C. B. C. TOURNEY.

The Dominion Make High Score at Opening Session.

Toronto, Feb. 25.—The Canadian Bowling Club was auspiciously opened last night with the second annual international tournament, held annually by the directors of the Canadian Bowlers' Association. The honorary president of the association, Mr. H. J. P. Good, introduced his Worship Mayor Oliver to the hundreds of interested bowlers, including many of the fair sex. His Worship responded in a well chosen speech eulogistic of the game of bowling, and while not familiar as yet with the "greatest indoor game in the world," emphasized the fact that in hurling the first ball down the centre drive, threw the weight of his energy for the bowling game to the Canadian Bowlers' Association, and, as a guarantee, would find the "put" with the initial ball, which he did.

SHORT ENDS.

Little Paragraphs of Sport From Far and Near.

New York, Feb. 25.—Matthew P. Hall, a member of the American team that is to go to London for the Olympic games of 1908, announces that the team will sail from New York on the steamer Philadelphia of the American line, on Saturday, June 27. The team will arrive in London about July 4, and will have about a week in which to prepare for the competitions, as the stadium will open on July 13. Accommodations for 78 men have been reserved on the Philadelphia.

SOME SNAPSHOTS AT SPORTS AND SPORTSMEN

Messrs. Ripley and Carr are deserving of great credit for their efforts to revive hockey in this city. They got together a team at short notice that has made a good showing this season, notwithstanding the lack of ice to practice on and other handicaps. The club's finances are not in very good shape, and it is up to the lovers of clean sport to turn out at the exhibition matches which will be arranged, and encourage the club to greater efforts next season.

RACING LAW

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 25.—The State Racing Commission in its annual report, landed down in the Legislature yesterday, opposes any change in the racing law, as recommended by Governor Hughes in his annual message. James W. Wadsworth, sen., father of the Speaker of the Assembly, as Chairman, declares it to be the unanimous opinion of the committee that no further legislation is necessary for the regulation of race tracks, and states that the present law carries out properly the purpose for which it was enacted.

SADDLE AND SULKY.

Eastern racing will be resumed in four weeks, beginning at Washington on March 23rd. The attendance at New York State race meetings the past year was larger than at any previous year. The 5 per cent. of the receipts allotted to the agricultural societies amounted to $246,429.

TOMMY BURNS POSTS A FORFEIT FOR JOHNSON.

London, Feb. 24.—A match between Tommy Burns and Jack Johnson is probable. Burns has deposited £400. Interviewed he said, "I would like to fight Johnson in England, where the people have been very good to me. We shall see now if he is so anxious to meet me." Burns anticipated the betting in America would be 2 to 1 on Johnson.

WILD DOGS OF THE PLAINS.

When James McHenry, of the West Side, talks of his experiences as a plainsman in Colorado, he seldom fails to mention the wild dogs he saw there. These ferocious animals were not known in all parts of the West, but were limited to the district between Denver and Fort Latamie. The wild dogs were feared much more than the wolves. It is said that they would not turn out of their course either for man or beast and that they would attack any living thing they met.

MOUNTSBERG

A number from here attended the oyster supper at Freeport on Thursday night. Miss Ethel Chatham spent Sunday at home. Mr. Dan McCurdy's sale was a decided success. It being a fine day, there was a large crowd in attendance.

WOMAN PLANS LABOR REFORM.

"A thousand dollars a year the most reasonable living wage for a family of five." "People are every day slowly starving to death through small salaries and low wages." "Married women whose husbands expect them to be holier than to enter a business which is competitive." "Greatest care exercised in the keeping of small boys off the streets at night."

USES OF THE CHAFING DISH.

Mrs. Rorer Again Tells About Cooking.

Resuming her course of lectures on scientific cooking for the patrons of the Gimbel store, Mrs. Rorer talked yesterday morning and afternoon to large audiences of women who watched with interest the deft work of the famous exponent of culinary art. Her morning demonstration was on "the everyday possibilities of the chafing dish," and she pointed out the necessity, in these times of financial stringency, for every housekeeper to use economy, which to her mind means the saving of food materials.

Oysters a la Richmond—Drain 25 oysters. Put a tablespoonful of butter in a chafing dish, a tablespoonful of chopped celery, stir for a minute, then add the oysters, a level teaspoonful of salt, a dash of black pepper, a dash of cayenne and a little paprika. Cover the dish, and when the oysters begin to boil, add to the mixture a pint of four tablespoonfuls of cream or milk. Stir gently and serve.

Quick Goulash—Put into a chafing dish a tablespoonful of butter, add a half-teaspoonful of chopped onion, stir until the butter is melted, and add the onion a little soft; add a tablespoonful of flour; mix; add a teaspoonful of paprika, a half-pint of stock; stir until boiling; then add two sweet peppers cut into strips, and a pint of cold cooked meat cut into cubes of an inch. Bring to a boil and serve.

Devised Scallops—Mash the yolks of three-boiled eggs through a sieve. Put a tablespoonful of chopped onion, one of flour in a chafing dish; mix; add a half-pint of milk; stir until boiling; add gradually the yolks of the eggs, a dash of red pepper; a salt-spoon of white pepper and a teaspoonful of salt. For the next day, mix in the morning. Add them to the sauce, and when thoroughly hot serve on crisp crackers of squares of toast.

Devil Panned Oysters—Drain and wash the oysters; drain them on one to a hot chafing dish; add salt and paprika, a little black pepper and a teaspoonful of Worcestershire, and when hot add a tablespoonful of butter.

Oysters Hongroise—Put into a chafing dish a tablespoonful of butter and a level teaspoonful of paprika, mix and when hot add a level tablespoonful of flour; add 25 oysters that have been drained, stir carefully, add one sweet pepper cut into strips and a half-cup of tomato. When hot add a level teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley.

Chicken au Saucisson—Put one tablespoonful of butter and one fourth into the chafing dish; mix; add flour; mix; add salt, a dash of pepper, and if you wish, four tablespoonfuls of sherry; add the chicken, brown hot, stir in the yolks of two eggs that have been beaten with two tablespoonfuls of milk. Serve on toast.

Welsh Rarebit—Put into the chafing dish a pound of cheese, a half-teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire, a dash of red pepper, and if you wish, four tablespoonfuls of ale; beat the yolks of two eggs, add them, and stir the mixture until perfectly smooth. Boil it on toast.

CHILDREN'S EYES.

Rules Which Should be Observed by Young and Old.

The question of eyestrain, which is receiving a good deal of attention at the present moment, is a matter which cannot be too strongly considered where children are concerned. If the fatigue which is due to straining the nerve of sight is the cause of irritability in the case of adults, it must be doubly true of the nursery folk.

Nothing is worse for a tiny baby than to allow it to lie on its back in a perambulator, staring at a bright light, and if the day is clear or sunny a covering of some kind should always be interposed to modify the glare.

In the nursery the greatest care should be exercised in determining the relative positions of the children's beds and cribs. They should never under any conditions be allowed to face the window, and if this is difficult to avoid a movable rail should be affixed to the bedstead, which can be adjusted so as to screen light from the window, the lamp, gas or fire, as the case may be.

"Married life is frequently unhappy," mused the Cynical Bachelor, "because a woman can't always distinguish between a man's peace of mind and a piece of hers."

"Life has its ups and downs," mused the Wise Guy. "Yes," assented the Simple Mug, "with one man in a thousand getting the ups and the other 999 the downs."

er in their actions that the ranchmen accepted them as friends. Larger bands of Indians came and were admitted within the fortifications. One day when there were five or six visitors to every white man inside the stockade the Indians made an attack. After all the ranchmen and their wives and children had been killed the Indians burned the houses and the stockade that had cost so much labor.

About fifteen dogs of different varieties had been taken to the ranch from the East. When the settlement was destroyed the dogs were without food and a home. It is said that the gaunt animals lingered about the ruins of the ranch houses until at last hunger drove them into the hills and onto the plains in search of food. They became friends with the wolves and mingled with them.

In a few years the offspring of those dogs that had known a master's caress became a strange kind of animal, a breed that never had been known in that country.

"Many years passed before those animals were exterminated," Mr. McHenry continued. They at one time were very numerous. Generally they went in packs of six or eight, but they were a terror just the same. They were much more difficult to trap than the ordinary wolves."—Kansas City Star.
