When the torrent of water struck the bridge a C. P. R. freight train was just pulling into Port Arthur, with or-ders to meet the passenger train. She was running at a good speed. Just before striking the bridge she went into the undermined track. The locomotive turned completely over and fire turned completely over and five cars went over with it. It was thought imlive through possible for any person to live throug the wreck, as in a moment it was under and the flood flowed over the top of it.

Went Down With Engine. Engineer Savard, Fireman McBride and Brakeman Inman, who were in the locomotive at the time of the accident, were pinned under the engine, and two were printed under the engine, and two tramps who were riding in the train are believed to have been killed. This morn-ing hundreds of people visited the wreck, and work has been commenced to get the bodies. Adrift Five Days In a Dory Without Food or Water.

Halifax, June 1.-The Allan liner Carhaginian, which arrived from Liverpoo to-day, brought in two French sailors, Collet Victor and Obigot August, whom she picked up at sea in an almost dying condition. They belonged to the fishing schooner Marie Louise, of St. Mello. They got lost in fog last Friday morning, and had been adrift in their dory, without food or water, for five days and half. When the Carthaginian picked them when the Carchagman picked them up yesterday they were lying prone in the bottom of their dory unconscious, and did not recover their senses till they had been on board for some time. Their legs and arms were swollen to almost double the normal size, and one of the men was covered with boils, which had broken out during the days they were broken out during the days they were adrit. They suffered terribly from the cold.

When consciousness returned, despite their sufferings, the men wept for joy that they were saved, for they had given up hope. Half an hour after the Carthaginian half an holf after the or the fog shut down again. Had they not been seen then they would surely have perished. The sea was very rough when the rescue was daughters were in their accustomed pew. For some reason or another, probably to tease their stepfather, the girls declined to rise when the Na-tional Anthem was being sung. On their way home the father 'expostulated with them about it. They replied that, being American-born, they were not called upon to honor the British National Anthem. Creighton's temper arose and he told them he would have nobody about his place who would not rise to sing "God Save the King." Evidently this little incident wrought on Creighton's mind. Rev. G. A. Wcodside, the pastor of the church, heard the story of it from Creighton's own lips on Sunday morning. It seems that since his second marriage Creighton was looked upon as a remade, and in effecting it the Carthaginian's boatswain fell overboard and was nearly drowned. He had a very close call.
