C. N. R. Time Changes Effective June 27th

Do not effect service on Prince Edward Island Railway. Connections are unchanged.

Changes of time on Canadian National lines effective June 27 do not affect the service between Prince Edward Island and the Mainland to any great extent, inasmuch as the time of arrival and departure of trains is unchanged.

Passengers leaving on the morning train at 7.00 a. m. will connect at Tormentine with No. 39 train carrying parlor car. No. 30 is due in Moncton at 1.35 p. m., and connection is made with No. 1 Ocean Limited for Quebec and Montreal, and with No. 13 express for St. John and Boston. The cafe parlor car on No. 39 is carried to St. John on No. 13.

Passengers by the train leaving at 1.40 p. m. connect at Sackville with No. 3 Maritime Express for Quebec and Montreal and with No. 9 and No. 10, the night trains between St. John and Halifax.

Train leaving Sackville at 1.15 p. m. connects with first trip of steamer from Tormentine to Borden.

No. 40 train leaving Moncton at 4.30 p. m. carrying cafe parlor car meets with steamer leaving Tormentine for Borden at 7.20 p. m. Boston passengers and passengers on No. 2 Ocean Limited connect with No. 40 train at Moncton. The cafe parlor is carried through from St. John to Tormentine.—June 23.

On 27th Special Trains.

C. G. Railways

Up to March 1st 757,400 Troops have travelled over Government Railways.

Thousands arrive each week at Halifax and are sent forward to Dispersal Areas.

Since the war began in 1914 up to March 1st, when S.S. Belgic disembarked her returned soldier passengers at Halifax 757,400 troops have been carried on special trains over the Canadian Government Railways.

The first train which carried troops over the Government Railways the year the war was declared was numbered one and all special troop trains to and from Halifax since that time have been numbered consecutively. The last train from the Belgic was on Saturday No 1279. Each train averages about twelve cars with an average of 50 men to a car, which figures up a total of 757,400 men carried. Of course in addition to these thousands of soldiers have journeyed between Montreal and Halifax by regular trains during the past four years.

The movement of troops back to Canada is now approaching its greatest activity. Last Sunday 5000 arrived at Halifax by the transporta Lapland and Belgic and fifteen special trains were despatched westward inside of fourteen hours.

S. S. Megantic with soldiers and dependants arrived Wednesday and S.S. Adriatic due Sunday. The movement of returning men is to be kept up actively till summer.

St. Thomas Aquinas The Angelic Doctor

St. Thomas, the "patron of all Catholic Schools," was not only the greatest master of the thirteenth century, the "golden age of education," but is regarded as the greatest human teacher of all time. Not only did he successfully refute the errors of the false philosophers of his own day and those who had gone before him, but his works are the best basis for the refutation of many erroneous doctrines that have sprung up since his time.

Thomas Aquinas was born no later than 1227, of a notable family of Naples. His father was the Count of Aquino and his mother the Countess of Teano. At the age of five he was put in the hands of the Benedictine monks of Mount Cassino, among whom he was early noted for meditation and prayer. He mystified his preceptor by frequently asking, "What is God?"

In 1236 Thomas was sent to the University of Naples. The corrupt surroundings there had no influence on his pure heart. Resolving to embrace the religious state he entered the Dominican Order. This step met with violent opposition from his family. His brothers, who were soldiers, captured him and confined him in the fortress of St. Giovanni, where in vain his parents and brothers and sisters tried to tempt him from the vocation. His sister, however, furnished him with some books among them Aristotle's Metaphysics, and at the end of two years, when he was restored to the Dominicans, they marvelled at the great progress he had made. He was sent to Rome, where Innocent V inquired into and approved his motives regarding his vocation. He then went to Paris to study under Albertus Magnus, who, commenting on the name of "Dumb Ox," with which Thomas was dubbed, said: "We call the young man a dumb ox, but his bellowing in doctrine will one day resound throughout the world."

From the time he received his degree as doctor he followed out an active career of teaching, preaching and writing in defence of the faith, traveling throughout Europe, advising the Pope and doctors and never ceasing his untiring activities until on December 6, 1273, following an unusually long ecstasy during Mass, he laid down his pen forever with the words: "I can do no more. Such secrets have been revealed to me that all I have written appears now to be of little value."

He died, professing his belief in the Blessed Sacrament and his obedience to the Church, in the Cistercian Monastery at Fossanova in 1274.

St. Thomas has left us about sixty works; the most important is his "Summa Theologiae," which he did not finish. In this he reconciles the philosophy of Aristotle with the doctrines of Christianity, and his success in giving to faith a philosophical basis of reasoning has been admitted even by the enemies of the true Church. Pope Leo XIII, who based many of his Encyclical letters, including those on Christian Marriage, the Condition of the Working Classes and the Christian Constitution of States, on doctrines elucidated by St. Thomas, declared that in the works of St. Thomas a remedy would be found for many of the evils that affect society. Oxford, Amsterdam and many non-Catholic universities in America recognize the value of his works, especially in scholastic philosophy, of which he was the principal exponent.

Pope Leo XIII urged the Catholic bishops to the greater study of the works of St. Thomas, that they "might restore the golden wisdom of Thomas and spread it far and wide for the defence and beauty of the Catholic faith, for the good of society and the advantage of the sciences."

Spend Fifteen Minutes Every Day in Meditation

We clip the following bit of sage advice from the Pueblo Star-Journal of recent date. It is a recommendation from a man of the world to men and women of the world, and it is well worthy of their attentive consideration in more ways than one. Read it; it will do you good.

"Let us withdraw from the world and its sorrows and fears, its hopes and joys. Let us go into the closet and shut the door. The morning is really the most desirable time for this, since it calms and fortifies us for facing the day. In the silence we see things as they are. We see ourselves as others see us.

"These moments alone in deep meditation or deep quiet are sacred. They are worth more than all the other hours of the day. At first this effort to withdraw may seem a task, but if continued no one can fail to feel the deep peace that creeps through the soul. It brings courage to face life with a brave heart and a smiling face. We fret and fume and are slaves of things of which we should take no heed. They have seemed all-important; in the silence we learn that they are of no importance at all.

"The wise men and seers of the ages have known the value of silence. Their lives have been calm and serene because they knew what it was to withdraw for a while from the noise and confusion of the world. Man and women of today—often business men—are learning the value of a daily period of silence where they can be absolutely alone.

"Take fifteen minutes or half an hour every day for yourself. By hook or crook tear yourself away from the crowd. Perhaps you think you 'haven't time.' If so—take time."

The masters of the spiritual life and the founders of religious orders, without exception, insist on the "morning meditation" for their followers, says a Pueblo priest. St. Ignatius Loyola, the most practical spiritualist of all the ages, demands one hour a day to be devoted to it. No one who neglects it can expect to persevere in a religious community for any length of time. It is the very soul and life center of the religious life. Nor is its use limited to those who are vowed to perfection. Holy souls the world over have practiced it and are practicing it today. It is indeed the science of all the saints in all time. With a good will it is easily acquired. Cardinal Manning speaks of it as "the patient thought of wisdom musing on divine things." Try it. Take the advice of the man of the world in the Star-Journal and devote fifteen minutes mornings for a while to the following subjects:

"Whence am I? Why am I here? Whither am I going?" The answers to these questions are the fundamental principles of all that is true in philosophy and moral science. Answer them satisfactorily and practically and then you will have solved the riddle of life. A world of "new thought" will open before you and you will begin to see things, yourself included. St. Teresa said: "Promise me fifteen minutes of meditation every day and I, in the name of Jesus Christ, promise you the kingdom of heaven."

Hidden Saints

Many a priest visiting some distant place has marveled to find all the altar and sanctuary appointments so spotless and all so well in order that he has made it a point to find out who takes care of the sacristy, says the Pilot.

The parish priest with a pleased smile says: "Oh, that is all Sister Mary's work. She sets the church in order after she has finished her day in class. A most faithful woman."

After a long school day this tired nun has devoted an hour or

Suffered Great Agony From Pains in Stomach.

Most of the misery and ill-health that humanity is burdened with arise from disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. If you are feeling out of sorts, have pains in the stomach, especially after eating, sour stomach, biliousness, sick or bilious headaches, heartburn, water brash, etc., you should take a few doses of Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills. You will be surprised how quickly they will fix you up.

Mrs. M. A. Burger, Hardisty, Alta., writes:—"For over two years I suffered great agony from pains in the stomach. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. A friend advised me to take Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills. I started with two vials, but before I had used one I found much relief. I continued until I used six vials, and they have completely relieved me."

Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills are small and easy to take and do not grip, weaken and sicken like most laxative pills do.

Price 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

two more to God's House, not one week or a month, but 365 days a year. They are always pleasant, always ready to do a service, never too tired to console the afflicted. Whether they sleep or eat or rest never seems to matter. Such a gift have these nuns of enduring things silently and finding ways of making things meet.

Once in a while when you are in the country on a vacation you are surprised to see everything about the little church cared for as if the parish as a body attended to matters. But if you make inquiry you will find out that some quiet woman who has a house of her own to keep up finds time to look after the House of God too. How many in the average parish ever give even a thought to such matters?

Years ago an eminent Catholic Bostonian died. He suffered agonies at the last. Everyone expected, trusted and liked him. He was a very busy attorney and public official; his every waking hour was valuable. But it was not until his funeral that his parish priest remarked that in twenty years that man had never missed daily Mass or at least a visit to the Blessed Sacrament. His friends were astounded; they had never thought him other than an ordinary good Catholic. But God knew.

It will not do a bit of harm to the quality of our faith to study these people who find their greatest joy in life in doing something for God and His Service.

A SENSIBLE MERCHANT.

Hearing a crash of glassware one morning, Mrs. Blank called to her maid in the adjoining room: "Nurah, what on earth are you doing?"

"I'm doing nothing," replied Nurah; "it's done."

W. H. O. Wilkinson Streetford says:—"It affords me much pleasure to say that I experienced great relief from Muscular Rheumatism by using two boxes of Milburn's Rheumatic Pills. Price 25 cents a box.

Customer: "But, bless my soul, what is the meaning of this—spoons, five shillings; sugar tongs, half-a-crown?"

Waiter: "Yes, sir; those are the things the lady has in her bag."

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES FOR NEARLY A YEAR.

The nasty little pimples that come out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying.

They are little irritating reminders to you that you should take a few bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

When B. B. B. makes your blood pure, the pimples will vanish and your skin becomes soft and clear.

Mrs. James Williams, Waterford, Ont., writes:—"My face was covered with pimples for nearly a year. I used different kinds of remedies to get rid of them and finally thought there was no cure. A friend dropped in one day and told me I should try Burdock Blood Bitters. I did so and used three bottles, and found the pimples were all disappearing from my face, and now I have a clear complexion again."

B. B. B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
