

IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE OF AMERICA

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 1, 1884.

To the Officers and Members of the Irish National League of America.

We beg respectfully to inform you that the executive offices of the League have been removed to Lincoln, Nebraska...

The office of the National Treasurer, Rev. Charles O'Reilly, D.D., will remain in Detroit, Michigan. Let us here respectfully remind you that all remittances should be sent to the Treasurer...

The work of the Boston Convention has attracted the attention and commanded the approval of the great people of whom we are a part. It has given joy and increased hope to our race throughout the world.

We appeal to you to supplement the great work of that convention with your earnest efforts to give renewed life and enthusiasm to the League. The League is now firmly established. Its purposes are known and applauded by all just men of all creeds, all races and all parties.

A special committee on music and literature should be appointed in every branch. There should also be a committee on Parliamentary Fund appointed in every branch.

Where there are several branches in a town or city a joint committee should be selected; and where there is a municipal council that body should organize and go to work immediately.

A general parliamentary election is now possible at any time and may reasonably be said to be among the certainties of the ensuing ten months. We received the brilliant representative of the Parliamentary party, Messrs. Sexton and Ro-mund, with cheers.

After telling them and their colleagues to go on and be assured of our support, shall we give that support promptly and generously? We rely upon your patriotism for the responses to these questions.

In the local branches, as in the National Convention of the League, we drop our character as members of American political parties when we cross the threshold of the League hall. During the coming political canvass, let no excitement or differences of opinion concerning political affairs either decrease our optimism or influence our actions in the League.

Fidelity we have lived to be held our people at home able to bury creed and provincial distinctions. Let us show that we are able to bury political distinctions in our League work, and to tolerate the widest differences of opinion in American politics among our members.

The gentlemen chosen to serve as members of the national committee are expected to take an active part in extending the league in their respective States; and the delegates to the convention who selected these gentlemen are expected to see that their State delegates discharge the duties of their offices and to aid them in its discharge.

The men who placed officers in position are equally responsible with the officers for the success or failure of the administration. From one and all earnest, active, loyal work is necessary.

The names of the vice-presidents, members of the National Council of Seven, and the National Executive Committee are appended: Vice Presidents—O'Neil, St. Louis, Mo.; A. P. Wilhite, Philadelphia, Pa.; Thomas F. Dougherty, Boston, Mass.

National Council of Seven—Hon. M. V. Gannon, Davenport, Ia.; Timothy Moroney, New Orleans, La.; Thomas Flaherty, Boston, Mass.; Col. W. D. Denver, Col.; Wm. B. Holmes, Jersey City, N. J.; Hugh J. Carroll, Pawtucket, R. I.; Judge J. G. Donnelly, Milwaukee, Wis.

National Executive Committee—Arkansas—P. Devany, Fort Smith; California—Hon. M. Cooney, San Francisco; Connecticut—Peter W. Wren; Colorado—Col. M. Boland, Denver; Delaware—F. P. Kane, Wilmington; Georgia—John F. Armstrong, Augusta; Illinois—Daniel Corkery, Chicago; Indiana—F. M. Ryan, Indianapolis; Iowa—Hon. M. V. Gannon, Davenport; Kentucky—John J. Barrett, Louisville; Louisiana—Timothy Moroney, New Orleans; Maryland—Patrick Martin, Baltimore; Michigan—Thos. J. Dawson, Detroit; Massachusetts—Wm. Flaherty, Boston; Minnesota—J. R. Corrigan, Minneapolis; Missouri—Dr. T. O'Reilly, St. Louis; Nebraska—John Fitzgerald, Lincoln; New Hampshire—Patrick A. Devine, Manchester; New Jersey—M. B. Holmes, Jersey City; New York—Dr. Joseph F. Fox, Troy; Ohio—J. W. Fitzgerald, Cincinnati; Pennsylvania—P. H. Lynch, Philadelphia; Rhode Island—Hugh J. Carroll, Pawtucket; South Carolina—E. L. Walsh, Washington; Dakota—William O'Mulcahy, Grafton; Canada, Jeremiah Gallagher, Quebec.

We shall look anxiously and hopefully for early and encouraging replies. Respectfully, PATRICK EGAN, President.

CONSUMPTION CURED. An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, &c., of all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing or using. Sent by mail, with addressing with stamp, naming this paper. A. N. JONES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

A RARE PLANT.

The Wild Strawberry Plant, possesses rare virtue as a cleansing, cooling, astringent, antiseptic, and healing medicine, and when combined with other valuable vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, it is an unfailing remedy in all Bowel complaints.

Hand-made envelopes cost originally five cents each. The envelope-making machine now turns them out so that a thousand are sold for 30 cents.

A STRONG ENDORSEMENT.

The Clergy, the Medical Faculty, the Press and the People all endorse Burdock Blood Bitters as the best system renovating blood purifying tonic known. Its work bears out their best recommendation.

The Remington works at Iliou, N. Y., are filling large orders from the Chinese Government for arms and ammunition.

RESPECT AGE.

Age should always command respect; in the case of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry it certainly does, for 25 years that has been the standard remedy with the people, for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Colic and all Bowel Complaints.

Lieutenant Garlington thinks the search for the north pole will be continued until it is successful.

AN EX-ALDERMAN TRIED IT.

Ex-Alderman Taylor, of Toronto, tried Haggarty's Yellow Oil for Rheumatism. It cured him after all other remedies had failed.

The Pennsylvania State fair offers $200 premium for home made dresses.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA MORBUS.

A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of Bowel Complaint incident to Summer and Fall, is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; to be procured from any druggist.

There are three chandeliers in the White House that cost $5,000 apiece.

A SAD NEGLECT.

Neglecting a constipated condition of the bowels is sure to bring ill-health and great suffering. Burdock Blood Bitters regulate the bowels in a natural manner, purifying the blood and promote a healthy action of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

THE LATEST DYNAMITE HOAX.

It was known that a certain smart U. S. young man had studied chemistry for six months, had ordered a sectioned hand-bag and mailed for England. He was subsequently ascertained that he had made several visits to a clock and watch maker before leaving. The cable was used to cause his arrest on arrival, and a trio of metaphysicians were summoned to open the bag, which, in view of probabilities, were regarded as patriotic heroism of the highest order. The official verdict reported 23 samples of Johnston's Fluid, 10,000 circulars, 4 shirt collars, and a box of tooth-picks. -Hull Budget.

OUR HABITS AND OUR CLIMATE.

All persons leading a sedentary and inactive life are more or less subject to derangement of the Liver and Stomach which, if neglected in a changeable climate like ours, leads to chronic disease and ultimate misery. An occasional dose of McEagle's Compound Butternut Pills will stimulate the Liver to healthy action, tone up the Stomach and Digestive Organs, thereby giving life and vigor to the system generally. For sale everywhere. Price, 25c per box, five boxes $1.00. Mailed free of postage on receipt of price in money or two postage stamps. -J. E. McEagle, chemist, Montreal.

TAMMANY AND CLEVELAND.

THE NOMINATION ACCEPTED—GRADY DECLARES FOR BUTLER.

New York, Sept. 12.—There was an immense crowd in Tammany Hall to-night to attend the ratification meeting of the organization. Kelly was loudly cheered on coming on the platform. General Spinola, chairman of the sub-committee on organization, made his report. The address arraigned Governor Cleveland for thwarting the victory achieved in the legislature by his veto in the Elevated Railroad matter and also the senate for defeating the prison labor law by an unholy alliance of Republicans and ex-sect Democrats.

The address also condemned the veto of the mechanic lien bill and the bill calculated to ameliorate the condition of the car drivers, and gives other reasons for opposition to the nomination made at Chicago, and says: We acquiesce in, although protesting against, the unwise and injudicious course which the convention pursued. The following resolution was submitted: Resolved, That we, the democratic republican general committee of the city and county of New York, in Tammany Hall assembled, hereby ratify and endorse the nominations made by the National Democratic Convention held in Chicago on July 10, 1884: For president, Grover Cleveland, of New York; for vice-president, Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, and hereby pledge ourselves to an earnest and cordial support of the candidates so nominated. Applause and hisses greeted the reading of the address, and for some time it was doubtful whether a riot would finally break out. In moving the motion of adjournment the address Spinola said that his aim was to attract victory from the jaws of defeat. When Spinola sat down ex-Senator Thomas F. Grady demanded recognition. Grady was cheered, even more heartily than Kelly had been. He protested against the passage of the resolution, and concluded as follows: I renounce the candidate whose only merit is his obscurity that I may follow a statesman whose life made glorious the history of his country. I decline to bow before the graven image, because I prefer to follow the teachings of the apostle of true political faith, preferring shining ability to dull mediocrity, a true reformer to a sham reformer, a statesman to a hangman, an illustrious citizen to a political adventurer. I decline to support Grover Cleveland for the presidency, and here and now, in the presence of you, I adopt the policy of neutrality as my political sponsor in the midst of brethren and comrades with whom I have shared many a hard fought political field and before the eyes of all the country, to whom I have this night laid bare my motives and my purposes, I declare myself in favor of Benjamin F. Butler, the soldier, jurist, statesman and patriot, and I appeal to time for my vindication. The result of the vote was 810 yeas to 87 nays, only a small portion of the members voting. John Kelly refused to speak.

Holloway's Pills.—The Great Need.—The blood is the life and on its purity depends our health, if not our existence. These Pills thoroughly cleanse this vital fluid from all contaminations, and by that power strengthen and invigorate the whole system, healthy, stimulate sluggish organs, repress over-excited action, and establish order of circulation and secretion through every part of the body. The balsamic nature of Holloway's Pills commends them to the favor of debilitated and nervous constitutions, which they soon resuscitate. They dislodge all obstructions, both in the bowels and elsewhere, and are, on that account, much sought after for promoting the regularity of action in young females and delicate persons who are naturally weak, or who from some cause have become so.

DISASTROUS STORMS IN THE WEST.

FATAL THUNDER SQUALL AT ALPENA—FLOODS IN WISCONSIN—THE CYCLOPE AT CLEAR LAKE, MINN.

ALPENA, Mich., Sept. 11.—There was a violent thunder squall here yesterday, rain falling over an inch in eight minutes. Thos. Scarf was struck by lightning and killed on the street, and another man's arm was broken. A house and mill were blown down and 40,000 feet of lumber was blown into the lake.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., Sept. 11.—The most disastrous flood ever known is now upon this city. The river has risen over 20 feet and it is still rising a foot per hour. Three railroad bridges are in great danger and a wagon bridge is expected to go. All of the upper dams on Duncan Creek, which pass through the city, are out. A portion of the flood from that source reached here at 1 p.m. yesterday and swept away every bridge, five in number, outside the city limits, with a large number of buildings, including Keeble's plating mills, Comins' feed store, Stiles' logs, and Bailey's livery stables; also, Strumm & Weiner's agricultural buildings. The loss in the city is estimated at $100,000. The worst is still to come, as a dam six miles north has passed out, releasing 750,000 feet of logs.

CLEAR LAKE, Minn., Sept. 11.—The persons killed by the cyclone are Mrs. P. Burdick, the postmaster's wife, Wm. Cavanaugh, bookkeeper and A. W. Saunders, clerk. Walter Lewis, clerk, was fatally injured. The loss in this vicinity is a quarter of a million dollars. Bill Nye, of Laramie, Boomerang notoriety, was driving with his brother near East Clear Lake when the tornado struck them. Bill was lifted from the wagon and dashed to the road, his leg being broken in two places. The brother was slightly injured. About 40 buildings were wrecked in Clear Lake.

LACROSSE

CARLETON PLACE, Sept. 11.—The Carleton Boating Club held a grand carnival of sports at the Club House grounds, Mississippi Lake, to-day, at which one of the principal features was the lacrosse match between the Shamrocks (champions) and Toronto. The teams were as follows: Shamrocks—T. Prior, goal; F. Lally, point; W. McKay, cover point; C. J. McGuire, T. Trihey, T. Devine, W. Hamilton, B. Green, field; E. Kennedy, M. Cregan, F. Rielly, home; captain, T. Meahan.

Toronto—Robinson, goal; J. Garvin, point; W. Hubbell, cover point; —Hardy, T. W. Garvin, J. Drynan, R. Macpherson, S. Struthers, field; Martin, Dixon, McEagar, home; R. B. Hamilton, captain.

The game was started at about 4:30 o'clock in a field not at all fitted for good lacrosse playing and resulted in a victory for the Shamrocks in 13, 14 and 15 minutes. The Toronto as will be seen by the above had no team to represent them and the match is therefore no criterion of the next big match.

THE QUEEN'S ENGLISH.

HOW IT IS USED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS—PERCENTAGE OF ANGLICAN WORDS.

The language used in the house is exceptionally English, and the small part that foreign languages play in the construction of our ordinary speech is remarkable. Owing in a great measure to its monosyllabic character the Saxon is extremely forcible and impressive. Both from his natural genius, and from his long practice, Mr. Gladstone is undoubtedly the best orator in the House of Commons. A careful analysis of the derivation of the language employed by Mr. Gladstone in his speeches gives the following results: Seventy per cent. of the words are Saxon, 13 per cent. Latin, and 13 per cent. French, the remaining 4 per cent. being composed of words derived from different sources. One fact is peculiar. With all his liking for Greek and his well known attainments in that language, his usage of words derived from that source does not equal 1 per cent. Even on topics involving an appeal to early history, such as the theological side of the discussion on the parliamentary oath bill, Mr. Gladstone's language is scarcely more classical, as the figures in the latter instance stand thus:—Saxon, 72 per cent.; Latin, 15 per cent.; French, 11 per cent.; other words, 2 per cent., of which Greek again forms less than 1 per cent.

An analysis of the speeches of the leader of the opposition shows that in his language there is a great similarity with the component parts of Mr. Gladstone's. Sir Stafford Northcote's speeches give the following results: Saxon, 70 per cent.; Latin, 16 per cent.; French, 11 per cent.; other words, 3 per cent.

Sir William Harcourt is a forcible speaker, and when occasion requires, he is without an equal in invective and sarcasm, but in general his speeches, both in style of delivery and subject-matter, are much above the average of the house. They show the following results: Saxon, 77 per cent.; Latin, 15 per cent.; French, 7 per cent.; other words, 1 per cent.

Mr. Bright does not speak much now, and since his great speech on the Irish land act of 1881, which kept the house crowded till long past midnight, he has spoken comparatively seldom in parliament. There is no question as to his being a great orator. As a speaker he has always been regarded as an Englishman of the English, but, strange to say, an analysis of some of his later speeches gives figures which vary but little from those of the other speakers already quoted. They stand thus: Saxon, 74 per cent.; Latin, 12 per cent.; French, 10 per cent.; other words, 4 per cent.

No one could possibly refer to the prominent speakers of the house without including Lord Randolph Churchill, for lately upon all subjects, great and small, he has had a great deal to say. A speech of his own on the franchise question gives the following results: Saxon, 72 per cent.; Latin, 16 per cent.; French, 6 per cent.; Greek, 2 per cent.; other words, 4 per cent.

Naturally the best speakers in the house are looked for among the occupants of the first two benches, but below them many good speakers, like Mr. Cowen and Mr. Morley, are to be found; and whatever may be said of the opinions and tactics of the Irish party, it must be confessed that there are some very able speakers to be found in its ranks. From these few figures two facts are deducible—first, that the language of all the speakers quoted approximates greatly to one standard, and secondly, that the greatest strength of the language is derived from the Saxon element. Taking the words derived from the French as being originally Latin, it may be said that of the language used in the House of Commons, three-fourths comes from the Saxon and one-fourth from the Latin.

Both our political and literary history of the past accounts for the number of Latin words used, and still they are only words of general acceptance and words whose import is perfectly well understood. The utilitarian theory applies nowhere more strongly than in the case of language, and if a word is useful it is sure to be retained.—Pall Mall Gazette.

OFF WITH AN HEIRESS.

THE DAUGHTER OF JAY GOULD'S PARTNER FLIES WITH A COACHMAN—YONKERS EXCITED OVER THE ROMANTIC SEQUEL TO A SECRET ATTACHMENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Nothing has ever happened to stir the sluggish blood of aristocratic Yonkers society so much as an event which occurred yesterday afternoon. For nine months past a stylish young fellow named Ernest Schelling had been in the employ of Mr. G. P. Morosini, the millionaire broker and business partner of Mr. Jay Gould. He was apparently faithful and devoted to his master's family. Almost daily, during the fine weather, he would take some of them out for a drive along the shady avenues overlooking the river. During many of these excursions it was observed that he drove Miss Victoria Morosini alone, and that he appeared to pay her many little attentions which testified to his affection for his young mistress. Miss Victoria is about 25 years old, of a romantic disposition. She is of medium height, and has a fair, fresh complexion, with rich wavy blonde hair. Schelling is slim and constructed on a dudsy model. He is a few months younger than Miss Victoria, and is quite tall, with a fair skin and dark hair, rather thin on top. He affects "sideboards" and the delicate down which covers his upper lip he keeps trimmed to the minutest precision. The gossips of the place talked not a little concerning the pair, but none ever dreamed that a quiet drama was being enacted, the denouement of which would startle and throw Mrs. Grundy into exquisite spasms. Last evening there was a condition of affairs bordering on panic at the Morosini mansion. Miss Morosini and the coachman, Schelling, had gone out about 3 p.m. in each other's company, and at dark had not returned. Inquiry was made in the near neighborhood and a search was instituted, but not a trace of the missing pair could be found. It began to dawn upon the Morosini household that the lady and the coachman had eloped.

Communication was immediately had with Chief of Police Mangin of Yonkers. That official telegraphed to Superintendent Walling in this city about 9:10 p.m., as follows: Runaway this p.m., Victoria Morosini, 25, medium height and build, fair complexion, blonde hair, black and white check dress, pink bonnet, plush and white feather, Ernest Schelling, 25, 5 feet 9, slim build, fair complexion, dark brown hair, very small side-whiskers and mustache.

The despatch was signed by Chief Mangin of Yonkers, and when received by Captain Copeland, the Acting Inspector, was sent as a general alarm to all the police stations in the city.

Acting Inspector Copeland said that he would take no action in the matter. The missing couple, he said, were of age and able to take care of themselves.

Mr. Morosini was greatly affected, and said: "I never expected such a misfortune to COME UPON OUR FAMILY.

The coachman had been nine months in my employ, and ten days ago I dismissed him for making love to my daughter. He has hung around the house, and had two interviews with Miss Victoria, one on the river bank and one in the garden, where it is supposed the elopement was arranged. I suppose they have taken the 3 o'clock train to New York."

The Morosini mansion is a mile out of Yonkers, and one of the handsomest in that vicinity of fine residences.

H. Gladden, West Shefford, P.Q., writes: For a number of years I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Two years ago I was attacked very severely. I suffered a great deal of pain, from which I was not free for a day, until last spring, when I began to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and I rejoice to say it cured me, for which I am thankful.

"Blood-fro" is the suggestive name often given to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, because of its blood enriching qualities.

The latest novelty in bouquets was carried by the Princess of Wales at a ball after the races at Goodwood. It was of roses, and in the middle of it was concealed a miniature electric lamp, the light from which could be turned on at will by means of a little switch in the form of a lady's brooch.

Messrs. Mitchell & Platt, druggists, London, Ont., writes, Dec. 1881: We have sold Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil since its first introduction, and we can safely say, no medicine on our shelves has had a larger sale, or gives better satisfaction. We always feel safe in recommending it to our customers.

The Queen of England for herself alone receives every year from the English Government over $3,000,000 for life. The Prince of Wales draws every year $600,000 from the English treasury. The Princess of Wales, for pin money, $50,000, the Duke of Edinburgh $100,000, Princess Louise, Marchioness of Lorne, $80,000; Prince Arthur $192,500, and Prince Leopold about the same sum. Then comes the Duchess of Cambridge $20,000; the Princess of Teck, $30,000, the Duke of Cambridge, $100,000, and any number of others.

The question whether young women shall pursue the same line of studies as their brothers, seems to find its chief objection to their different physical constitution. Arguments on this subject are finely handled on both sides; but the perfect adaptation of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the cure of ailments attending the feminine organism needs no argument; its works are its proof.

THE CHOLERA EPIDEMIC.

HIGH DEATH RATE AT NAPLES—THE KING'S VISIT.

NAPLES, Sept. 10.—Since the beginning of the outbreak there have been 1,100 interments in the cholera section of the city. One of the King's guards was attacked with cholera after visiting the city, and King Humbert, after visiting the Christiania Hospital, He declined the use of disinfectants while making a tour of the wards. The King was accompanied by his brother, the Duke of Aosta, Signor Depretis, minister of the interior, and Mancini, minister of foreign affairs. The town presents a gloomy aspect. Images of saints, with acolytes bearing tapers, have been borne at the head of processions of women through the principal streets, who invoked the help of the Virgin. A large crowd assembled outside the Church of San Gennaro in consequence of a report that the Virgin Mary had descended upon the altar and bestowed her blessings on the people. The doors of the church were closed and the crowd attempted to break them open. Troops arriving, the doors were opened and the multitude rushed in and fell upon their knees in fervent prayer. King Humbert paid a visit to the Conocchia hospital; an immense crowd attended him. Bonfires are kept lighted and disinfectants freely used.

The situation here is growing worse. In the last twenty-four hours ending nine o'clock this evening there were 937 fresh cases and 365 deaths. The ministers have urged the King to leave the city, but he refused. On Thursday he will visit the populous quarters of the city. While visiting the sick to-day the King met the Archbishop, who was upon the same errand of mercy, and an interview interesting and touching occurred. The minister of the interior to-day received a visit from the relief committee and suggested various plans for the relief of the sick. A number of butchers struck work, and it was feared the meat supply would be stopped, but the army contractors at Genoa have undertaken to furnish an ample supply. The panic has extended to the prisons, and the prisoners in the Carmine jail combined to effect their escape. A great uproar ensued, and the military suppressed the outbreak. Experienced nurses from Marseilles are arriving. Students from the military medical school assist the physicians. Signor Magliani has handed over to the relief fund the sum collected and presented as a national gift to him. Several physicians, who refused to attend cholera cases, will be prosecuted. Several mayors have been suspended for not attending to their legal duties regarding the public health.

Consumption is a disease contracted by a neglected cold—how necessary then that we should at once get the best cure for Coughs, Colds, Laryngitis, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, one of the most popular medicines for these complaints is Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. Mr. J. F. Smith, Druggist, Dunville, writes: "It gives general satisfaction and sells splendidly."

A. S. HILL, M.P., ON THE CANADIAN VOYAGERS.

New York, Sept. 9.—A. Stately Hill, the member of Parliament, who recently made a protest against the sending of Canadian boatmen with Lord Wolsey's expedition to relieve Gen. Gordon, arrived to-day from Liverpool on the Cunard steamship Aurania. Mr. Hill is a tall, broad-shouldered gentleman with dark hair and whiskers. He is on his way to his stock ranch in the wilds of British America. Mr. Hill said that in his opinion it would be an outrage to take Canadian boatmen and Indians on the Gordon relief expedition. The men were hardly enough, but they were accustomed to an entirely different class of hardships from those they would meet on the Nile. They were used to vigorous action and diet consisting very largely of meat. They could stand cold and exposure, but when they came to face the deadly climate of the Nile they would find themselves unable to stand it. Mr. Hill said that he expected to be back in London at the fall term of parliament.

PAPAL MESSAGE.

ROME, Sept. 10.—The Pope has prepared an encyclical letter upon doubtful and dangerous political tendencies.
