FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

CIVIL WAR IN SPAIN

By Richard Lalor Sheil

From a speech in the English commons, April 18, 1887.

YOU cheer me in mockery, do you? Who are you, that cheer me? Not your leaders—not the men who are placed conspicuously before me. They know, they feel, the impolicy of these rash manifestations. They profess horror at the atrocities of Don Carlos, and deprecate his triumph; but you that cheer me disclose your hearts, and exhibit the wishes by which your political conduct is determined. Cheer on—Exult in the anticipated victories of despotism in Spain, and with your purpose let the people of England be made well acquainted. But, turning from you, I call upon the rest of the house, and to the British people beyond the house, to reflect upon the events which must follow the triumph of Don Carlos.

Do you not know him? Do you stand in need of any illustrations of his character? What was it that befel Spain when the constitution was suppressed in 1823? Do you not think that Don Carlos will improve upon Ferdinand's example, and recollect what model was held out to him? Have we forgotten the massacre at Cadiz? Is Riego's blood effaced from our memories? Do you doubt that the same horrible career of remorseless, relentless vengeance, will be pursued by the marble-hearted despot by whom such horrors have already been perpetrated? With whom, attended with what companionship, encompassed by what councillors, did Don Carlos land in England? Did he not dare to set his foot upon our shores with Moreno, the murderer of Boyd, and Torrijos beside him? But what further evidence of his character and his propensities do we want, than his terrible Durango ordinance?

Have we heard it asked whether it is befitting that in Spain, the theatre of so many of those exploits whose memory will be everlasting, the British flag should be lowered in discomfiture and before mountain peasants British soldiers should give way? I feel the force of that question; but there is another which I venture to put to every man who hears me, and among all those that hear me—above all—to the gallant officer by whom this nation has been made. I invoke the same recollections—I appeal to the same glorious remembrances; and in the name of those scenes of which he was not only a witness, but in which he bore a part, of which he carries the honorable attestation about him, I ask whether it is befitting that in Spain—that in the country whose freedom was achieved by such prodigies of British valor, where so many of your fellow-countrymen fell beside you, and whose honor is in that land consecrated, as it is, in the annals of England's glory, a terrible, remorseless despotism should be established, and that the throne which England saved should be filled by the purple tyrant whose arms have been steeped to the shoulders in the blood of your countrymen—not slain on the field of honorable combat, but when the heat of battle had passed, and its sweat had been wiped away—savagely and deliberately murdered?

Their bones are bleaching on the Pyrenean snows—their blood cries out; and shall we, entrusted as we are by the British people with the honor, and the just vengeance of our country—shall we, instead of flying to arms, facilitate the ascent to the throne of Spain of the guilty man by whom these outrages upon every law, divine and human, have been committed? Never! The people of this country are averse to wanton war; but where the honor of England is at stake, there is no consequence which they are not prepared to meet, and no treaty which they are not ready to lavish—no hazard which they will not be found prompt to encounter.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Budget of News Concerning Stage Favorites Known to St. John Audiences.

St. John theatre-goers will have another opportunity to see Miss May Robson, who made her first appearance here last year, playing in her well-known vehicle, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," as she will appear at the Opera House the latter part of this month. She is now in London, Eng., with same company with whom she appeared here last season, but on which there will come to Halifax, and thence here.

The Producing Managers' Association has taken the case of the stage children, and in the manner adopted has shown the first aggressive action that thus far has been brought to bear upon the industry upon this exceedingly important question.

George Price, a native of this city, is playing in a vaudeville sketch, "1913." He is playing New England time.

Geo. F. Hall, the comedian who will be favorably remembered here for his work in "The Ragged Hero," and "The Gibson Girl," has been playing in a most successful manner in England since last June. He is booked solid until April, when he opens again at the Pavilion, Pleasant Street, in the city of London, with his tour of the Poli Circuit, October 10, at New Haven, Conn.

Miss Olive Oliver and Frank Gilmore have been engaged for the regular New Theatre company, which will begin its season November 7, with a revival of "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

Messrs. Liebler & Co., in conjunction with the Messrs. Shubert, have concluded arrangements whereby Miss Olga Netherly will star under their management for the next two years. She will appear in a repertoire of her familiar plays and in a new play not yet named.

Donald Meek, who has many stage admirers in this city, is going to England to play in the "When Knights Were Bold," at the Castle Square theatre last week.

Arthur Byron has succeeded Richard Bonnett in the role of John Shand, the leading male part in the Maude Adams production of "What Every Woman Knows."

Clara Lipman's engagement in "The Marriage of a Star at the Princess," ended last week, when the company left for New York, where the play is to have a run.

Franklyn Ritchie, a Harkins favorite, here, is playing to distinction in this company.

Harrison Grey Fiske is accompanying Mrs. Fiske on her present tour; Mrs. Fiske at the present time, is rehearsing a new play, in which work she is assisted by her husband.

F. Godfrey Kenney, who left this city some weeks ago, resigning his position in the Royal Bank here to go upon the stage, is playing in her present tour; Mrs. Fiske at the present time, is rehearsing a new play, in which work she is assisted by her husband.

Margaret Anglin's new comedy, in which she will appear under the management of the Liebler firm, is by a woman with the name of plume of George Egerton.

The general manager of the Backsliders and will come to production on Christmas Day.

Here McAuliffe's new friends in this city will be pleased to hear that he is meeting with success in his re-organized stock company, playing in the New England states.

Louise LeBaron, who was a favorite in grand opera here a few years ago, is still with the Alton English Opera Co. They have been playing Upper Canadian time, and she has been making her usual fine impression.

WEDDINGS

McGuire-Cox
Yesterday afternoon in St. John the Baptist church, Rev. Father Holland united in marriage Miss Hattie Cox and Stanley McGuire. The groom was supported by W. J. O'Rourke and Miss Sophia Cox was bridesmaid.

Bell-Barber
A very pretty wedding took place at Federation, yesterday afternoon, when George E. Bell was united in marriage to Miss Beatrice Barber, of Birmingham, England. Rev. Mr. Dibble, of Fowler, California, performed the ceremony.

Buckler-Edwards
Annapolis was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday when Miss Jeanette Treu Edwards became the bride of Thomas Harrington Buckler of Middleton. Miss Elsie Gardner, of Malden (Mass.), attended the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Howe, of the Anglican church.

3,000 YEARS AGO

THE EGYPTIANS

Cured Disease with Fruit—Today, Canadians are Doing It with "Fruit-a-tives," the Famous Fruit Medicine.

We are apt to consider the age we live in as the most wonderful age that the world has ever known. It is in many respects. Yet our ancient forefathers in some things surpassed us. Our story-books and legends tell us of the Egyptian physicians of 3,000 years ago, who used fruit juices as a medicine for blood, liver, kidney, and stomach disease, and stomach weakness. Their method of mixing fruit juices as a medicine, is also one of the best arts of a well-known Canadian physician, however, perfected a method of utilizing fruit juices, which is one of the greatest discoveries of modern medical research.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the natural cure for Chorea, St. Vitus' Dance, Rheumatism, Torpid Liver, Kidney Disease, Pain in the Back, Bad Complexion, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Headache and Neuralgia.

gubruad Man," that big musical comedy will be seen here in the near future.

Mary Manning, who underwent an operation for appendicitis recently, is improving rapidly and her physicians believe she will be ready to take up active work again within the next two weeks. Proceeding upon this assumption the Messrs. Shubert are arranging for Miss Manning's tour in "A Man's World" to be on October 20th.

Eliel L. Andrews, a niece of Robert B. Mantell, died in New York last week. She did clever work with Mantell, Virginia Freeman, Wm. Gillette, and other stage favorites.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," had its first presentation this week in New York at the Republic Theatre. A large audience, including Kate Douglas Wiggin, one of the authors of the play and young "Rebecca" herself, witnessed the premiere. Miss Edith Talinger has the title role, which she played in the original production. The play is a story of a young girl who is sent to live in a remote spot in the mountains of the Metropolitan Opera Company. It is a story of a young girl who is sent to live in a remote spot in the mountains of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The amount of the subscriptions for these boxes is $100,000. In addition to this there is about $60,000 from subscriptions for seats.

Pauline Chase, who is Mary Gibbs, in Charles Frohman's musical comedy production "Our Miss Gibbs," last week varied the monotony of the play and sang ascending in an aeroplane and taking a forty-five minute flight with Graham Williams, the English aviator now visiting America.

"The Merry Widow," with the company which played it in Philadelphia on Saturday night. They will make a tour of the larger cities of the States and Canada. The company includes Fred Frear, and the others who played here are still in the cast.

In spite of her sixty-six years, Sarah Bernhardt is busier than ever. Almost two weeks ago she made her first appearance in vaudeville at the Coliseum, in New York City, in a play called "The London Papers," surprised at her youthful appearance, clear, sweet voice, and still full mind, commencing that Madame Bernhardt must surely have found the secret of youth. Immediately at the close of her London engagement she will hurry back to Paris to prepare for her next farewell tour of America. Arriving in New York she will go directly to the Studenbaker Theatre in Chicago, and will not appear in New York until December 5, when her opening bill at the New Amoy Theatre will be "The Man from Home," with Wm. Hodge in the title role, and she will also be acting as stage manager.

Wynona Winter is scoring one of the greatest hits of her career with Sam Bernard in "He Came From Milwaukee," at the Casino. Miss Winter has certainly proved to the entire satisfaction of everybody who has seen her in this new Broadway hit that she is as great a success in comic opera as she formerly was in vaudeville.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indicated. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely passes from bad to worse.

It has been the privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in the FREE consultation by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, relieves the most distressing pains and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-stimulating medicine or known correctives.

English will continue for some time in "The Man of the Hour," playing central time.

The matrimonial troubles of Miss Virginia Harard and her husband, Edward H. Sothers, will be watched with interest here, as both are well known in St. John. Miss Harard is a native of Boston. She has filed her second act for divorce against him. Mrs. Sothers is a native of Boston.

Leah Stodard, who will be remembered as having headed her own stock company in this city a few years ago, is playing in upper Canada in "My Wife's Family."

Henry Bataille, who plays "The Scandal," Charles Frohman has just produced the executive heads of the Chicago wing of the Metropolitan Opera Company. It is a story of a young girl who is sent to live in a remote spot in the mountains of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Miss Gertrude Elliott (Mrs. Forbes-Robertson) made her first American appearance as a star in her own right in Albany, N. Y., last week, when she was seen as Glad in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow."

Arthur Cogliner, who started the season with Clara Lipman, in "The Marriage of a Star," has returned to the Weber Co. playing "The Climax," in which he was so successful here. Miss Florence Webber and Chester Barnett, who were much admired here, are again with the cast, while the other member, Walter Liebman, 19, Marie Cahill's engagement in New York opened successfully on Monday last at the Broadway Theatre. Judy Fogart is the striking title of the musical comedy.

Paul Gilmore will appear in the near future in an original production of the Shuberts, "The Bachelor." He will play this city in his tour. This is a change in his plans, as he was slated for the title role in a road company with "The Lottery Man."

Within a month Williameta Bloom, the chic little Parisienne, who for the past three years has been in retirement, will return to the stage. The major portion of the three years she gave up to the study of voice culture.

Pauline, who made a big hit here as a bymist, is once again at peace with Wm. Morris, and is receiving from him a salary of $2,000 a week. He is playing at the American Music Hall, New York.

The title finally selected for the drama in which Mme. Bertha Kalich is to star this season is "The Business Woman."

Edith Ellis' new character comedy, "He Fell in Love with His Wife," based on E. P. Roe's story of the same name, will be produced for the first time on any stage at the Court Square Theatre, Springfield, Mass., on Monday evening, Nov. 7. Miss Ellis is a sister of Edward Ellis, who has many stage admirers here.

Harry C. Browne, a member of Daniel Ryan's Co., when here, is meeting with big success and much praise in his work in support of Lillian Russell, in the piece, "In Search of a Simmer." He is playing the leading male role.

Charles Frohman received cable advice this week that Sir John Hare, the English actor, had consented to come to this country this season. He will bring his own company. This will be the actor's first appearance in this country in ten years.
