PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS FOR NEW BRIDGE AT FREDERICTON

R. W. Wigmore, M. P. Brings Good News from Ottawa—C. N. R. Will Call for Tenders for New Bridge Next Spring—Planning for Big Traffic by Way of Valley Railway—The Harbor Situation.

"The Canadian National Railway authorities have already had plans and specifications prepared for a new bridge at Fredericton, and are considering plans for the development of a big winter traffic through St. John," said R. W. Wigmore, M. P., who returned to the city on Saturday. "I had a talk with the National Railway authorities the other day," added Mr. Wigmore, "and they told me they were planning for a big traffic by way of the Valley Railway. They propose to call for tenders for the construction of a new railway bridge near Fredericton next spring, and they will be prepared to go ahead with their plans for St. John when the city decides to turn the harbor over to the government. The agreement with the C. P. R. to run trains from Westfield to St. John was made for one year, after which it is proposed to effect a new arrangement. If the government takes over the harbor the commission will take over all shunting as was done at Montreal, and probably undertake to handle all traffic except passengers, this side of Westfield. This is a proposal that ought to interest St. John people, for it is well known that the C. P. R. shunting charges are very high, especially for moving traffic across the bridge at the Booming Falls.

At the regular monthly meeting of the N. B. Life Underwriters Association held at Bond's on Saturday at noon Robert G. Robillard in a neat speech and although taken by surprise Mr. Cruikshank made a suitable reply. The writing case is a very fine one and bears Mr. Cruikshank's initials. During the year while Mr. Cruikshank was secretary the association has grown from thirty members to seventy-five and it was felt by the underwriters that much of the credit was due to the efforts of the secretary. Mr. Cruikshank was recently made vice-president for New Brunswick of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada. Saturday's meeting was well attended and an instructive and timely address delivered by J. Fraser Gregory on Industrial Unrest. Mr. Gregory speaking particularly from the view point of the lumber merchants.

The Battlement Of Prohibition

Able Address Given Before Main Street Baptist Congregation Last Evening on Prohibition as a National Safeguard—Dr. D. Hutchinson the Preacher.

"Prohibition a National Safeguard," was the title of a fine sermon preached by Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson last evening before a large congregation at the Main street Baptist church. "The text was taken from Deut. 22-8. 'When thou buidest a new house thou shalt make a battlement for the roof that thou bring not blood upon this house, if any man shall offend thence.' The preacher introduced the subject by saying that Divine provision had been made that in building a new house a battlement should be built all round the roof for the protection of human life. He showed how in the Palestinian houses guests were received, and visitors entertained upon the roof. It was a great part of their lives. "This young and progressive country," Dr. Hutchinson went on to say, "has engaged in the work of house-building by legislation, by education, by trade and commerce, by all these things we are building a nation. In building a nation, as in building a house, the question to consider is whether we shall build it with battlements or not. Ought we, as a rapidly growing nation, make it hard or easy for men to do wrong, to expose them to the temptation which necessarily follows the legalizing of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor? For one, I am decidedly in favor of building the house with a battlement all the way round it. If we do not we are not blood guilty? Can we, as a people, legalize the manufacture and sale of liquor and then claim that we are not responsible for the crime, misery, and suffering that traffic in liquor traffic is to build it without a battlement. Surely God speaks to us as He did to Israel when He says: 'Thou shalt make a battlement about thine house.' And the battlement which we ought to build is the total prohibition of the liquor traffic. "We must educate, educate and educate until the accused business is driven out of existence. It has been questioned if we are reasonable in this as we are not opposed to the grocery or other regular business, is the opposition to the liquor traffic the outcome of unwarranted prejudice, or is it justifiable? We claim that the antagonism against the liquor traffic is well founded for the following reasons: It is the enemy of the Christian church, of all legitimate trade and commerce; it is the cause of vice, crime, poverty, misery and death; it is an debauching and brutalizing effect upon all who have traffic to do with it as producer, seller or consumer. "The various points were well illustrated and enforced, and Dr. Hutchinson did not hesitate to say that men who violated the law whether by importing liquor from Montreal or by acting as bootleggers and distributors ought not to be given the option of a fine but should be kept in prison or the penitentiary till they had learned their lesson or had given a solemn pledge not to repeat the offence.

Orange Order Attend Service

Fairville Members Accompanied by Prentice Boys Yesterday Afternoon Heard Interesting Sermon Preached by Rev. A. S. Bishop in Baptist Church.

Availing themselves of the last opportunity before the historic Day of the Fairville members of the Orange Order, headed by the life and drum band, and accompanied by the Prentice boys, marched yesterday afternoon from their hall to the Fairville Baptist church where Rev. A. S. Bishop preached a most interesting sermon. The speaker first outlined the principles of the organization and the situation under which it was created. He told of the defence of Derry and the sacrifices made by the Orangemen in the early days of the order. An appeal was made to the congregation to make good the sacrifices of the olden times by aiding in the up-building of the community. In this respect, he pointed out the need of supporting the financial appeal that is being made on behalf of the Protestant Orphan Home, urging the loyal members to do all in their power to make the work a glowing success. After the service, which was largely attended, the members re-formed and marched by way of Prospect and Main streets back to the lodge room.
