The Admiralty's Orders of Defence Against Submarines.

The publication of the Admiralty order, issued in October, 1915 to armed merchantmen clears away all doubt as to the duty of captains and the intentions of the Admiralty. The instructions are clear and explicit. The guns are to be used solely for defence. The circumstances of the situation render it highly improbable that the captain of such a vessel would ever endeavor to chase or to follow up a submarine offensively. The submarine has full means of safety, even if a captain should wish to do so, in keeping away from merchantmen or in sinking below the surface and out of danger. But any such attack by a merchantman, highly improbable and highly dangerous to those aboard, is and has been against Admiralty instructions and we have the fullest belief that no captain has ever risked the lives of crews and passengers, or either, by beginning any such offensive against a submarine, which was not intent on attacking him. The approach of a submarine towards a merchantman is sufficient evidence in the eyes of the Admiralty of hostile intent on the part of the submarine, and this conclusion is sound sense, which has been abundantly borne out by experience. In order to clear away any doubt about a submarine, approaching being of enemy character, the Admiralty has ordered all British submarines not to approach, but to keep away from all merchantmen. This leaves the course of the captain clear. He knows of a certainty that a submarine approaching him is an enemy, whether she shows a German or a British flag. He knows from that her intentions are hostile, and he knows that she will sink him without providing for the safety of those aboard. He is fully justified in using his guns to drive off or sink the submarine to save himself and those committed to his charge, and it is for this purpose and this purpose alone that the guns have been installed on his ship. It would be the height of stupidity to take any other course. The Hun submarines have become notorious murderers of thousands of innocent men, women and children, and to disarm intended victims in the face of such murderous attacks would be to become an accessory to murder.

Inspiring Examples.

There are two thousand places vacant in the Newfoundland Regiment, and the King and Country is waiting to see them filled up. Uniforms are waiting to be donned and arms are waiting to be shouldered, and drill instructors are ready to show men how to fight. Men residing at Grand Falls have given a good lead in the new movement, and Grand Falls has challenged other settlements to follow their inspiring example. Of course, all the men who have enlisted at Grand Falls were born in other places, as Grand Falls works and towns was not in existence when the men who enlisted there drew their first breath. St. John's has an easy lead in the total enlistments for the army and navy, and among the outpost electoral districts Trinity Bay has a distinct lead. Before the new enlistments began St. John's had provided one man out of every 36 on the last census. Trinity Bay one man in 60. This should spur on districts like Bay de Verde, Burin, Fortune Bay and Burgeo, in which the response is a long way, a very long way behind that of Trinity Bay. Let those who are hesitating take to heart the case of the Carew family of Patrick Street. Mr. and Mrs. Carew, Sr., had three sons in the Regiment. One of them, David Carew, was killed in the Dardanelles, and a fourth son, Thomas, has joined Company H to fill the gap caused by the death of his brother. This is a most inspiring example. There are many places in the ranks to be filled. Who will follow this splendid lead and step forth and fill them?

Scott, of this city; also several nieces and nephews to all of whom we tender our sincere sympathy.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Mr. E. Sheppard is taking the advantage of the ice-bridge across the harbour to have his ferry boat Muriel put in good condition for her good work again when the ice is gone. This boat is a great convenience to the travelling public, and the wonder is how our friends across the way managed before this boat was put on.
Married at Carbonear on Thursday, Feb. 23rd, by Rev. Mr. Johnson, of the Methodist Church, Miss Pearl Martin, daughter of Mr. Thomas Martin, of this town, to Mr. Henry Howell, of Carbonear. The bride looked pretty in a suit of cream silk, with hat to match and carried a handsome bouquet. The many friends of the young couple wish them much happiness.
The McRae Bros. have the S. S. Euphrates in from Bell Island to-day with a load of coal and possibly they will have another load within a few days, so as to help to tide people over the cold weather. The firm is leaving no stone unturned, provided there is coal in it, and of course the public of Harbor Grace appreciate their efforts.
The mussel vendors are doing good business in their line just now, and find ready sale for the shell fish at 15 cents a bucket.
Mr. Ernest Simmons went to St. John's on Monday evening to attend the annual meeting of the Dock Company. He returned to town last night.
Mr. Walter Sellars, son of Mrs. Mark Sellars, of Bell Island, has been suffering during the past week with a serious attack of la grippe. He is very much improved now and hopes to be out again in a day or so.
The Ladies of the Patriotic Association of this town had a Soup Sociable, if we might call it such, in St. Paul's Hall, last night. Yes, a soup sociable is a very suitable term as excellent soup was served by the ladies at 10 cents a bowl, and the social part of the evening's proceedings was all that could be desired. The nice sum of $25.00 was realized for the W. P. A. Fund.

Word was received in town this forenoon of the sudden death of St. John's this morning of Mr. James Wall, formerly of this town. The remains will arrive by to-morrow's train for interment here.

Mr. Malcolm Pike, the winner of the three mile skating contest at the Rink last night is seriously ill as a result to-day, and Dr. Cron has to be in constant attendance. Over-exertion is no doubt the cause of the trouble.

Patriotic Family.

Mr. and Mrs. David Carew, Sr., of Patrick St., have given four sons to fight for the Empire and one of whom has already paid the supreme sacrifice. John and William went from here with the first draft, David with the 3rd contingent, and Thomas is now in training with H Company. It will be remembered that David Carew was killed in action in the Dardanelles last summer. Thomas has now taken his place. This should spur up some of our young men who have not yet offered themselves.

Mr. Justice Johnson's Decision.

COSTS AGAINST APPLICANT.
IN CHAMBERS.
In the Prohibition Plebiscite Act, 1915, and the Election thereunder on November 4th.

Application of Hon. Robert Watson and others, favoring Prohibition, for their costs of the recount.
Section 5 of the said Act applies to this question, the Election Act of 1913, mutatis mutandis. Section 199 (1) of the latter Act, reads:
"In case the recount or addition does not so alter the result of the poll as to affect the return, the Judge shall order the costs of the candidate appearing to be elected to be paid by the applicant, and the said deposit shall be paid out to the said candidate on account thereof so far as necessary, and the Judge shall tax the costs on giving his decision; and if the deposit is insufficient the party in whose favor costs are allowed shall have his action for the balance."
That sub-section would appear to be applicable in an election of candidates, but in my opinion it would have been better if it had been left to the Judge to say what costs, if any, should be payable in such a count of plebiscite vote as the present.

The recount lately had before me does not so alter the result of the poll as to affect the return" upon the question submitted at the said election.
Mr. Wanicombe's affidavit, upon which his application for recount was based, correctly alleged that at the counting of the votes of the district of St. John's East, of which he is an elector, the Returning Officer mistakenly received votes, and that the adding of the votes was, therefore, incorrect. At the recount I rejected 19 ballots, which had been accepted and counted. I am satisfied that the Returning Officer exercised his bona fide judgment when he accepted these votes (some of which were in the negative).

On every citizen lies the moral duty, if he has good cause to believe that the return has been mistakenly arrived at, of expediting a recount, where results of such magnitude are involved as in this plebiscite.
But the imperative words of this Statute render the applicant for this recount liable for costs, in the circumstances. If I had an option, I should not have awarded costs against him.

On Saturday, the 4th inst., at 10 a.m., in my Chambers, I shall tax the costs of Messrs. Hunt and Dunfield, who represented the Hon. Mr. Watson and others during the recount.
GEO. M. JOHNSON, Judge.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gentlemen,—My daughter, 13 yrs. old, was thrown from a sleigh and injured her elbow so badly it remained stiff and very painful for three years. Four bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT completely cured her and she has not been troubled for two years.
Yours truly,
J. B. LIVESQUE.

Ran Ashore and is Damaged.

The schooner Ponhook, fish laden by Job Bros. sailed for Brazil yesterday but had only sailed a half an hour when she had to return for repairs. While getting up canvas going down the shore she struck the land near "Wash Balls" and had her jib-boom carried away and loosened the stays of the foremast. She had to be towed back to the pier she left for repairs which will occupy a few days.
