DUNN NOT WORRYING

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 18.—With virtually his entire team signed up, the same players who won the championship of the International League, the last two seasons and the Inter-League with St. Paul American Association this fall, Jack Dunn, manager of the Baltimore Club, is not worrying about next year's baseball problems.

His team very probably will train at Goldsboro, N. C. next spring, it was understood today. If some improvement he desires in the club are made.

Harvard and Yale
Squads Are Ready

Big College Football Teams Will Battle at New Haven on Saturday.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 18.—The Harvard student body, hundreds strong, saw their varsity eleven in action today in the stadium in the last practice before the team leaves for New Haven, where the game with Yale will be played Saturday. The fences that have made practice secret all season were down for the occasion, and the undergraduates, behind their band, cheered long and loudly for the team, its coaches and players.

The line-up of the Crimson, as it will oppose Yale on the kick-off, was virtually settled today. Coach Fisher said only one position was in doubt, left tackle, where Sedgewick and Foxon are in competition for the honor.

"Tom" Woods, the husky guard, is recovered and will play. The probable line-up is:

Fitzgerald, the Crimson's triple threat of combined running, kicking and forward passing ability, is to be held in reserve for an opportune moment.

The Yale Squad
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—The Yale squad this afternoon had its final scrimmage before the Harvard game. The work for the Blue tomorrow will consist of a twenty minute signal drill, after which the Harvard squad will be given the use of the bowl for practice.

The probable line-up for the Harvard battle, as announced tonight, indicates that only six of the players that started the game against Princeton last Saturday will face the Crimson at kick-off.

WHITE SOX GETS TWO
Chicago, Nov. 18.—Secretary Harry Grabner, of the Chicago American Baseball League Club, today announced the signing of two players. One of them is Johnny Mark, an outfielder, who was with the White Sox spring camp for the past few seasons. He played with the Milwaukee American Association team the past two seasons. Baseball Schedule
May Be Lengthened

New York, Nov. 18.—When the major baseball leagues hold their annual meetings in February they will consider a proposition to lengthen each team's schedule to 163 games instead of 164, as heretofore, it was feared today.

Proponents of the plan argued that since many of the teams are allowed to play on Sunday on their home grounds, the season would not be unduly lengthened by the proposed change.

SAN MAY BE LIFTED
New York, Nov. 18.—The question of lifting the ban on heavy-weight boxing bouts here was before the meeting of the State Boxing Commission and License Committee today. Holding of the forthcoming championship match between Dempsey and Carpentier in or near New York was said to hinge on the outcome of today's discussion.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Man o' War, the great race horse will not become a public stallion, as was recently announced by his owner, but will be turned over to Walter M. Jeffries who will breed him only to his own mares. This announcement today caused disappointment to many well-known breeders.

English Clergy On Sunday Games

Return to the Sunday Games That Made England "Merrie" Advocated at Congress

(London Daily Mail & Gros Atlantic)
South-east Essex, England, Nov. 18.—A return to the Sunday games that made England "merrie" was advocated at the church congress here. The Bishop of Sheffield spoke on the Christian ethics of amusement. There has been, he said, a great change with regard to the theatre, dancing, cards, billiards and the cinema. He believed the cinema to be one of the highest forms of recreation. No self-respecting person would frequent some dances, he said, but that there was more ugliness than wickedness in some of the fantastic dances so popular after the war. He believed, however, that these were gradually disappearing, except among the inherently vulgar. The Christian who was a kill-joy was a caricature of Christianity, he said.

The Rev. Canon J. H. Adderley told how the Basque, Bay of Biscay, people danced the fandango on Sunday evening, and said: "I should like to see that at Convent Garden but I shall have to wait for a 'blue moon' before it is done. I should like to see the cowly fathers go to the theatre and see the Archbishop of Canterbury organising and playing in a cricket match at Lambeth."

Canon Pierce, Vicar and Rural Dean of Brighton, said he saw nothing incongruous in men, women and children going straight from church to the recreation ground or proceeding from a round of golf to hymn-sung. The church had no quarrel with Sunday games; but was it not possible to ask the nation seriously whether we were the Sunday to disappear in an orgy of lories and motor coaches. The scenes on Sunday on the roads from London to certain south coast holiday resorts were sometimes deplorable, he said.

Miss Sybil Thorncliffe, the actress, received a great reception. She pleaded for a better understanding of the stage by the church. "How few there are in this worldly world," she said, "who have told the truth to a clergyman."

"What we ask the church to support is that the theatres should be in the hands of artists, that it should be free to present all aspects of life as the artist sincerely sees them. We want a theatre which speaks the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

The Rev. Dr. Percy Dearmer, speaking on Sunday amusements, said: "Every man should have at least one day and a half for rest out of the week. Rest is the foundation of a man's accustomed labor. But it does not mean merely an animal inactivity. Rest is not only repose but also recreation."

He urged outdoor games including cricket, which he described as the latest game on earth. They should be organized by the church, he said. "Every man should have at least one day and a half for rest out of the week. Rest is the foundation of a man's accustomed labor. But it does not mean merely an animal inactivity. Rest is not only repose but also recreation."

The Rev. G. H. Dymock, organizing secretary of the church pictorial movement, read a paper upon the Church and the Cinema. "The screen," he said, "is now, and will rapidly become more so, the working-man's book, and just as fiction and Tyndale gave the printing press and the Bible to the masses of their day, so it will fall to the lot of the film exhibitor to provide the toilers of our more strenuous times with treasures of ancient and modern literature."

THE PACE THAT KILLS
Spencer Spurr was the keeper of a livery stable. He would never allow a horse out of his sight without giving strict instructions to the hired not to ride fast.

One day a caller asked for a horse to attend a funeral.

"Certainly," said Spencer Spurr. Spurr, and then, forgetting the solemn purpose for which his customer wanted the horse, he added, as was his wont: "Don't ride fast."

"Look here, old man," was the reply from his customer. "I would like you to understand that I shall keep up with the procession even if it kills the horse!"

Answers.

QUITE CUTTING.

The little girl had committed some grave offense, and was duly punished by her mother.

When bedtime came the child said her prayer, and referred to everyone she knew except her mother. After this there was a time, and then the child said: "I hope you're dead, mother, that you won't ever mention me."

"No one ever comes into my house without hearing me talk about Tanic. It has been one of the greatest blessings of my life," declared Mrs. George A. Dunham, a life-long resident of St. John, N. B., who lives at Lombard Street.

"For sixteen years I have suffered from indigestion and during the last five years have been getting worse rapidly. I kept on giving things I could not digest until I was hardly anything left I could eat. It was growing weaker and weaker and at last I couldn't stand it. All the time there was a bloated, distressing feeling in my stomach."

Paris, Nov. 18.—The departure of the French plenipotentiaries from Geneva, which took place last night, was a significant event in the history of the League of Nations. The French plenipotentiaries, headed by Leon Bourgeois, had been in Geneva for several days, attending the opening of the assembly of the League of Nations, which was held on November 15.
