A pleasant surprise party was that which invaded the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry last evening when about forty of the friends of Mrs. Henry's sister, Miss Eliza Campbell, came to bid her good-bye on the eve of her leaving the city to make her home in Kingsclear. The party included the pastor and choir of the Baptist church, with other friends. After an enjoyable evening of games and bright chat, Rev. Mr. Macdonald called the meeting to order and in a very happy speech, on behalf of the choir and other friends presented to Miss Campbell a beautiful gold necklace and pendant as a mark of appreciation of her services in the choir and at the same time expressing regret at and at the same time expressing regret at and the pleasant surprise party was that the barn chatting to one and other for about an hour, at the end of wonday from Rothesay, where they had been spending some weeks. Her friends are pleased to learn that Mrs. Gilbert's health has much improved.

Dr. Bridges was at once called in, bus of course has services were of no avail. He expressed the opinion that death had been caused by alconolic poisoning. Coroner McNally was also summoned and decided that the circumstances were such as to warrant hoding an inquest. He immediately empannelled a jury composed of George McEwen, William Harrison, William Waiker, William Perkans, Edward Beatty, Willis Ketoaum and Artuur Snute and they after viewing the body, adjournand at the same time expressing regret at her departure. Miss Campbell was sur prised, but replied in a few well chosen words, telling of her gratitude for such marks of love. Afterward ice cream and

Fredericton, April 29 .- (Special) -D. W. Hamilton, principal of Kingston Consolidated School, who has been attached to the Normal School staff since last fall, severed his connection with that institution this afternoon. The students were mus-tered in the assembly hall at 3 o'clock and histened to a very instructive address by Mr. Hamilton on The New Education. They afterwards, through Mr. Lambert, one of their number, presented him with a complimentary address and a Standard being kept open to allow logs to pass to Mitchell boom, where they can be rafted more expeditiously than at Sugar Island and will be in less danger of going adrift should an unusually high freshet occur. The steamer Aberdeen completed her first up-river trip of the season today and between running ice and logs and win-ferries, seems to have had a very hard time. Drawing away from the landing at Hawkshaw, at noon, she collided with the ferry wire and had her smokestack carried away. There was no chance to make repairs and she was obliged to fir ish her run to this city under reduced steam. The logs bothered her greatly and they had frequently to turn about to get rid of them. It was after four o'clock when she reached the city. Just above the railway bridge a piece of driftwood caught in her oridge a piece of driftwood caught in her rudder and she was obliged to tie up at Normal School wharf, where her passengers were landed. She brought a very large cargo, consisting of live stock, farm products, maple honey and furniture. On account of the accident she will be obliged to lay off until next Tuesday and perhaps longer.

The Scott Lumber Company yesterday received a letter from the St. John head waters, informing them that their crews had commenced stream driving Wednesday morning, under most favorable conditions.

The water in the river has been rising steadily since Saturday, and is now higher than it has been this spring. The heavy rain storm last night seems to have been general, and is bound to have a very beneficial effect on the drives. Advices from different points up river today are to the effect that the water is coming up rapidly and driving operations have started in

ST. ANDREWS.

St. Andrews, April 27-We certainly have not had much spring weather so far, but certain symptoms have appeared, which makes one think that season is here. For the poet says, "In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," and as there are four weddings to chronicle this week, with an engagement it where are think a regular engagement, it makes one think a regula epidemic is at hand.

A wedding of much interest to St. Andrews people is that of Miss Helen Paul to Mr. W. T. Hood, to take place in Montreal April 28. Miss Paul was a resident of St. Andrews for many years, and sang in the Methodist choir. Her father, Mr. Alexander Paul, at once time held a government position here. Her many friends ernment position here. Her many friends will wish her all happiness in her future

A pretty wedding was solemnized Tues united in marriage to Robert Alexander Carke, of Montreal. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Allen. The bride looked charming in a lovely gown of cream nun's veiling, and carried a beautiful bridal bouquet. The bridesmaid, Miss Anna Mc-Laren, wore a pretty white gown. After the ceremony an informal reception was held, at which a number of friends of both parties were present. A delicious repasswas served during the evening. Among was served during the evening. Among the beautiful presents was a wedgewood tea set in green from the Methodist church choir, of which Miss Small has been a member for some years; a handsome bookoase and writing desk combined, in polished oak, from the employes under Mr. Clarke, who is superintending the building of the C. P. R. cottages.
