

trace of swelling remained ; St. Anne has not left me even the slightest deformity.

I am perfectly cured in every way. On Christmas eve, I returned to Laconia. Oh ! what a different journey it was from the one I had performed three months previous !

Every day brings me new strength and a more thorough knowledge of the great favor God and St. Anne have granted me ! God grant me grace to live so that He will always find me worthy of it.

TILLIE POWELL.

To the above most interesting and touching relation is subjoined the following certificate in confirmation of its authenticity.

Laconia, May 4, 1838.

This is to certify that Miss Tillie Powell was visited by me during the twenty months she spent in Laconia. She was very sick during that time, confined to bed, unable to get up or even to move. Twice her life was despaired of, and I anointed her twice. Having recovered a little, she was carried to the cars, and left for Ste-Anne de Beaupré in the baggage-car lying in her easy-chair.

I am willing to take the most solemn oath to the truth of this statement, and am most positively convinced that her coming back to us, cured and able to walk, is due to divine interference.

To-day, six months after that cure occurred, she walked up to my house for this letter, and enjoys perfect health.

Yours etc.,

J. LAMBERT, Priest.
