MYSTERIOUS FIRE AT INGERSOLL

Ingersoll, May 7.—A fire broke out on Charles street yesterday afternoon in the premises of W. Noe. The fire had considerable headway before it was noticed, and when the brigade was called it was impossible to save the building. It was totally destroyed. The people managed to save a sewing machine and an organ. There was no insurance. The origin of the blaze is a mystery, as there was no fire in the house at the time.

HAMILTON PAID ENORMOUS INTEREST

Hamilton, May 7.—For the use of $165,000 for 30 years, the city of Hamilton has paid the neat sum of $297,000 in interest alone, being at the rate of 6 per cent. Waterworks debentures to the amount of $165,000 were issued in 1880, and they are being redeemed now.

The city treasurer was surprised this morning to figure out that the city had paid such an enormous amount of interest. City debentures are now selling at 4 per cent.

FINTON IN COURT REMANDED FOR WEEK

Hamilton, May 7.—Thomas Finton, charged with the murder of his father, Elijah Finton, at Stony Creek, appeared at the police court this morning, and on request of Crown Attorney Washington, was remanded until Thursday next. No evidence was taken.

LATE KING EDWARD SEVENTH.

LONDON ENVELOPED IN GLOOM FLAGS FLOATING AT HALF MAST

Church Bells Told Out the Sad News—Crowds in Front of The Advertiser Bulletins—Seventh Regiment Band in Armories Rendered the Dead March From Saul—A Period of General Mourning.

"The King Is Dead!"
The news flashed on the bulletin boards spread with great rapidity last night.

It was shortly after 7 o'clock, when The Advertiser received a flash saying that the King of England had died. There was a large crowd of baseball fans awaiting the scores, and when the bulletin was posted, they were awed into silence, and they slowly melted away.

The news was soon circulated all over the city, and from 7 o'clock until midnight, hundreds of people came to The Advertiser bulletins to make certain that there had been no mistake.

Tolling of Bells.
The church bells commenced tolling shortly after half-past seven. St. Paul's Cathedral bell was the first, followed by the First Methodist Church, St. Peter's Cathedral and others.

The tolling startled the citizens, and constant inquiries were made as to the cause. "Telephones rang incessantly, asking the cause of the tolling. "The King died a few minutes ago," was the answer. The news came as a great shock, many holding the phone for some seconds, apparently dazed by the tidings.

Flags at Half-Mast.
Flags were soon flying at half mast. Mayor Beattie was notified, and he ordered the city flag to fly in honor of the dead sovereign. Flags on the Government buildings were run to half-mast, and although dark, the signs of mourning were in evidence.

At Wolseley Barracks, the Union Jack was lowered at "Retreat," and this morning the royal standard flew at half-mast.

Crowds came down town to see if there would be any demonstration, but there was none. The people quietly went home, and except in front of the newspaper offices, there were few on the street.

At the Armories.
The officers of the Seventh Regiment were taking part in their weekly drill. Lieut.-Col. A. A. Campbell was in command when he was told the news. He immediately called the regiment to attention.

"I have sad news for you," he said.

DOG BITE MAY CAUSE DEATH OF COUPLE

Aged Man and Wife in Hospital and Their Recovery Is Doubtful.

Toronto, May 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christie, of Niagara-on-the-Lake, are now in the General Hospital suffering from rabies, and owing to their advanced age it is doubtful whether they will recover. Each is more than 60 years old. The animal which bit them was killed after a long chase, and the head sent to Dr. Amyot, provincial analyst, who found positive signs of advanced rabies in the animal. As the dog bit several other dogs at Niagara-on-the-Lake, it would not surprise the officials if other rabies patients came to Toronto from there.

A few days ago Mr. Christie went to the kitchen of her home, and was attacked by the dog, which had run into the house and was lying on the floor. The animal took a piece of flesh from one of Mrs. Christie's legs. She screamed and her husband rushed into the kitchen, only to be attacked and bitten in almost the same place. He drove the dog out of the house into the woodshed, from where it escaped, and ran about, biting and snapping at other animals in the village. Neighbors were notified, and a general alarm was sounded through the village, with the result that the animal was cornered and shot.

Since the first of February, there have been 115 rabies patients at the hospital.

"King Edward VII, one of the greatest rulers the world has ever seen, is dead. We sorrow greatly because of his death. He was a sovereign whom we loved and revered, and we regret greatly his loss at this critical moment. His last words: 'Well, it's all over, but I think I have done my duty,' should be an encouragement to us. If we do our duty to ourselves, to our family, to our country, and our God, we, too, may die as happy as the King."

The Dead March.
The Seventh Regiment Band, 40 strong, under Bandmaster Slater, struck up the Dead March, from "Saul."

The soldiers stood at attention like veterans, and during the half hour the sad weird music of the march sounded, whose strains had not been heard for some time, and the crowd present to see the weekly drill, stood with bared heads, deeply affected by the scene.

When the band finished, the soldiers were dismissed, and drill was called off until a week from Monday. It was the intention of the regiment to parade to church on Sunday, but this was called off out of respect for the dead King.

Will Wear Crepe.
The officers of the regiment will wear bands of crepe on their arms for three months, as a sign of mourning for their sovereign.

Col. W. E. Hodgins, D. O. C. was at the Armories, and when the news came to him, he immediately ordered the flag at half-mast.

He could not give any information as to what changes would be made in the military demonstration planned for May 24.

The sorrow of the people was sincere. Among the old-timers the visit of the King here in 1860 was still fresh in their minds, and they spoke of him with reverence and love.

A Special Meeting.
A special meeting of the council will be called to see what plans for a memorial service will be made. It is probable that a service will be held in one of the large churches, and the death of the King suitably commemorated.

General Hospital, 60 of whom showed absolute signs of rabies.

As the battle in the country are now being put out in pasture, the provincial authorities state that there is more need than ever of enforcing the rabies regulations to the letter, and notices will be sent out to that effect.

DR. McLAREN DEAD

Pastor of Union Chapel in Manchester and Author.

London, May 7.—The Rev. Dr. Alexander McLaren, of the Union Chapel, Manchester, died yesterday.

The Rev. Dr. McLaren was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1826. He was educated at the Glasgow High School and Glasgow University. He was graduated from Stepney, now Regent's Park College, and in 1846 he became minister of Portland Chapel in Southampton. Since 1858 he was minister of Union Chapel, Manchester. He received the degree of B. A. from London, Litt. D. from Victoria, and D. D. from Edinburgh.

He published many of his sermons and was the author of "A Spring Holiday in Italy," and a "Life of David" and other works.

Boy Scouts.

Fourteen boy scouts left the Y. M. C. A. last evening at 6:05, and marched to a point on the line of the Southwestern Traction Company, about a mile south of the city. The boys were in heavy marching order and they camped there all night. One of them fell into the creek while washing himself, but otherwise there were no mishaps.

WHOLE FAMILIES PERISHED

Wiped Out by the Explosion of Coal Mine in Alabama.

Palos, May 7.—Rescue parties in the ill-fated mine, No. 3, of the Palos Coal and Coke Company, are today gradually working their way toward the 2,300-foot level, where it is believed the largest number of bodies will be found. Thirty-four bodies already have been found in the mine, where between 100 and 150 lost their lives in Wednesday's explosion.

All the bodies are horribly mangled, and can only be identified from brass checks which they carried in their pockets.

In several instances entire families were wiped out by the explosion. A miner named Pennington and his three sons, are among the dead, while all the male members of the Stansberry family—four brothers—were killed.

Many women have not slept since the disaster, and a few are still waiting for news from the tomb. After vainly waiting for her son to be rescued, one woman became insane.

Representatives of the Red Cross and other societies are on the scene, and have taken steps for the relief of the families of the victims, some of whom are penniless.

Personal Mention

Mr. Victor Kemp left last night for Fort William.

Mr. Fred Bridgman of 244 Hyman street has left on a three months' trip to Winnipeg, Vancouver and Seattle.

The many London friends of Mr. Edward C. Johnston will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed organist of the First Methodist Church of Mitchell. The organ is a very good one, and the church has a fine choir. He has entered on his duties and met with a very flattering reception.
