown—"Yes, and so was the tablecloth."

MAKERS OF SCOTT'S EMULSION

CAUSE AND CURE

Tells How to Make a Canadian
Dollar Worth a Hundred
American Cents

The Canadian dollar is worth about 85 cents in the United States, and the tendency is to place the blame on Uncle Sam, says "Canuck" in the Toronto Telegram. As a matter of fact, both the cause and cure are to be found right at home.

The war caused an unequal distribution of wealth. Part of the population fought for $1.10 per day. Another part drew wages from $5 to $10 per day. Yet another amassed fortunes through war contracts. And still another waxed wealthy by feeding $18 hogs and growing $2.26 wheat.

This made three classes of war profiteers: one of fighters. And Canada experienced a season of prosperity unprecedented in her history. The net result was that the best was none too good for the "profiteer" class.

Their wives wore high heeled shoes at from $15 to $18 per pair. Their daughters wore hats and gowns that were American imitations of Paris models.

They themselves rode around in motor cars that were aristocratic American names, and carried yet more aristocratic Yankee price tags.

And the whole family packed up and went to American winter resorts to spend that season of the year that has hitherto been regarded as Canada's crowning glory.

To sum it all up, Canada's boots, Canada's clothing, Canada's automobiles, and Canada's climate were not good enough for Canadians.

Under the circumstances, you could hardly expect Canada's dollar to be good enough for Americans.

Of course, the dollar being only a medium of exchange, there are more material reasons for the depreciation of the Canadian medium. The balance of trade was disturbed by the apparently insatiable demand for American goods and the goods that the Americans imported.

The demand changed the relative values of our money and their goods under the old law of supply and demand.

But the cause and effect remain the same. The cure is not in the hands of Uncle Sam. It is in the hands of Canadians.

The demand a few short months ago was for patriots who would stand in the trenches and fight the Hun. The demand today is for patriots who will stand in the trenches and fight back the waves of fads and fashion that won't permit Canadians to wear Canadian goods and glory in Canadian winter sports.

Where is the first lady patriot who will wear a low heeled, comfortable shoe made from a Canadian last?

Where are the girl patriots who will wear home grown and home-knit Canadian clothes?

Where are the rich but Canadian families that will show their patriotism by forswearing the languid ease of American resorts and turning to skates, toboggans and sleigh rides, even as their forebears did before them?

Where are the Canadian men, those men of substance, who trifle with the intricacies of finance, who will send back their luxurious American made automobiles and turn again to the healthful walk that made Canadian manhood the healthiest in the world?

Then there's New York! The whole continent is suffering from too much New York. It is the temple of the money gods. It is the one spot on earth where gold is king, and extravagance is the breath of his nostrils.

Every man with easy money buys a ticket for the metropolis, where to spend is the mission of the visitor and to despoil is the life work of the natives who beset his path.

New York sets the styles of the continent. It makes extravagance its ideal because the more extravagant the epidemic it breeds the richer the flood of money that is poured into its coffers.

SHUN NEW YORK. Develop ideals that are not propagated by the offerings of the earth, Jew and Gentile alike, who have subjugated all the finer feelings to money and what money will buy.

GET BACK TO CANADA. Talk Canadian styles, not Yankee fashions. Wear Canadian goods, not Yankee idiosyncrasies. Use the legs God gave you, not the autos the Yankees sell you.

Be patriotic. Recognize the value of your own goods, your own country and your own climate.

Then, and not till then, the Americans will recognize the value of your dollar.

Ceremonies differ, but true politeness is ever the same.

To kill time try hard work.

DELCO LIGHT IN CANNING

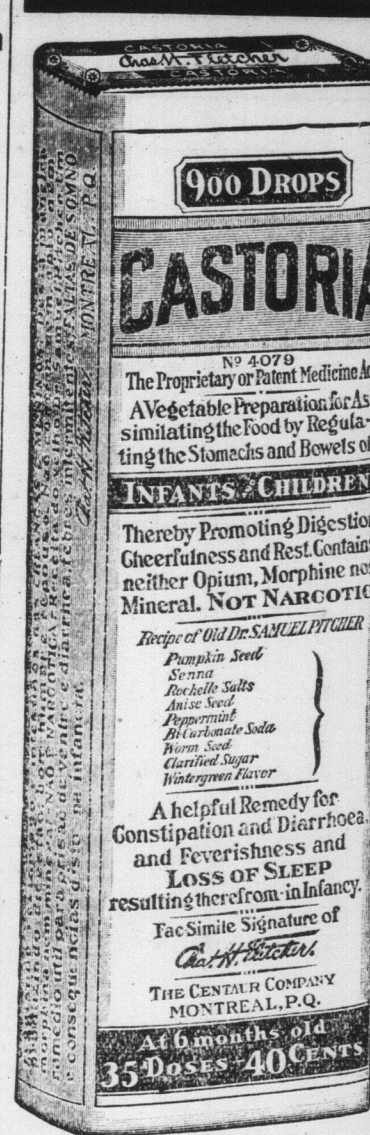

(Kentville Advertiser)

Canning stores are fitting up with Delco Electric Light, the latest addition being Mr. E. P. Grant's Barber shop—and a Street light has been placed in front of J. E. Kennedy's, Jacobson Bros., and H. R. Ellis. Who will be the next? Lyons Bros., and G. W. Parker have had a gas light at their stores for some time but the Delco beats them. The commissioners should encourage this style of Street Lighting. Canning needs something better than it has had.
