

The above projects are in accordance with the various development priorities of Senegal and correspond as well to the priorities of the Canadian Government in the aid field, as defined in the Canadian Government strategy for development for the years 1975-1980 and by the Government's policies regarding the new international economic order.

The Senegalese Delegation accompanying Mr. Ousmane Seck was composed of high officials and technical experts from the Office of the Prime Minister of Senegal and from various Senegalese ministries, including those of Planning and Co-operation and of Rural Development. A number of specialized Senegalese organizations, including those having to do with scientific and technical research, tourism and electric power, were also represented in the Senegalese Delegation. The Canadian Delegation was headed by the new Parliamentary Secretary to the Secretary of State for External Affairs, Miss Monique Bégin.
