

PHILLIES SPLIT PAIR WITH BRAVES

Tyler Wild and Lavender
Was Hammered—Evers
Chased Again.

Boston, Sept. 11.—Boston and Philadelphia again split even in a double-header yesterday. Tyler's wildness had much to do with Alexander winning the first game, 5 to 2. Evers was put out of this game for disputing a called strike. In the second contest Boston hammered Lavender for twelve runs, all but one of them earned, while Ragan struck out eleven men. The score was 12 to 2. Scores—

First game—R. H. E.
Philadelphia . . . 200201000—5 9 2
Boston . . . 00010000—2 10 4
Batteries—Alexander and Killifer; Taylor and Trafesser.

Second game—R. H. E.
Philadelphia . . . 000101000—2 9 3
Boston . . . 43004010—12 14 1
Batteries—Lavender and Adams; Burns; Ragan and Meyers.

At St. Louis.
Smith's steal home in the third inning yesterday enabled St. Louis to win the first game of the final series with Pittsburgh 2 to 1. With Smith on third and Miller on first and two out Jacobs tossed to Mollwitz, trying to pick Miller off first. When he did so Smith dashed for the plate and scored. Score—R. H. E.
Batteries—Jacobs, Evans and Schmidt; Goodwin and Snyder.

At New York.

New York lost two games to Brooklyn yesterday, 13 to 6 and 2 to 1. The first game was a poorly played exhibition. Brooklyn winning by scoring seven runs in the eighth inning on four hits, three bases on balls, a fielder's choice and three errors. Benton threw away the second game in the first inning when his wild throw to second let in Olson and Daubert. Marquard pitched fine ball, a fumble by Olson enabling New York to secure its only run. Scores—

First game—R. H. E.
Brooklyn . . . 040001071—13 12 4
New York . . . 20010000—6 10 2
Batteries—Pfeiffer and Miller; Krueger, Demaree, Anderson, Tesreau, Benton and McCarty, Rariden.

Second game—R. H. E.
Brooklyn . . . 200000000—2 5 2
New York . . . 000100000—1 6 1
Batteries—Marquard and Krueger; Anderson, Benton and McCarty, Rariden.

That the United Grain Growers, Limited, will eventually enter both the milling and meat packing industries is the statement in Calgary by Cecil Rice-Jones, vice-president of the great farmers' organization. Word was received in Orangeville by W. H. White that his son, Pte. Howard Austin White, had been killed in action. An elder brother is employed in Toronto.

Sporting Comment

Sport
The B. C. I. rugby team held its first practice of the season yesterday afternoon on the O.I.B. grounds. Several of last year's players were in uniform and about thirty likely prospects, who will endeavor to make the team, were out for the preliminary work out.

The outlook for the coming season is encouraging, for the students are throwing themselves enthusiastically into the sport, and are heartily interested in the 1917 team. Of last year's aggregation Ken Baird, H. Middlemiss, R. Cook, L. Booth, J. Little, B. Kitchen, F. Guenther and Harry Waddington were out last night, while "Dud" Hurley, L. Buckborough and T. Truss are counted on as sureties.

Guelph have already commenced their training under the tutelage of a former Varsity men, an ex-coach of the O. A. C. The team that will represent the Royal City is reported to be lighter than last year, but fairly fast.

Hopes Entertained in Settlement of the G. N. W. Trouble.

By Courier Leased Wire

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The dispute between the G. N. W. Telegraph Company and their employees is not yet settled, but there are high hopes that to-day will see the end of the matter. The only question now in dispute between the company and representatives of the men is the grading of the officials of the company. The three arbitrators are meeting to-day to deliberate on this point, having concluded the hearing of the evidence and heard the arguments of the men's representatives during the past week.

The new franchise bill will cut off 1,200 votes in Waterloo County.

Early harvest has made it possible in Southern Alberta to get a great deal of land under cultivation for next season.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW WAR LOAN

Sir Thomas White Engaged on Organization of Public
Lobby Bureau.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—The publicity campaign in connection with the new war loan is now being organized by Sir Thomas White. Last week, after consultation with Mr. Imrie, secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Mr. White requested the association to name a committee of its representatives and a number of advertising agents to co-operate with him. The advisory board of publishers named by the association includes W. J. Taylor, Woodstock Sentinel Review, and John Weld, Farmers Advocate, London. The advisory board of advertising agents nominated by the association includes J. E. McConnell, of McConnell and Ferguson, London.

The plan of the minister will be to cover the entire Dominion with a propaganda which will emphasize the necessity of national saving and subscriptions to the war loan in order that Canada may meet her own war expenditures in Canada and establish further credits for the imperial treasury for the purchase of munitions and foodstuffs and the maintenance of our industrial, agricultural and commercial prosperity, which is vital to our continued and unceasing effort in the war. The minister does not share the belief that an election campaign would seriously militate against the success of the loan. He believes that the public as a whole, irrespective of political affiliations or nationality, will unite in co-operating to make the issue a great and striking success. All surmises as to the amount or interest yield of the loan, which the minister has not authorized and wholly unauthorized until the minister makes the official announcement in November.

SOME SLUGGERS WHICH LEAFS WON

Montreal, Sept. 10.—It required twelve innings of read old-fashioned honest-to-goodness corner lot baseball, before Nap Lajoie's Leafs were able to claim a victory over the lowly Royals this afternoon. The final reading of the score board was 13 runs to 10, and this information, which represents the play.

As the old-timer said, "It is the uncertainty of the game that makes it," and it was certainly the uncertainty of the final issue that caused all the excitement to-day. It looked as though the Leafs had the verdict safely tucked away under their caps on many occasions, but each time until the twelfth inning the unlooked for was brought about. Entering the eighth frame the Toronto aggregation had established a hazard of eight tallies, and it looked as though everything were over but the shouting. However, the Leafs' three-bagger and Damrau's circuit, clout, while in the ninth Al Leake, who had replaced Jack Warhop on the mound for the Leafs after the Royals had slaughtered the latter's bench to all corners of the lot in the initial inning, developed a streak of generosity. Madden and Hoyt, who replaced Duffy on the mound for the Howies in the first both singled, Leake then passed the next two batters, forcing in a run.

Could Also Generous

Mr. Gould then was called to the rescue by Manager Lajoie, but he, too, contracted the disease of passing batters. He issued two free transportation tickets, let go a wide heavy, which, coupled with an error by Truesdale, a fielder's choice and a hit enabled the Royals to register five more runs and tie up the count. However, after Gould settled down, while the Leafs finally got to Hoyt in the twelfth frame. In this, the deciding inning, Jacobson led off with a two-bagger to left, and White, man along a year ago, panned Lajoie was purposely passed, and Schultz came through with a Texas leaguer over second, which sent Jacobson home. Blackburne followed with a bingle to right, which enabled Lajoie to cross the pan, while on Murray's tap Schultz was caught at the plate, but while attempting to make a double play Blackburne came home.

APPLY CLOSURE ON ELECTION ACT

Second Reading of Franchise Bill Carried in Parliament.

LIBERALS GIVE FIGHT

Twenty-Minute Speeches are Permitted in the Debate.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—The war-time elections bill, extending the Federal franchise to female relatives of soldiers who have gone overseas, and disfranchising citizens of alien enemy origin naturalized since 1902, was read a second time under the closure rule in the Commons this morning. Before the motion for the second reading was carried the House voted down an amendment presented by Sir Wilfrid Laurier declaring: "The abridgement of this franchise now enjoyed in any province of the Dominion by any class of his Majesty's subjects would be contrary to the peace, order and good government of Canada."

The speeches of the opponents of the bill were in the main cast in one mould. They showed most concern over the sections of the bill providing for the disfranchisement of voters of German and Austrian birth. These sections, the speakers asserted, constituted a breach of faith with persons who had come to Canada as settlers and helped to develop the country. The would, it was contended, have the effect of deterring immigration into Canada after the war. Another objection to the bill was that it did not extend the franchise to all women. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in dealing with the first phase of the argument against the bill, expressed disbelief in the suggestion that Canadians of enemy origin might prove disloyal to the land of their adoption. To him it was inconceivable that they should become traitors to the country in which they had found happiness and freedom. Further, he held that the best method by which the government could ensure the vote to female relatives of soldiers was to give it to all women. Sir Wilfrid stood for the acceptance of the provincial franchises instead of the establishment of a Dominion franchise.

Moderate in Tone

Some few members of the Opposition spoke with bitterness of the policy laid down in the bill, as for example, the Hon. J. A. G. Reade, who announced that "British and Canadian military rule is not one whit better than Prussian rule."

In the main, however, those who opposed the bill, although they talked of the violation of pledges to the newcomer, were moderate in their tone. W. A. Buchanan, of Medicine Hat, who represents a section of the Liberal constituency, protested against the bill as a repudiation by the government of the Western conscriptionists. Dr. D. B. Neely also opposed the measure as disfranchising nearly half the electors of his constituency of Medicine Hat, Saskatchewan. No reason was given for depriving these citizens of the vote and the Act is still in force. Hon. A. K. MacLean of Halifax, also opposed the bill.

PORT WINE HAD TOO MUCH KICK

By Courier Leased Wire

Peterboro, Ont., Sept. 11.—Police Magistrate Dumble this morning gave judgment in a case where the Warne Drug Company, Ltd., were charged with a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act in that they sold a brand of invalid port without a license. A fine of $600 was imposed. The case was preferred by License Inspector Stewart at the instance of the license commissioners. It was found that a bottle of port sold by the defendants and which was registered under the Dominion Patent Medicine Act and was medicated to a certain degree, contained nearly 36 per cent. of alcohol. The court held that the Ontario regulations were in force and the invalid port was not sufficiently medicated. There will likely be an appeal to the supreme court.

CHILLIA, Ont., Nov. 28th, 1914.

"For over two years, I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. One day I saw your sign which read 'Fruit-a-lives make you feel like walking on air.' This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends."

GERMAN MASKS NOT GAS-PROOF

Canadians Are Taking a Terrible Toll With Their Projectors at Lens.

FOE SHORT OF RUBBER

Their Head Protectors Are Now Made of Soft Leather.

By Stewart Lyon

Canadian Headquarters in France, Sept. 11.—The most notable development on this part of the front during the past few days is the increasing use of gas shells by the enemy in retaliation for the frequent projection of gas cylinders into the German lines. The gas projectors have been one of the big mechanical successes of the campaigning season. Almost every prisoner who is brought in tells of severe losses through the use of gas against the German troops in Lens. Men captured two days ago state that last week a company of the First Guard reserve regiment lost 20 dead as the result of a gas shell exploding in the cellar where they lay asleep. Before they could get their masks on the gas had overcome them. Another company of the same regiment had 17 casualties when gas was used in one day, of which seven died before their removal to a hospital.

Short of Rubber

The failure of Germany to obtain sufficient supplies of rubber probably is a contributing cause of these gas fatalities. The rubber of the German masks is poor and tears readily. Lately, masks of soft, flexible leather have been served out to the enemy on this part of the front. The leather is kept well oiled, and is easily put on, but not so quickly as rubber. The enemy's method of retaliation for our gas attacks is by concentrated shots with gas shells. A few days ago I mentioned the discovery of an eight-inch enemy gas shell behind our lines. This is a much larger calibre than any heretofore used by him. A single shell of that size would not seriously endanger our men in the open, so the Germans are attempting to direct a concentration of gas shells upon our artillery positions. Fifty or more of such shells release much gas, which permeates the atmosphere and makes it advisable that persons in the vicinity, especially those down the wind, wear masks. Despite these difficulties, our gunners continue to carry out their work of destroying the enemy gunpits.

Many explosions were caused during last week in the German battery positions on Sallau Mines Hill.
