

"The music of the old school-bell stole on the morning breeze,
And children of the long-ago played 'neath the maple trees."