April Notes For Farmers

By John Fidler, Farm Superintendent Macdonald College

1. If you have not planned a definite rotation of crops, plan a four-year rotation, subject to modification later on.
2. Keep all animals out of the pastures.

3. Remove colonies of bees from their winter quarters, on a calm, dry day, when the temperature is 60 to 70 degrees. Weigh every colony, giving those short of stores, a frame of well-sealed honey.

4. Clean up around the house and barns, removing all rubbish.

5. As soon as the snow is off the ground, spread all manure that has been drawn during the winter, whether or you are ready to plough or not.

6. See that all water courses are open; open furrows to let any water off the fields that can be best left off that way.

7. Do not work heavy loam or clayey soils when they are wet and cold; if you do so they will bake, and a good crop cannot be expected.

8. When the soil is in suitable condition do not lose a minute. Early seeding gives the best results.

9. Sow the best seed procurable.

10. Sow clover with every crop of grain, except peas. It is the cheapest fertilizer.

11. Sow wheat, oats and barley on fall-ploughed land, and prepare it thoroughly in spring, before sowing.

12. Sod, ploughed in spring, should be planted with corn, potatoes or peas.

13. Gather surface stones from the meadows, and roll the land as soon as dry enough to carry without cutting the sod.

14. Look after the brood sows. See that they have a dry warm place for farrowing; watch closely when time is up.

15. Give brood mares plenty of light work for exercise, and good laxative food.

16. Watch the ewes lambing; separate them for a few days to a slightly warmer room.

17. Have some cows calve this month.

18. Look in on the whole of the live stock just before retiring.

19. Do not put off until to-morrow what should be done to-day.

20. This is the month to start the incubators.

21. Save eggs for hatching from only the best hens, those that lay during the winter.

22. Get the houses cleaned and disinfected before warm weather comes.

23. Get the brooders ready for the young chicks.

24. Clean up around the house and barns, removing all rubbish.

25. As soon as the snow is off the ground, spread all manure that has been drawn during the winter, whether or you are ready to plough or not.

26. See that all water courses are open; open furrows to let any water off the fields that can be best left off that way.

27. Do not work heavy loam or clayey soils when they are wet and cold; if you do so they will bake, and a good crop cannot be expected.

28. When the soil is in suitable condition do not lose a minute. Early seeding gives the best results.

29. Sow the best seed procurable.

30. Sow clover with every crop of grain, except peas. It is the cheapest fertilizer.

the cuts were carefully examined. Some of them were sent to the Fat Stock Show, where, despite the prejudice against dairy bred steers, they ranked high at the block.
