A Cube to a cup

OXO CUBES

Oxo Cubes were invented for busy men. With an Oxo Cube a cupful of delicious nourishing Oxo can be made in a moment. More nutritious than tea and coffee, and much more convenient.

Just drop a Cube into a cup of hot water—no measuring—stir—and lunch is ready.

With a biscuit Oxo makes a light sustaining meal—splendid to work on—because none of the strength that Oxo gives is lost in the process of assimilation. Spread on toast or bread Oxo Cubes are equally appetising and make delicious sandwiches.

Closing of the Art Exhibition.

The exhibition of drawings displayed in the British Hall since Monday last, closed last night in the presence of a large gathering of visitors. Before the presentation of prizes took place, His Excellency the Governor made a brief speech. He spoke in felicitous terms of the Art Exhibition, which was the first of its kind held here, and expressed the wish that it would be the forerunner of many more. He was sure the exhibition would be productive of much good, as the excellent drawings of the children demonstrated that. Prof. Nichols then spoke, thanking Hon. E. R. Bowring for the interest manifested by that gentleman in the work and his valuable assistance to the teachers and pupils. He then announced the winners of the various prizes which were presented by Governor Davidson. Lady Williams' prize, for models, advanced work, a group of three models, won by Mabel Laing, of Springdale Street. C. of England school; the Lord Hainey prize, won by Ian Dewar, of the Presbyterian College; Archbishop Howley's prize, for a drawing of a living plant, won by Alice Hickey, of St. Kyra's, and Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Bond's prize, for the best drawing of a bird or animal, won by Bert Loveys, of the Centenary Hall school. At the close of a vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. A. M. McDougall, was tendered His Excellency. The list of Junior prizes and honors will be announced later.

IS YOUR COUGH GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE?

If you catch a cold (which very often develops into a cough) every one can tell you how to cure it! If one tried half the things his friends recommended he would be a physical wreck!

Fortunately it isn't necessary to experiment with ginger tea and such things, get a bottle of Phorator's Phorator's Cough and Cold Cure, take according to directions and you will be relieved in a few hours. Phorator's is not like most things put up for this purpose. There isn't a particle of Quinine in it. It relieves the inflamed congested condition of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, and soon rid the system of the poisons that cause colds.

Don't wait until you get that horrible, hacking cough which you are not able to get rid of. No treatment having been found successful up to the present time. Try Phorator's Cough Cure at once.

Price 25 cents a bottle. Postage 5 cents extra.

[For the Evening Telegram.]

Good Friday.

Who is that on yonder tree
Paint, expiring, who is He?
What the crime for which He dies?
Him the people round despise.

He that hangs expiring there
Is the Son of God, most dear,
Whom the Heavenly host adore
Suffers as foretold of yore.

Priests conspire, Judas betrays,
And the Jews their voices raise
Crucify Him, Crucify,
Yet does Pilate ask them, Why?

See the man, no fault I see
Yet He crucified must be,
And their voices did prevail,
So His feet and hands they nail.

'Tween two thieves, in bitter pain
And great thirst, is Jesus slain;
But He lives above the sky
And will hear our humble cry.

A Southwester on Easter.

The fellow who tries to look like a new man in an old suit on Easter morning is going to be as funny as a masquerade. It will be worse than trying to run pink baby ribbon through a pair of overalls.

You can brush up for winter, you can wash-up for Sunday, you can rub talcum powder into a day-old beard and get away with it sometimes. But on Easter Sunday, if you want to be right, you've got to be new and you've got to begin and work from the skin out.

There are times when merely an extra coat of wool or paint won't go. And Easter is one of those times.

You need new shirts, new ties, new shoes, new gloves, as well as new clothes. You are not going to be happy next Sunday morning unless you have them.

And you certainly are not going to have them unless you start right now.

Every good store in town is ready for you. They are all used to this last day rush. They all knew you expected to buy your suit a week ago and forgot.

You don't deserve it, but they are all advertising here in this paper to help you to-day and they are ready to perform wonders for you when you come.

So if you will just look in this paper now you will find out where to get your shoes, and your hat, and the best places to buy your suit and your overcoat, your shirts and your ties—and inadvertently, you'll save a lot of time and worry by doing so.

For the stores that are advertising here are not only the best stores in their respective lines but they are the stores that are best prepared to give you the service you have got to have if you expect to be part of the big parade on Easter day.

So turn to their advertising now and see what they have to say and what they can do for you.
