POLICE COURT.

Case of Sailor Who Stabbed Fellow Workman Taken Up This Morning.

The case against John Dolan, one of the firemen of the Allan liner Grampian, who, yesterday, was arrested by Police Sergeant Ross and Patrolman Lee, on a charge of assaulting and threatening to kill Clarence Hannah, who is also one of the Grampian's firemen, was taken up in the police court this morning. The prisoner declared he meant no harm, and after several witnesses had been examined the prisoner was remanded until two o'clock this afternoon, and in the meantime the ship's surgeon tried to arrange with Wm. Thomson & Co. who represent the Allans here, to have Dolan taken to England on another steamer at the same time, as he is not wanted aboard the Grampian.

Clarence Hannah, Thomas Connell and Henry Nowlin were examined and the evidence showed that the prisoner in the course of an altercation with Hannah had drawn a knife and cut him on the arm, and Hannah struck him in self defence. Dolan had told Hannah that he would get him in his bunk some night and cut the heart out of him or else would drop something on him in the stoke hole when the vessel was on her way home. It also developed in the evidence that the prisoner, knife in hand, had jumped at Hannah and when the knife was taken from him, he cried and told what he would do to Hannah, saying "it's not the second engineer, but me you'll have to match."

Dolan said he had nothing to say only that he didn't mean to do any damage. The second engineer of the Grampian stated that Dolan had been quiet in his behaviour until yesterday. His honor informed Dolan that he was liable to a fine of $100. He also pointed out to Dolan that the courts here had no mercy on people who would take a knife and "slip it into a man." This his honor characterized as a cowardly, mean, assassin-like trick.

One of the Grampian's officers declared that should Dolan come aboard again: "some of the men would clear out."

His honor pointed out to Dolan that "all through run" he had gotten himself into a bad position—he was not wanted on board the Grampian and his presence here was by no means desirable.

The case against M. A. Harding, charged with selling liquor in prohibited hours was resumed and after hearing of further testimony adjournment was made until Monday afternoon at two o'clock. In the course of proceedings one of the witnesses fainted on the stand.

James Barrett, Edward Holt, and Ann Nickerson were fined $8 each for drunkenness and David Taylor, George Damery and John Donohue were taxed $4 each or ten days each for similar offences.

Walter McGuire charged with profanity was fined $8 or 30 days in jail. When searched Damery was found to possess four bottles of lager beer and $3.20.

W. H. THORNE WILL NOT RUN

A number of citizens waited on W. H. Thorne yesterday with the request that he would run for mayor, but Mr. Thorne did not desire to become a candidate. Speaking to a Telegraph reporter last evening he said he had not the slightest intention of entering civic politics. He wished to spend his days in peace and quietness and did not feel that he could undertake the duties.
Ald. Frink who had been mentioned as a probable candidate, has announced definitely that he would not be in the field for mayor, but would offer in the approaching campaign for alderman at large. As far as is known there is now no opposition to Ald. Bullock, who some weeks ago announced his intention of being a candidate for the mayoralty. Mayor Sears when asked as to his future intentions said he had not come to any definite conclusion as to what course he would pursue.
