

He is vice-president and director of Renzy Mines Limited, and secretary and director of Cleveland Twist Drill Carpet (Canada) Limited, Canadian Admiral Corporation Limited, and Canadian Klockner Limited.

Then there is one Denis K. Yorath who is on the board of directors of IAC as well as of the Montreal Trust Company, Dover Industries Limited, Howell Litho and Cartons Limited, Richardson Mernell (Canada) Limited, Wayne Sweeper Manufacturing (Canada) Limited. He is, in addition, governor of the Canadian Council on Social Development.

An hon. Member: That's interesting.

Mr. Rodriguez: Yes, that is very interesting. Then, Mr. Speaker, we have one Harry W. Hays, another Liberal senator. He is a director of the Burritt Travel Service Limited and of The Canada Permanent Trust Company. Then there is Mr. K. H. MacDonald, also on the board of directors of Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation and on the board of directors of IAC.

An hon. Member: They don't talk to each other either.

Mr. Rodriguez: They don't? I guess that means they are on opposite sides of the Chamber. Then, lo and behold, we come to K. H. MacDonald who is also a director of that company and also on the board of directors of IAC. This K. H. MacDonald is the same fellow. He is also a director of the Home Oil Company Limited. Then we have Renault St. Laurent. He is on the board of directors of IAC and Lakeside Cattle Company Limited.

I understand that this chap Harry W. Hays, the Senator, is also a director of Lakeside Cattle Company Limited. Then, somehow or other, and I do not know how this gets in here but I suppose it is quite understandable, we have Senator E. C. Manning—

The Acting Speaker (Mr. McCleave): Order, please. The hon. member for Trinity (Miss Nicholson) rises on a point of order.

Miss Nicholson: Mr. Speaker, would the hon. member accept a question?

Mr. Rodriguez: Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Miss Nicholson: Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the hon. member if he is saying that all private sector activities are intrinsically wrong, or is he going to offer us some kind of definition of the degree of nationalization he wishes?

Mr. Rodriguez: Mr. Speaker, I must thank the hon. member for giving me this opportunity to clarify once again what we are about here. When I started out I said that if we look at Bill S-30 and what it attempts to do, and we look at the people who are behind it, we find an interesting situation in view of the fact that we are dealing with interlocking directorships. That is the purpose of our amendment. No director should be allowed to sit on two boards of directors of banks. I was trying to point out the incestuous relationship—I cannot help but use that word because this conjures up in my mind—

Some hon. Members: Shame, shame!

Continental Bank of Canada

Mr. Rodriguez: Mr. Speaker, I must apologize if I used the wrong word, but I am just a new Canadian and I have difficulty with the language. I am trying to build a word picture for the Canadian people.

Some hon. Members: Oh, oh!

The Acting Speaker (Mr. McCleave): Order, please. I regret having to interrupting the hon. member but his allotted time has expired. I did him extra time in light of certain events that occurred during his speech.

Mr. Rodriguez: Mr. Speaker, do I have the permission of the House to continue?

The Acting Speaker (Mr. McCleave): The hon. member has asked for leave to continue, but there is no unanimous consent.

Mr. Rodriguez: Mr. Speaker, who said no?

Mr. Roy (Timmins): I did. Mr. Speaker, I rise on a point of order. Surely the hon. member—and I should not use the term "honourable"—the member who just spoke should know that with the low level of the debate in this House he lowers every constituent whom he represents. He should be ashamed of his performance. If he cannot flush that big head of his through the toilet, he should not leave this extra mess behind.

Some hon. Members: Shame!

Mr. Rodriguez: Mr. Speaker, I rise on a question of privilege. I think the hon. member for Timmins (Mr. Roy) has been very intemperate. I can understand that the hon. gentleman has become so perturbed because his friends have been unmasked. But surely we should extend the usual courtesies in this House to each other irrespective of the views we put forward.

I have heard members in the House being accused of having been in cahoots to protect the medical profession. We saw that today.

I have had the hon. member for Lethbridge (Mr. Hurlburt) insult me in the House for being a foreigner and a new Canadian.

I would never suggest the hon. member for Timmins is not honourable. I may think all sorts of things about him, but surely this House is a forum for the democratic process and we observe those niceties here. I suppose that is most difficult when your friends are being bored, but surely his words are uncalled for in the House. He should be asked to apologize and withdraw his words because, if that is the system, I could use every kind of word in the House with respect to that gentleman.

The Acting Speaker (Mr. McCleave): I suspect that the language used—

Some hon. Members: Make him withdraw!

The Acting Speaker (Mr. McCleave): A great deal of the language used in the last half hour has been intemperate, and some of it has been provoked. The Chair therefore,
