President to Act as World's Judge
German Papers Dislike War Aims of Wilson—Anglo-American Pact.

Amsterdam, Feb. 14.—President Wilson is accused by The Lokal Anzeiger and The Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, as wishing to act as world judge, so that the coming peace, which will be an Anglo-American compact.

"President Wilson's beautifully sounding words cannot make us forget the decisions reached at Versailles," The Tagblatt says.

The Koelnische Volks Zeitung says: "President Wilson may have the chance of bringing about a peace conference if he induces his allies to take a more moderate mood."

The Koelnische Zeitung says: "President Wilson speaks that he is no longer willing to let the line of the entente policy of a stark negative. Also he has considerably watered his words."

The semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung says: "Thus far Mr. Wilson's proposals amount simply to an attempt to compel the world to sign an Anglo-Saxon peace, which would not be lasting, but would represent the triumph of England and the United States."

President Wilson's latest address, Vienna newspapers believe, is calmer in tone than his earlier declarations, and perhaps, may make possible the continuance of the exchange of ideas, but they think the contents of the speech hardly are calculated to bring peace nearer. The Neue Freie Presse considers that he made a mistake in the existing Count Czernin, and insists that Czernin and other ministers have always made clear that any attempt to interfere with Austria-Hungary's international policy would be inadmissible.
