THE EMINIBELLY TELEGRAPHIS ENLOWING PATFEBRUARY SELECTION OF

LIBERALS WILL VOTE FOR THESE MEN ON SATURDAY NE

THE STANDARD BEARERS OF THE PARTY.

Pictures and brief sketches of the four Liberal candidates in St. John city are given here and will no doubt be of interest to The Telegraphs' readers. Saturday these four gentlemen, Messrs. McKeown, Robertson, Purdy and Lantalum, were nominated as representatives of the Liberal party in St. John in the provincial con-

Hone H. A. McKeown, M. P. P.

Hon. Harrison A. McKeown, member of the government and one of the Liberal candidates for St. John city at the election to be held on the 28th inst., is a well known barrister of this city. Born at St. Stephen (N. B.), on November 28th, 1863, Mr. McKeown received his education at the Collegiate School of Fredericton and at Mount Allison University, from which he graduated a Bachelor of Arts in 1881. He was admitted as an attorney in the supreme court in 1884, since which time he has been actively engaged in the practice of law in this city. He is a graduate in law from Victoria University, having taken his degree in that institution in 1884.

cabinet in what was then the Emmerson edininistration. He is perhaps, one of the most brilliant platform speakers today in New Brunswick, and this combined with a genial manner, first rate ability and per-sonal magnetism tends to make Mr. Mc-Keown one of the coming men of the province in political circles. There is perhaps no man in St. John more personally popuon the 28th is confidently looked f.r.

Mr. Purdy's business career has been marked by native shrewdness and sound business judgment to which is added a strict sense of dronesty and integrity. It is not too much to say there is perhaps no man in St. John who stands higher with all classes in the community than does Mr. Purdy. He has been noted for his local patriotism, which is evidenced by the fact that he has freely invested the wealth at his command in the industries tocated at St. John, and by that means has done his part towards providing work for the laboring people.

While Mr. Purdy is a Liberal in politics he is a man who has never allowed party loyalty to blind him to the best interests of the city which he has represented in the local legislature for the past fou marked by a strict independence and in He is a member of the Baptist church.

Edward Lantalum is so well known to the people of St. John and to the shipping man in particular that although he has never before offered as a political candidate, yet his prominence in the business.

He is perhaps one of the best informed men in the city regarding matters pertain ing to the shipping interests and is recognized as a level-theaded business man and one whose judgment can be safely relied upon. In religion Mr. Lantalum is a Quitholic.

TORY OPPOSITION CANDIDATES.

The morning after the Tory opposition nominated its candidates at a troubled meeting in the York Theatre last September, The Telegraph printed the following sketch of the Tory standard bearers build will be of considerable interest to the electors at this time:

w. Frank Hatheway has been more or less in the public eye, not by reason of his taking an active part in political life, but by reason of the peculiar notions which he has advanced from time to time.

Some years ago, when the Conservative government were treating & John to Portland (Me.), Mr. Hatheway acquired some notoriety by seriously opposing that the citizens of St. John should tear up that portion of the Intercolonial between St. John and Coldbrook, so as to prevent the trains running into the city as an evidence of the disapproval by our people of the action of the Tory government.

An Eye to the Main Chance.

Subsequently Mr. Hatheway became greatly impressed with the likelihood of St. John becoming the Winter Port of Canada, and he took tume by the forelock by acquiring a wharf property in Carleton, which he purchased for a few hundred dellare.

When the city wanted this property for the improvements at Sand Point Mr. Hatheway's views as to the great future of St. John were so hopeful that he made upwards of $60,000 for the property. The fact that the arbitrators only awarded him about one-tenth of the am did not dampen his arder or lessen his regard for the interests of the people, for in 1896, Mr. Hathaway was one of the leaders of the independent movement and was chairman of the independent organization.

At that time he was prepared to unite with other good citizens in smarking the Conservative party, but in 1900 his love for the Tories was revived and he took the platform against Mr. Blair, when that gentleman was making such a manily.

struggle in the interests of St. John.

The forgiving nature of Mr. Hatheway's disposition was then so apparent that he was prepared to forget all the wrongs which Mr. Foster had done to the community and heartly supported him. The fact that Mr. Foster was snowed under by a majority of about one thousand votes put the quietus on Mr. Hatheway for a time, but he has now bobbed up serenely again as the so-called "Labor Candinate".

Mr. McInerney is a gentleman who has a kaleidoscopic character formerly a supporter of the local government, and also a Liberal, but becoming tired of living in the cold shades of opposition and becoming a Conservative, he succeeded in being elected to Ottawa.

He is recognized as a fiery orator, but at the last election in Kent Mr. Let Blanc, a plain farmer, succeeded in defeating him by about 500 majority.

Mr. McInerney is best known to the St. John constituency by reason of his having given away to Mr. Foster a private letter which the late Mr. C. W. Waldon wrote him at a time when Mr. McInerney was sailing in the same boat with Mr. Weldon.

Mr. William Shaw is a very worthy citizen, who has found that he has been able to exercise but little influence in public life. On many occasions he has made up his mind to retire, but his love for the Tory party is so strong that he yields to the persuasive influence surrounding him and is still willing to sacrifice himself in the public interest. John E. Wilson might be said to represent the younger element of the Can form E. Wilson might be said to represent the younger element of the Canterbury street machine of the Tory party. He formerly occupied a seat at the council board as alderman for Wellington ward, but did not take a very active part in the deliberations of that body.

part in the deliberations of that body.

Mr. Wilson's political faith has been in doubt on several occasions within the past few years and has been accused by his political friends of playing fast and loose with them. Now that he has the nomination they will no doubt know his exact political status.

Speaking for the ticket as a whole, it is a very good one from the Liberal standpoint. Its make up is Tory all the way through.
