

Hon. Charles Stewart - 2 -

along kindred lines is so different to what prevails in many countries - even to what prevails in our own. Only the other day I read in the Toronto Globe that the Department of Agriculture (it did not say Provincial or Dominion) were establishing in Kingston, Ont. an institution which had to do with the dairying industry solely because of the available association with Queen's University.

I am not alone in believing that the removal of these Laboratories to the dull, official and routine atmosphere of Ottawa constitutes a retrograde step and one which you should not take. It is a step which is not approved by the Pulp and Paper industry, by the men who have the closest association with the Laboratories, nor by the leaders in research thought and activity in Canada.

Yours faithfully,

Copy to Mr. Marler.

Principal.
