

---

THOMAS CARLETON, Esquire, the first Governor of the Province of New-Brunswick, was appointed Captain-General and Governor in Chief in and over the same on the 16th of August, in the year 1784, and continued so till the 20th of May, 1786; when SIR GUY CARLETON, now LORD DORCHESTER, having been appointed Governor of this and the adjacent Provinces of Nova-Scotia, Canada, &c. the said THOMAS CARLETON, Esquire, was appointed Lieutenant-Governor of New-Brunswick, and continued to administer the Government of the same till the 5th of October, 1803, when having obtained HIS MAJESTY'S most gracious leave of absence, he went to Great-Britain, and thereupon the administration of the Government devolved upon

GABRIEL G. LUDLOW, Esquire, who now administers the same by the style of President of His Majesty's Council and Commander in Chief of the Province.

---