Removing to This City.
Kincairdine Review: The removal of Joseph Hockin, to London, means the removal of a family landmark from Kincairdine. He was here for near a half century, coming from the coast of Cornwall, Eng. For about a quarter century he carried the mails between the depot and the postoffice and spent his spare time in cobbling. He was always jolly and good-humored until two or three years ago when his health was shattered by a paralytic stroke. Mr. Hockin will spend the rest of his days at the home of a married daughter in London and his many old friends here hope they will be days of peace and content. For "Joe" was one of Kincairdine's "bright, particular stars." He added to the gaiety of the town. He did no one harm, but stood ready to do good. Good-bye, "Joe."

Frank Cooper, photographer, has removed to ground floor studio, 330b Dundas street, opposite armories.

OUR POULTRY IN THE LEAD

London Ahead of All Competitors in Their Exhibits.

This department in connection with the Ontario Fair is one around which a great deal of interest always centres. Although forty feet was added last year to the poultry building it was filled with the excellent exhibits made.

This year indicates that even larger things may be expected. For a great many years the late Mr. Allen Bogue, was chairman of this department, and always took a very keen interest in it. After his death Ald. J. H. Saunders was appointed chairman, and all who know him know that the interests of the poultry exhibitors will be well looked after under his charge.

Several new sections have been added to the list. Single entries have been given in the pigeon department at the request of the pigeon association. This should bring out a very large exhibit in this department. In addition to the ordinary prizes, ribbons have been offered by the West-ern Pigeon Association for the best birds in each section, open to members of their association. In the poultry, additional prizes have been offered by the Canadian White Wyandotte Club for their respective breeds open to members of these clubs. The Canadian Poultry Review of Toronto offers a bronze medal for the best bird in the show.

With these inducements this year should see one of the best exhibits of poultry ever entered at any Western exhibition. London has become famous all over the Dominion and throughout the United States as well, for their poultry, and many of the leading exhibitors have paid a large proportion of their first prize money in this department to London exhibitors. Exhibitors from the surrounding country should send their birds to London, knowing they will be in fast company.

Entry forms and all information will be given on application to the secretary.

I. C. R. PUBLICATIONS ARE APPRECIATED

Many Requests From Far-Away Places for Guide Books and Hunting Literature.

Some idea of the manner in which the attractions of the Intercolonial Railway have been exploited during the past few years may be gathered from the increasing number of requests for the guide book and descriptive folders issued by the railway that are daily being received by the general passenger department. Each mail brings many of these, the bulk of which are being residents of the United States. Of late there has been a big increase in the number of requests from the Western States, but the officials were most pleasantly surprised recently when a gentleman residing in Honolulu wrote asking for a copy of "Tours to Summer Haunts," and the various publications on hunting and fishing. A great many applications also come from people living in the Canadian West, which apparently indicates an increasing desire for knowledge concerning the east.

The I. C. R. publications have now a very wide circulation, due largely to the fact that they are ably edited and contain much that is readable and instructive. Like all other great railways the government has concluded that printer's ink is the best lubricant for rolling stock, a conclusion reached after plain evidence that the scenic attractions of the route and the splendid train service are becoming known in sections hitherto far removed.

CAN'T DROP QUEENSTOWN.

Liverpool, Aug. 21.—The Post understands that at their meeting yesterday, the directors of the Cunard Company, after anxious consideration, arrived at the informal conclusion that their fast boats must go south if a remunerative share of first-class traffic is to be retained, but that the terms of the mail contract with the Government, which still has nineteen years to run, preclude the abandoning of Queenstown, and that on political grounds the Government declines to yield.

London Tramps Were Rounded Up

In Raid Made by Hamilton Police

Farmers' Wives and Others Were

Terrified—Names of the Londoners.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Hamilton, Aug. 21.—Revolver shots were fired by the local police this morning during a sensational round-up of a gang of tramps who have been terrorizing farmers' wives residing in the vicinity of the Valley Inn. The tramps had been hanging about the vicinity for some time back, making a deep and almost inaccessible ravine their headquarters. Their tactics were to wait until the farmers had left for the fields, when they put in an appearance and demanded food. If any questions were asked or if the women hesitated to grant their demands the tramps made dire threats and used insulting language. The nerve of the fellows grew to such an extent that the county police were notified. About the same time the city police received a telephone message for aid. Detective Campbell, Sergt. Knox, Constable John Clark and Patrol Driver Wheatley went to the Plains road in the patrol.

People Excited.

The residents were greatly excited when the police arrived, and they lost no time in pointing out to the officers the gang's hiding place. As the patrol was being driven along the road the officers came across two men sitting in the grass. They appeared to be suspicious characters and were arrested, being handcuffed. The patrol kept on and finally came to a stop about a mile east of the Valley Inn. It was left in charge of the patrol driver while the other three officers jumped out and headed for the ravine. It was difficult work finding the suspects, as the ravine is about 150 feet deep and covered with almost impenetrable undergrowth. Finally, the officers came upon five tramps sitting on the ground. The slouches approached carefully, but the tramps saw them, and ran away. One man was grabbed by Constable Bolton. Constable Clark chased two more and fired his revolver over their heads. The two men dropped as the shot, and the policemen handcuffed them.

London Men.

The three men arrested in the ravine and the two on the highway gave their names and addresses as follows: Jas. McDonald, Montreal; James Millen, New York; Wm. Hall, London; Harvey Sherritt, London, and Thomas Brown, Brantford. Brown was one of those sitting on the roadside, and he produced papers which would make it appear that he is no tramp. His companion also appears to be respectable. Nothing is known, however, of the three arrested in the ravine.

The five prisoners will appear before the magistrate today as common vagrants.

SAYS THE BIBLE IS FULL OF ERRORS

Rockefeller's Pastor Aked Declares Sacred Book a Patchwork of Blunders.

New York, Aug. 20.—John D. Rockefeller, sen., upholds "higher criticism" of the Bible, and is not only backing with his millions the University of Chicago, the greatest centre of "higher criticism" in the United States, but is applauding and supporting his pastor and leader of the fashionable Fifth Avenue Baptist Church of New York, Dr. Charles Frederick Aked, who has come out in Appleton's magazine with an attack on the Bible exceeding in directness anything ever emanating from Rockefeller's university.

"In the pages of the Bible," says Dr. Aked, "are to be found historical errors, arithmetical mistakes, inconsistencies and manifold contradictions, and what is far worse, one finds that the most horrible crimes are committed by men who plead 'God said,' in justification of their terrible misdeeds."

Dr. Aked insists that he is attacking the claim for infallibility of the Bible, and he asserts that this claim for a book in which it is possible for a child to discover errors is driving many intelligent people away from the church.

The total foreign commerce of the United States during 1907 amounted to $2,652,840,939. This is at the rate of $10,000,000 a day. The inland commerce of the United States last year probably amounted to at least $25,000,000,000, which is at the rate of $68,000,000 a day. The inland commerce is therefore nearly seven times as great as the foreign commerce.
