After providing for a number of legacies among friends and relatives, he gives his property to be equally divided among four churches.—the First Methodist, Episcopal (Trinity), Knox, and the Reformed Episcopal Churches, at the death of the legates. The property is estimated at $20,000, the bulk being money well invested. oulk being money well invested.

While fishing a short distance from the shore at Little Glace Bay, Mr. Martell, of that place, hauled a two year old shark into his boat on Monday morning. It was a large powerful fish, and but for the fact that owing to its entanglement in the net, it was drowned before being drawn into the boat, the captor must have realized the boat, the captor must have realized some trouble. The fish measured length-wise 6ft. 10 in., and the breadth of its tail was 222in. Both swordfish and sharks are known to frequent the vicinity of the

The detective engaged by the Ontario Medical and Dental Association, has re-cently been making a raid on the unli-censed mid-wives of the county of Huron. The way Mr. Smith finds these ladies out is very ingenious. He goes to the clerk of each township and examines the register, and if the name of the medical attendant does not appear in connection with the registration of births he goes to the delinquent parents and threatens to have them fined for omitting the doctor's name when registering the birth. The parents then impart to him the information which he is seeking, when he goes immediately to the suspected lady and endeavours to secure her services, and after getting her to com-mit herself he has her fined.

On a recent trip of the Northern Belle a which was more novel than safe. At Mani which was more novel than safe. At Mani-towaning the purser was entrusted with a letter which he was instructed to register at Collingwood. When about twenty miles this side of Killarney, he collected a pile of scraps of waste paper, which had accumulated in his office, and on throwing it out of the window was horrified to see the Manitowaning letter overboard. After the steamer had travelled about a mile, he informed Capt. Foote of the circumstance, and the captain immediately gave orders to steam back to the scene of the letter throwing business. Arriving there, with his glass he discerned something resem-bling a piece of paper floating at a distance, and on a small boat being lowered, it fortunately proved to be the precious letter. The water had unsealed it, but it and the $100 enclosed were otherwise uninjured. Catharine Anderson, late of the township of Mara, was committed by Mr. Mc-Pherson, J.P., in default of sureties to keep the peace towards her husband, Wm. Anderson. The circumstances of this case are strange and distressing. It appears that the woman who, previous to the 17th of last month, was a widow, had been livon last month, was a widow, had been hying in a shanty, in the Township of Mara; which, with some land and a few cows, had been left her by her late husband. On the 17th of July she was married to William 17th of July she was married to William Anderson, a painter and carpenter, and about a quarter of an hour after the ceremony had been performed and while returning home in a buggy she was taken with a kind of a fit, and became very violent and raving mad; this continued for a few hours when she regained her senses, after which she again went raving mad and attacked her husband with a reaping-hook, making things in general very lively; she broke the furniture and household fixings to pieces and attempted to commit suicide two or three times.

The claim of the above gentlemen occupies a portion of what is known as the Rose Lead. This what is known as the Rose Lead. This lead was discovered some years since but was subsequently lost and shafts have been sunk in several places to great depths in searching for it, but without success, until recently when the present owners struck it just below the surface. When first found the vein was about six inches wide and only yielded about two and a half ounces to the ton. The shaft has been sunk so far to a depth of only about thirty feet and the vein has widened to nineteen inches, and the yield has doubled. It promises to continue to increase in value, promises to continue to increase in value, and to become one of the most profitable gold mines ever opened in this Province; for the quartz last taken out gives promise of yielding at least 15 ounces to the ton.—

Mr. E. Short took his wife and family to spend the day with a friend in Korah, District of Algoma. About noon the children started to the woods, which is but a few rods from the house, to pick some raspberries, taking with them a little toddler about 18 months old. The attention of the larger children was taker up in their amusement, and they soon for got to care for the baby, which strayed away into the bush. After satisfying themselves with berries, the absence of the little one was noticed, and getting no reply to their repeated calls, they ran to the house crying, "The baby is lost."
