Lad Treated Twelve Days Ago Shows Much Improvement.

THIRTY-FIVE PATIENTS TREATED YESTERDAY

Pathetic Scenes at New York Hospital—Throgs Beseech Berlin Physician to Aid Them, but Restrictions Prevent it.

New York, March 20.—In the presence of scores of physicians gathered from all parts of the country, many of them representing city health boards, Dr. F. F. Friedmann treated thirty-five patients with his tuberculosis vaccine today. Twenty-nine of the sufferers were deformed babies. Before holding his demonstrations the Berlin specialist issued a statement advising that no persons not to come to New York with the hope of being treated until after the government had passed on his vaccine at the conclusion of its inquiry.

At the doors of the hospital for deformities and joint diseases Dr. Friedmann was met by a throng of sufferers who implored him to take them with him in out of the rain and administer his treatment. The patients he attended, however, were ones already selected, awaiting his arrival at the hospital and he had to force his way gently through disappointed men and women. A mother with a child sank to her knees, holding the baby toward the physician in outstretched arms.

Evidence of Cure's Worth.

During the clinic a 17-year-old boy walked into the operating room; he was a patient treated with the vaccine twelve days ago.

"Look at my leg," he said to Dr. Friedmann, baring his knee. "When you injected your vaccine I could hardly move, the leg was so swollen. Now I know that I will get well."

The boy went through exercises to show the suppleness of his legs and then submitted to examination by the gathered physicians.

The disease of the bones were treated today. Tomorrow Dr. Friedmann will hold a clinic at Bellevue Hospital, treating pulmonary cases. Dr. Friedmann has requested government physicians who attended the clinic today to place Dr. Arthur Atkinson, a Wisconsin physician on the list of patients to be treated at Bellevue. Dr. Atkinson, suffering with pulmonary tuberculosis, came east to urge Dr. Friedmann to treat him.

MAYOR GAYNOR WAS WARNED REGARDING LIEUTENANT BECKER

Letters Containing Charges Against Police Officer Charged with Rosenthal Murder were Given to Becker Himself to Investigate.

New York, March 20.—Letters were read today before the aldermanic committee investigating police graft showing that Mayor Gaynor and Police Commissioner Waldo were warned against the character of Police Lieut. Charles Becker as far back as August, 1911. John F. Lynch, brother-in-law of Becker, who is now in the death house at Sing Sing for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, bitterly denounced the former police officer in a letter to the mayor. The letter was referred to Commissioner Waldo who told the mayor that "this seems to be a family row," and "Becker is doing excellent work."

"One of my sisters is, unfortunately, his wife and works for him, in teaching school," Lynch wrote of Becker, "and he, herolike, takes her money. She being away, he asked another of my sisters to come to his house yesterday, to cook, but immediately attempted to assault her. She successfully resisted him, threatening to cut him with a carving knife, whereupon he got his revolver and shouted that he would shoot her."

"By yelling 'murder,' she was able to get out. He threatened her with a razor and said he would get one of his squad to catch her on the street some night and lock her up for soliciting. She came home crying and with her waist torn."

HARVARD'S FAMOUS HEAD FOR LONDON

President Wilson Names Prof. Charles W. Elliott as U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain—Other Appointments.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Chas. Elliott, president emeritus of Harvard University, has been decided upon by President Wilson for ambassador to Great Britain. Close friends of the president tonight telegraphed Mr. Elliott congratulating and urging him to accept.

George W. Guthrie, Democratic state chairman of Pennsylvania and former mayor of Pittsburgh, has been selected to be ambassador to Mexico.

This information came from intimate friends of President Wilson tonight. From the same source it was learned that Justice James W. Gerard, of New York, was a likely choice for ambassador to Italy and that Wm. Church Osborne, of New York; Augustus Thomas, the playwright and possibly Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia would be ambassadors to European courts.

No one has been decided upon for ambassador to Japan. Frederick C. Penfield, of Germantown, Pa.; Seth Low, former mayor of New York; and Joseph E. Willard, are under consideration for prominent places in the diplomatic service. John E. Moit, of N. Y. C., a leader has been offered the post of minister to China and though he has declined, he is being strongly urged to reconsider.

WIDOW OF U. S. ADMIRAL IS ARRESTED FOR HIS MURDER

Mrs. Jennie Eaton Now in Jail in Plymouth.

HUSBAND'S DEATH DUE TO ARSENIC

Deceased Naval Officer Had Distinguished Career, but Home Life was Not Happy.

Plymouth, Mass., March 20.—Mrs. Jennie Eaton, was locked up in the county jail here late today pending a hearing of the charge that she murdered her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, by poisoning.

REAR ADMIRAL JOSEPH G. EATON

The widow was brought here from Hingham, where she was arraigned following her arrest earlier in the day. Through counsel she pleaded guilty and was held without bonds for examination on March 28.

It was intimated tonight that Mrs. Eaton might not be brought to trial and the possible appointment of a commission to pass upon the prisoner's sanity was suggested.

District Attorney Barker went to Boston this afternoon and had a conference with Chief Justice Alken, of the Superior Court. It was thought it might be in connection with the selection of a special grand jury to consider the case.

When Mrs. Eaton, who is a stout woman, 45 years of age, entered the jail, she had been weeping, but generally maintained the composure that had characterized her bearing from the first.

Her husband had died in his bed at their home in Norwood. His death was unexpected and due, the other members of the family say, to an attack of indigestion which followed a too-heavy meal of roast pork.

According to a statement by District Attorney Barker today, evidence of arsenical poisoning was discovered by Prof. William Whitney, who analyzed the contents of the stomach.

For ten days the admiral died of arsenical poisoning and their efforts have been directed to finding where and by whom the poison was obtained and to laying bare the home life of the Eaton family.

In the first quest they have not been successful, the district attorney said, along the second line of inquiry a wealth of evidence has been furnished by friends of the family and neighbors. The picture was not an altogether pleasant one. The admiral and his wife, who was twenty years his junior, did not always agree, it was said, regarding those who should be received at their home.

Both had been married before. The admiral's body was buried beside that of his first wife. From his graduation at Annapolis until his retirement with the rank of rear admiral, in 1905, the life of the naval officer was filled with honors and he acquired a fortune.

Soon after his retirement he met Mrs. Jennie May Ainsworth, the daughter of George Harrison, of Alexandria, Virginia. Mrs. Ainsworth let her divorced husband, D. H. Ainsworth, an employe of the senate at Washington, and she and the admiral were married in 1907.

FISHERMEN WERE 'PRISONED' BY ICE IN LAKE MICHIGAN

Grand Haven, Mich., March 20.—Nineteen fishermen after suffering all the terrors that hunger, cold and the menace of the ice crags of Lake Michigan could bring upon them, reached port here today in the fish tugs Anna, Dorn Bos, and Bos. They had been fast in the ice for three days and three nights until rescued late yesterday by Pere Marquette Car Ferry No. 18. The boats left Grand Haven at dawn Monday.

"The ice closed in on us when we were two and a half miles out of Grand Haven," said Capt. William Fisher of the Anna. "The ice was so close we tried to break through but it was no use. A gale came up and started ed the huge cakes running at crushing speed, and finally the Anna was lifted clear of the water and thrown up on the great ice fields. Her steering gear had been smashed and a steam pipe was cracked. When the steam shut out of the boilers and filled the cabin the men were driven out on the ice.

"We thought we were gone that trip, but repairs were made just in time and the ice opened and splashed the Anna back in the water. Early Tuesday we ran out of food and tobacco. On Wednesday the Dorn Bos broke her shaft-bucking the ice. That night, however, the car ferry came along and supplied us with provisions. The men were mighty hungry."

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS VERDICT OF JURY IN DYNAMITE CASE

Italians Killed in Explosion on Valley Railway were Young Men—Put Dynamite in Hot Can.

Woodstock, Mar. 20.—The inquest on the remains of Angelo Spascoli and Romeo Ronald, who were killed on the Scott and Kelly contract, Wednesday afternoon, was held in the council chamber tonight before Coroner Lindsay. The jury selected were John A. Thornton, Wallace Gibson, Wm. Balmain, Arthur Burpee, H. D. Stevens, James Carr and H. M. Woodford.

The principal witness was Geo. Hill, man, engineer of the steam shovel, who when sworn said that he knew the deceased men. They were at work yesterday on the railway cut, when they were using dynamite. He was about 35 yards away from the men when the explosion took place. The bodies were blown some distance. The remains examined by the jury were the men who were blown up.

He supposed that they were getting hung iron bars to drive through the frozen earth. They might have left the water in the can and it got heated and when the dynamite was thrown in the can it exploded or it may have been exploded by sparks from the fire. The explosion took place at 3:45 p. m.

They were young men about 25

FRENCH MINISTER OF JUSTICE REQUESTED TO FORM A CABINET

Jean Beuthon Asked by President Poincare to Take Premier Briand's Place—He is Considering.

Paris, March 20.—Jean Berthou, Minister of Justice in the Briand cabinet which recently resigned, will give a definite answer tomorrow to the request of President Poincare that he form a new cabinet. He will consult with his friends regarding his decision, but it is considered practically certain that he will accept the task.

M. Berthou said tonight that in the event of his acceptance, the two cardinal principles in his program would be proportional representation and three years service in the army. His first endeavor, he added, would be to try to induce the Senatorial commission by the principle of representation which could be arranged later in a spirit of conciliation. He hoped in this way to end the deadlock between the two houses of parliament.

ASSASSIN OF GREEK KING KNOWN TO BE AN ANARCHIST

Writer in Greek Newspaper Declares that Though Aleco Schinas had Anarchistic Tendencies he was not Usually Violent.

New York, N. Y., March 20.—The Greek newspaper, the Atlantis, will publish tomorrow a letter from a Greek in this city, which the editors of the assassination of King George.

The letter is written by Basil Batzoullis, who claims personal acquaintance with Schinas, and says the man was an anarchist, but never entered politics and was not a candidate for election to the Boule or grand chamber of deputies, as reported.

Contemplating Action to Stop Fight at Scutari.

ALLIES LIKELY TO OFFER RESISTANCE

Part of Austria's Fleet Already on Montenegrin Coast Looking for Satisfaction for Alleged Hostile Actions.

London, March 20.—Austria, possibly with the assistance of Italy, is contemplating isolated action to stop the bombardment of Scutari, which, it is now alleged, is being directed against the town instead of the fortress, and finally enforcing the powers' decision that Albania shall be autonomous state and that Scutari shall remain a part of it.

Of course Montenegro and Serbia will first be given the opportunity to withdraw from the task of subverting the town which even after its capture, if that occurs, must, according to the powers, be given up by the allies.

Part of the Austrian fleet has already left for the Montenegrin and Albanian coasts and while it is officialy announced that the object of the warships is to carry out manoeuvres, it is apparent that their presence is designed to impress Montenegro and Serbia with the determination of Austria to prevent the further commencing of the civilian section of Scutari and to obtain satisfaction for the alleged forcible conversion of Catholicism and interference with the Austrian steamer Skodra.

The Montenegrin speaking in London, M. Popovitch, describes as untrue or trivial the incidents for which Austria is demanding satisfaction. But whatever truth or importance they have, the bitterest feeling on the part of Austria has been aroused and the press and public of Austria-Hungary are demanding action.

Stories of Alleged Outrage

According to despatches received by the Vienna papers, 400 Albanian Catholics at Djakova, weeping and wailing, were forced to join the orthodox church, the soldiers ordering them to choose between orthodoxy and death. At six other villages the residents were similarly converted.

Various accounts are printed of the death of a Catholic priest named Pale, but all agree that he refused to renounce his faith and was beaten to death.

The Austrian official account says that the Montenegrins are trying to destroy the town of Scutari and that shells, instead of being aimed at the fortress are directed against the town where the citizens are in a state of panic, some of them taking refuge in the cathedral.

It is held that the Austrian squadron will prevent the Serbian reinforcements, which left Saloniki aboard six transports yesterday morning, from landing on the Albanian coast. These troops have been despatched to the assistance of the besieging forces around Scutari on page 2.

The Schinas Anarchist. "It was George Schinas who was candidate for the Boule. The latter is a native of Arcangelis. I know him quite well. Aleco Schinas had nothing to do with any school and had no idea of entering politics. He was known as a man who loved isolation and his backgammon. He wore a beard and was an anarchist. He was no more than 25 years old, short in stature and slightly hump backed."

Solon J. Vlasto, editor of Atlantis, said the many conflicting stories that had arisen in this country concerning the assassin's identity arose from the fact that Schinas was a common surname in Greece, and it was quite probable that there was more than one Aleco Schinas.

"Information that I have received from other Greeks who have lived in Volo and from our cable despatches leads me to believe that the information by Batzoullis is correct," said Mr. Vlasto.
