Many Lines to New York. There are many lines who advertise their service to New York, but there is only one who runs direct to the city, and that is the New York Central, and its depot is right in the heart of the city, where passengers are landed without transfer or other annoyances. Ask for tickets by the New York Central for tickets by the New York Central.

London to New York. The best line from London to New York is via Grand Trunk and Lehigh Valley. Trains leave London at 3:45 and 10:25 a.m., 2:10, 4:35 and 6:20 p.m. Passengers landed in New York, uptown, near all first-class hotels, or downtown, near all European steamship docks, saving passengers for Europe a long and expensive transfer. Secure your tickets at Grand Trunk City or station ticket office.

A nursery near Mexico, Mo., contains 25,000 young fruit trees, pruned and cultivated to perfection. The Best Is All Out. To be sure you can't take the bad out of everything. But you can out of some things, as any one can take cod liver oil, for instance, with its disagreeable odor and taste; in Scott's Emulsion all the bad has been taken out, and you have just the oil without anything disagreeable. It is called "Cod liver oil made easy."

Tot Causes Night Alarm. "One night my brother's baby was taken with Croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Sailer, of Crittenden, Ky. "It seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve."

A SOUND STOMACH MEANS A CLEAR HEAD. The high pressure of a nervous life which business men of the present day are constrained to live makes draughts upon their vitality highly detrimental to their health. It is only by the most careful treatment that they are able to keep themselves alert and active in their various callings; many of them know the value of Parmenter's Vegetable Pills in regulating the stomach and consequently keeping the head clear.

Mr. Richard McNeill, of Richmond street north, died yesterday after a three weeks' illness from hemorrhage of the bowels. Miss McNeill was formerly employed in Smallman & Ingram's.

—The Arva Methodist Church holds its anniversary services on Sunday next. Sermons will be preached at 2:30 and 7 p.m. by Rev. J. K. Hickey, and R. Clarke, on Monday evening. Instead of the usual tea, a lecture will be delivered by John R. Clarke.

—Word was received at Sarnia on Wednesday from Kenneth Johnson, late of the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles, who is now en route to Canada on the steamship Idaho, but that he would remain with his company (B) until the close of the war.

—Mr. Ralph O'Neill, proprietor of the Central Hotel, Aylmer, died on Wednesday afternoon after a brief illness. He was 41 years of age. His funeral took place here this afternoon to Woodland cemetery.

—At the annual election of the Osgoode Legal and Literary Society, held Tuesday at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, Walter E. Seaborn, of this city, was defeated as councillor by five votes by M. C. Cameron, B.A., of Toronto. The contest was hot and furious, as the small majority shows, the vote of a number of Toronto barristers probably accounting for the Londoner's defeat.

—Farmers living on the Wharfedale road, in Westminister township, have experienced considerable annoyance lately from a band of gypsies camped in the locality. High Constable McLeod went to the camp on Wednesday with a warrant for the arrest of the gypsies on a charge of indecent exposure, but when he consulted the two ladies who made the complaint they refused to appear in court to prosecute. Hence the gypsies are still free.

THE PERFECT TYPEWRITER.

It is possible for a typewriter to win business confidence from her employer, and to become almost indispensable to the house she works for, and she ought to aim at this. Accuracy and common sense in her work must be supplemented by another quality, however, or she will never succeed. The other quality is absolute silence about what she knows as a confidential employee. To gossip about business matters is inexcusable. In fact, a breach of trust. I am afraid too many girls forget this fact—Cynthia Westover Allen, in Success.

PASTOR INDUCTED.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Rev. D. L. McCabe, Ph. D., late of Collingwood, was inducted to the pastorate of First and St. Andrew's Churches, Westminster. Rev. Jas. Little presided, and gave the vote to the pastoree. Rev. J. H. J. Currie, of Belmont, the charge to the minister, and Rev. A. J. McGinnis, of Belmont, the charge to the people. Revs. Alex. Henderson (clerk of the presbytery), J. G. Stuart, F. Ballantyne and E. H. Sawyers (the last two former pastors of the congregations) were also present. A large congregation completely filled the church. A public reception was held at night, at which a supper was served by the members of the congregation.

SMITH—McNAMARA.

A quiet and pretty wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, 628 York street, their daughter, Miss Minnie, being united in marriage to Mr. P. D. McNamara, of this city. The bride was Miss Minnie Smith, sister of the bride, and little Miss Rose Pass, attended in white silk, carried the wedding ring in a basket of roses. Mr. J. Linemant acted as best man. Rev. Thomas Wilson, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. The bride looked charming in a costume of white organdie, over blue silk, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white carnations; while the bridesmaid was attired in white, over pink silk, and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations. The ceremony took place under a canopy of white and roses, which, together with the other decorations, were artistically arranged. The ceremony over, the guests repaired to the dining-room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The presents were many and costly, evidencing the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. McNamara are held.

IN THE EAST END

Meeting in the Interests of Mr. James Gilmour.

The Conservative Candidate for East Middlesex—Speeches by the Candidate, E. Meredith, Q.C. and E. T. Essery.

There were about 200 people in the east end hall last night at the meeting held in the interests of Mr. James Gilmour, the Conservative candidate. The meeting throughout was a quiet and orderly one, and the two stalwart policemen who stood in the rear of the platform with him were a numerous and well-known east end Conservatives.

The chairman first introduced Mr. Edmund Meredith, Q.C. Mr. Meredith urged those present to vote for Mr. Gilmour, as he had proved a capable, painstaking and honest representative, than whom there was no shrewder man in parliament. He referred to the danger of apathy in the contest, and urged them to so work that Mr. Gilmour's majority, instead of 400, would be 1,000. He then referred to the remarks of Mr. George C. Gibbons, Q.C. at the Mills-Molok meeting, that a fair election would be guaranteed this time, and characterized it as an insult to the electors. Mr. Meredith spoke of West Elgin, West Huron and Brockville, and charged the minister of justice and the attorney-general of Ontario with not being just to the electors. He said that the government was responsible for the conditions which he said existed there. "Who pays this band of thieves?" asked the speaker. The Liberals had clamored against protection, he said, and had promised to do away with custom houses when they got into power. Yet how many custom officers had they done away with. Only chopped off the heads of some civil servants of Tory tendencies and put some chuckle-headed boy in his place. A civil servant named McDonald had been dismissed because another man named MacDonald had voted Tory. Mr. Essery next turned his words on the Globe, saying that George Brown's Globe was a newspaper, but the Globe today is bought as liver is bought in a meat market, and shells its contents to rule a bunch of pigs. When Laurier is in Quebec, says Mr. Essery, he makes the excuse to his French countrymen that the Queen forced him to take a decoration, but he makes no excuse for the French Legion of Honor ribbon he wears. The Queen gives titles sometimes, said Mr. Essery, because some of the men are Canadians. Are Canadians going to support this rebel? When Laurier was in France, he made statements that were a disgrace to a man who upheld British supremacy. Laurier was first in the public procession, but last in offering a contingent to England. When the contingent did not come, the Liberals and Conservative officers had to go as privates. The emergency rations sent were returned by the government. If the government were returned the electors would be sending back veiled traitors.

STREET CAR AND CARRIAGE

Collide With Results Less Serious Than Might Be Expected.

An eastbound car on Dundas street crashed into a carriage in which were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Abbott, at Waterloo street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Abbott drove across the tracks without noticing the car. The motorman did not expect them to cross, but as he saw the attempt to do so, he reversed the motor. Had he not done this as rapidly as he did the car would undoubtedly have passed over both Mr. and Mrs. Abbott, who were thrown upon the tracks. They were severely bruised and cut, Mrs. Abbott suffering more than her husband. Their injuries were attended by Dr. H. H. Piper. The car tender and buggy were badly smashed.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Verdict of Coroner's Jury in the Swanwick Inquest—Gates and Better Lighting Should Be Provided, They Say.

The coroner's jury in the inquest into the death of the late Mrs. Swanwick, who was killed while wheeling a bicycle across the G. T. R. tracks at Waterloo street, last night returned a verdict of death due to the deceased having disregarded the warning of her companions and the crossing watchman. The verdict also recommended that the G. T. R. Company provide gates at the crossing, and that the city change the position of the electric light near the crossing, so as to provide better illumination of the spot.

The inquest was conducted by Coroner MacLaren, and the jury was composed of the following gentlemen: J. W. Fletcher, J. H. Baron, S. R. Manness, S. C. Hessey, George Miller, J. B. Smyth, R. Northgroves, Fred Hazelgrove, Bart. Cochran, Levi L. Walpole, Chas. Cowan, Alex. Cameron, W. H. Chittick, S. Foxworthy, J. T. Burridge, Mr. J. C. Judd represented the G. T. R., and Mr. H. G. Fisher the friends of Mrs. Swanwick. The witnesses heard were Mr. E. H. Pinney, who was with Mrs. Swanwick at the time of the accident; Mr. H. Wallace, her father; Wm. Tyler, crossing watchman; Gus Frezzi, and Wm. Caswell, engineer and fireman respectively of the locomotive which struck Mrs. Swanwick; Michael O'Leary, yard foreman, and Dr. Drake. Mr. Pinney testified to having warned Mrs. Swanwick two or three times. The locomotive, he said, was going twenty miles an hour, and without whistle or bell sounding. He saw her riding, just before she died, in a zig-zag manner but did not see if her wheel had struck an obstacle. He said that other warnings were given, but that Mrs. Pinney heard. The railway employees corroborated another in stating that Mrs. Swanwick was warned by the crossing watchman, and that the engine was not going more than six miles an hour. Dr. Drake's evidence related to the condition of the body. He said the neck was dislocated, causing instant death and that the injury might have been sustained by the fall from the bicycle. There were fractures of the shoulder-blade and collar-bone.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing Is So Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick but are well and wish to keep well, take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the Tablets after eating, and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. H. Crostley, 533 Washington street, Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fit my children as a remedy for indigestion. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say "Tablets," and she gets everything else and runs for them.

A Buffalo mother a short time ago, no despaired of the life of her babe, who was suffering from indigestion, by giving the child these Tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie county, N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen,—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-months-old baby, which was sick and puny, and the doctors said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box, and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, 1897.

HENRY KAHIS,

Notary Public in and for Erie county, N. Y.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the Tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet Tablets in every box. Full-sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and all druggists should respect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles, whether in adults or infants.

ever have been sent into power at all? had defied common decency and shown itself unfit to rule a country school section. The party leaders had broken their words, and now had the brazen impudence to do what public men in the United States, England, France and Germany would not do. Expenditure and taxation had increased. Where now was Big Richard, Cartwright, "the big policeman of Ontario"? Muzzled like a dog in July, drawing his salary, with a heart so small it couldn't be seen with a telescope, and with his relatives feeding at every public crib. Mr. Essery then turned his attention to Postmaster-General Mulock, whom he characterized as the minister of the sweat box and sweating labor. He was sweating the poor postman and his wife and children. God help labor when it reaches ministerial hands from a thing like that. How many men in the audience, asked Mr. Essery, wrote more than four letters a month? Had penny postage filled their coal bins? The Liberals had clamored against protection, he said, and had promised to do away with custom houses when they got into power. Yet how many custom officers had they done away with.
