CHARGED WITH GAMBLING

On a charge of gambling, fourteen foreigners were arrested at 232 West Bimont Street last evening, by plainclothesmen Watkinson and McMahon. Steve Holia was charged with keeping. Fifteen cases of "Star" beer and 21 of soft drinks were also unearthed.

The arrest was quite easily made. As one of the inmates stepped out to see if anyone was watching the house, the officers slipped in and immediately took possession, no resistance being made.

ABSCONDER ARRESTED

James Ward was arrested last evening by plainclothesman McConnell on a charge of theft of $67 from the Walker House—about a year ago. When he appeared in court on the charge, he was given one week to produce the money, but immediately took advantage of his freedom to get away.

TOPICAL EPIGRAMS OF REV. T. DAVIES

Discourse on "Campaign for International Goodwill," at Metropolitan.

"A Campaign for International Goodwill" was the subject of Rev. Trevor H. Davies' discourse at the Metropolitan last night, and contained many brilliant epigrams indicative of deep reflection.

Here are some of them:

The world has learned to think in terms of reflection.

A mad nation got loose in a crowded world like a bull in the city.

As you can't touch Brussels without touching Washington, the Monroe Doctrine has become obsolete.

Everything now depends upon the nations thinking together.

Union (of the nations) must be based upon conscience, otherwise it will prove a curse.

The things that have always held the future.

A new age is coming, and its watchwords are union and co-operation.

The twentieth century will be an amazing one.

Nations leap as well as Nature. Christianity is the most powerful ideal in the world.

Today we want a religion to meet a great world.

Christianity does not go to battle, it goes to war.

God wants volunteers; I think He wants everyone here tonight; He can't spare one.

Picture Coming to Allen Is "Greatest Thing in Life"

Homelessness started all the excitement that furnished the story for "The Greatest Thing in Life." D. W. Griffith's superb Aircraft production, which will be shown at the Allen Theatre all next week. It was an old man who suffered from it. Leo Peret. Nostalgia was what the doctor called it. So seriously did it affect Leo Peret that the doctor told his daughter, Jeanette, if he didn't return to his native France he would die.

Where was the money coming from? She didn't know and certainly he didn't. All they had was a small tobacco and news stand. It came one afternoon from the most surprising source, two $500 bills. They never knew just who sent it, only they thanked him again and again in their prayers.

But it was the man who had insulted Jeanette more than any person in her merry young life. One day Edward Livingstone walked up to the counter, bought a package of cigarettes, and said, "I love you. I have loved you for a year. But you are only a simp, fit to marry a simp and become the mother of simpletons."

Livingstone was rich and proud and most selfish. She met him again later, in France, where her father regained his health in the life he loved and had missed so long. He did a valiant thing for France, too.

And Livingstone, after being in the uniform of our soldier boys for a few months, decided she was not to marry after all, unless he be the one.

And he wasn't, for he became a hero and a man's man and the leading character in a story of conquering strength and fascination.

KILLED BY STREET CAR.

Struck by a street car while riding a bicycle on Queen street about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, James Earl Stevenson of 170 Morse street, 17 years old, died almost immediately.

Young Stevenson was riding east near Pape avenue when a street car going in the same direction overtook him. He suffered injuries about the head. Dr. East of Queen street attended, but the lad was beyond medical aid. An inquest into the death will be held this evening.

RANK BOLSHEVISM AT BROADWAY HALL

"Revolutionary Age Has Arrived"—Isaac Bainbridge Left Outside.

NOT FOREIGNERS

Canadian Aliens From Cosmopolis Acclaim Russia as Workman's Friend.

Isaac Bainbridge and two thousand others were last night refused admittance to the mass meeting held at Broadway Hall, Spadina avenue, when Arthur Skidmore of St. Catharines, Alderman Queen of Winnipeg and others were scheduled to speak upon the autocracy of the orders-in-council.

Both Skidmore and Queen being ill they were unable to be present. John MacDonald, patternmaker, presided. Most of the speakers were foreigners who resented this term as applied to them, but who nevertheless emphatically acclaimed the Bolshevik Government in Russia as the true friend of the workman.

One speaker, Harry Bruton, of Hamilton, expressed his emphatic opinion that the revolutionary age had arrived, and that the last of all world wars was now to be fought—the battle of the worker for the worker.

The masses, he said, had long enough fought for others; the hour had come for them to fight for themselves. If they did not fight for themselves in this age of revolution, who would? That intervention in Russia would be an unbearable marking injustice was the purport of most of the addresses. A reporter asked Isaac Bainbridge if the addresses referred to the fight against the Bolsheviks of Russia.

"No," replied Mr. Bainbridge, "not against the Bolsheviks of Russia, but against the Soviet of the Russian republic."

It is understood that as a result of yesterday's meeting of members of the Building Trades League, at the Labor Temple, the question of a week of five work days will be made the subject of a referendum before the 19 bodies comprising the league, and that in time the entire labor movement may be called upon to vote upon this matter.

SCHOOL TEACHERS WILL NOT STRIKE

Compromise Accepted From Separate School Board of Half Demand.

All apprehension of a strike of the separate school lay teachers was dispelled Saturday when the teachers who met at Newman Hall in the afternoon accepted a compromise from the separate school board.

The original demand of the teachers asked for an increase of $100 to the present salary, which is $350 and for an immediate increase of $100 with an additional $50 per year till the maximum had reached $550.

The separate school board had declared that there was not enough money in the treasury to meet the demands, but at Saturday's meeting a compromise was effected, wherein the teacher will receive a yearly increase of $50, an immediate increase of $75, with another $75 next year, while the yearly increase after 1920 will be $50 per year till the maximum of $500 has been reached.

According to J. J. O'Donoghue, who acted for the teachers, the teachers would be on duty today, while it is expected that an additional increase in the new salary will be forthcoming soon.

MORE GAMING CARGES.

Charged with gambling on the Lord's Day, five foreigners were arrested at 1324 Adelaide street west on Sunday morning at 2 o'clock.
