The The Famous Novel by VAUGHAN KESTER

Hicks had taken his time in responding to the judge's summons, but now his step just how his friend's act would appeal to sounded in the hall, and throwing open the judge. He need not have distressed the door he entered the room. Whether consciously or not, he had acquired something of that surly, forbidding manner himself on that score, since the judge's was characteristic of his employer A curt nod of the head was his only greet-

Ricks signified by another movement of the head that he would not. "This is a very dreadful business!" began the judge softly.

"Ain't it?" agreed Hicks. "What have fou got to say to me?" he added petu-Fou got to say to me?" he added petuinntly.

"Have you started to drag the bayou?"
asked the judge. Hicks nodded. "That was your ided?" suggested the judge.

"No, it wa'n't," objected Hicks quickly.
"But I said she had been actin' like she was plumb distracted ever since ('harley the overseer's throat was plumb distracted ever since Charley

"How?" inquired the judge, arching his eyebrows. Hicks was plainly disturbed by the question. seen it, too."
"He spoke of it?"

The judge regarded Hicks long and intently and in silence. His magnificent ward the knife mind was at work. If Betty had been dis-"You didn't traught he had not observed any sign of it the previous day. If Ware were better informed as to her true mental state why "He was here yesterday." had he chosen this time to go to Mem-

"I suppose Mr. Ware asked you to keep an eye on Miss Malroy while he was away from home?" said the judge. Hicks, uspicious of the drift of his questioning, made no answer. "I suppose you told the house servants to keep her under ob-servation?" continud the judge. "I don't talk to no niggers," replied "except to give 'em my orders.

"Well, did you give them that order?"

Thar warn't no George, mind you,

"There's a nigger for you!" said Hicks "She took the rascal out of the field, was seen dressed him like he was a gentleman and the hall." pampered him up, and now first chance he gets he runs off." "Ah!" said the judge softly. "Then you

"Of course I knew—wa'n't it my business to know? I reckon he was off skylarking, and when he'd seen the mess he'd made the trilling fool took to the woods. Well, he eatches it when I lay hands on him!"

ands on him?"
"Do you know when and under what judge under his breath, "Win you come in reumstances the team was stabled, Mr. circumstances the team was stabled, Mr. I don't, but I recken it must een along after dark," said Hicks have been along after dark," said Hicks, unwillingly. "I seen to the feeding just after sundown like I always do, then I went to supper," Hicks vouchsafed to

"And no one say or heard the team

"Not as I know of," said Hicks. "Mas'r Carrington done gone off to get a pack of dawgs-he 'lows hit's might' important to find what's come of George, Hicks started violently at this piece of

"I reckon he'll have to travel a right mart distance to find a pack of dogs, he muttered. "I don't know of none this side of Colonel Bates's, down below Girard.

The judge was lost in thought. He permitted an interval of silence to elapse which Hicks's glance slid round in a furtive circle. "When did Mr. Ware set out for Mem-is?" asked the judge at length.

"Early yesterday. He goes there pretty often on business.

Hicks nodded. "Did he speak of Malroy?" Hicks shook his head." "Did you see her during the afternoon?"
"No-maybe you think these niggers ain't enough to keep a man stirring?"
said Hicks uneasily, and with a scowl.
The judge noticed both the uneasiness and every minute of your time, Mr. Hicks," suddenly offensive.

Look here, what right have you got to try and pump me?" cried Hicks.

For no discernible reason Mr. Cavendish

I consider you a damned scoundrel!" con-Mr. Cavendish, accepting the judge's ultimatum as something which must debar Hicks from all further consideration, and being, as he was, exceedingly active and energetic by nature, if one passed over the various forms of gainful industry, uttered a loud whoop and threw himself on the overseer. There was a brief struggle and Hicks went down with the Earl of Lambeth astride of him; then from his boot leg that knightly soul flash-ed a horn-handled tickler of formidable wood came to West Tennessee," y

The judge, Yancy and Mahaffy sprang painfully shocked at the spectacle of Mr. Cavendish's lawless violence. Yancy was Cavendish's lawless violence. Yancy was disturbed, too, but not by the moral aspects of the case; he was doubtful as to

A Physical Wreck

Suffered Tortures from Nervousness. Miss Marguerite Lees, 91 Robert St., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was a wreck, reduced in body, and despondent. I suffered tortures from nervous-ness, and was totally unfitted for work. A friend recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I commenced taking it and by the time the second bottle was consumed I knew that I was mending. Gradually I grew well. I have used Hood's since. I would not be without It on any account, and do most enthuastically endorse every word in its Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold wife by all druggists every There.

above the two men. "What do you want to know, Judge?" eried Cavendish, panting from his exertions. "Til learn this perrot to talk the overseer's throat.

"I don't know anything about Miss Betty," said Hicks in a sullen whisper. webrows. Hicks was plainly disturbed "Maybe' you don't, but what do you know about the boy?" Hicks was silent, but he was grateful for the judge's question. "The spoke of it?"

"Yes, sir; him and me discussed it to-, Why should be shelter the colonel at visit."

"He spoke of it?"

"Yes, sir; him and me discussed it to-, why should be shelter the colonel at visit."

"He spoke of it?"

"Yes, sir; him and me discussed it to-, why should be shelter the colonel at visit."

"He spoke of it?"

"The spoke of it?"

"Yes, sir; him and me discussed it to-, why should be shelter the colonel at visit."

"He spoke of it?"

"The spok Colonel Fentress's interest in the boy. The should be shelter the colonel at risk of himself? "If you please, Mr. Cavensh!" said the judge quietly, nodding to ard the knife.
"You didn't ask me about him?" said feeks quietly.
"I do now," said the judge.

"I colonel Fentress's interest in the boy. The woman and what became of the weeman and what became of the child; are they living or dead; did the daughter grow up and marry and have a son? When I get my answer it will be time enough to think of Gates will be time enough to think of Gate "Yes, sir; him and me discussed it to- Why should be shelter the colonel at risk ther."

The colonel at risk to himself? "If you please, Mr. Caven-

'Wait!" cried Hicks. "You go to Colel Fentress.' "Let him up, Mr. Cavendish; that's all we want to know," said the judge.

> CHAPTER XXXX. Colonel Fentress.

The judge had not forgotten his ghost, the ghost he had seen in Mr. Saul's office that day he went to the court house on "No, I didn't."

The sudden and hurried entrance of big idling—principally the latter—drunk or sober—principally the former—the ghost, sober—principally the former—the ghost. Ir. Hicks to a standstill.

"Mas'r, you know dat ar coachman George—the big black fellow dat took you into town las' evenin'? I jes' been down at Shanty Hill, whar Milly, his wife, is carryin' on something scandalous 'cause George ain't never come home!" Steve was laboring under intense excitement, but he ignored the presence of the overled the long years, and the 'shame of the relative—drunk or solve—drunk or sober—principally the former—the ghost, otherwise Colonel Fentress, had preserved a place in his thoughts, and now as he noved stolidly up the drive toward Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, in the story of the wenty-four hours I'll smash you!" roared the judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of Fentress, judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, judge." "Your name isn't Fentress, judge. seer and addressed himself to Slocum ed the long years, and the shame of the Mas'r, but dar was his team in de stable dis mo'nin' and lookin' mighty nigh done up with hard drivin'."

"Yes," interrupted Hicks uneasily; "put a pair of lines in a nigger's hands and he'll run any team off its legs!" He only paused when he stood on the which hard drivin."

"Yes," interrupted Hicks uneasily; "put a pair of lines in a nigger's hands and he'll run any team off its legs!"

"An' the kerriage all scratched up from being thrashed through the bushes," addade of the door. The blows echoed loudly through the silent house, and an instant lines in the door. The blows echoed loudly through the silent house, and an instant later Fentress' tall sware figure. instant later Fentress' tall, spare figure vas seen advancing from the far end of

"Who is it?" he asked.
"Judge Price—Colonel Fentress," said the judge.

"Colonel Fentress-Mr. Mahaffy, Mr. Yancy and Mr. Cavendish." Again the olonel bowed. "Will you step into the library?"

"Very good," and the judge followed he colonel down the hall. halfy he had seen before; Yancy and Cavendish were, of course, strengers to him, but their appearance explained them; last of all his giance shifted to the judge. He had heard something of those activities by means of which Slocum Price had striven to distinguish himself, and "Furthermore, we were once gentlement." striven to distinguish himself, and eldom equalled, and but for his mellow, misconception was possible about either.

"May I offer you a glass of liquor?" asked Fentress, breaking the silence. He stepped to the walnut sideboard, where there was a decanter and glasses. By a gesture the judge declined the invitation, gesture the judge declined to the walnut sideboard, where a gesture the judge declined the invitation, gesture the judge declined to the walnut sideboard, where a gesture the judge declined the invitation, gesture the judge bowed with splendid courtes. talked with Mr. Ware before he stepped to the walnut sideboard, where Hicks nodded. "Did he speak of there was a decanter and glasses. By a gesture the judge declined the invitation, whereat the colonel looked surprised, but not so surprised as Mahaffy. There was no surprised as Mahaffy.

another silence.
"I don't think we ever met before?" observed Fentress. There was something in the fixed stare his visitor was bending should imagine they would absorb upon him that he found disquicting, just could not tell.

every minute of your time, Mr. Hicks," he agreed affably.

"A man's got to be a hog for work to hold a job like mine," said Hicks sourly.
"But it came to your notice that Miss Malroy has been in a disturbed mental state ever since Mr. Norton's murder? I state ever since Mr. Norton's murder? I am interested in this point, Mr. Hicks, because your experience is so entirely at variance with my own. It was my privilege to see and speak with her yesterday afternoon; I was profoundly impressed by her naturalness, and composure."

The her naturalness, and composure."

The judge smiled and then he leaned forward across the desk. "What were you doing up here early this morning—hasn't a hog for work like you got any business of his sown at that fixed stare of the judge's continued. No, the man had not changed entire that fixed stare of the judge's continued. No, the man had not changed wontlined. No, the man had not changed when he had grown older, certainly, but age continued. No, the man had not changed when he had grown older, certainly, but age continued. No, the man had not changed when he had not come ungracefully; he became the glossy broadcloth and spotless linen he wore. Here was a man who could command the good things of life, using them with a rational temperance. The room itself was in harmony with his character; it was plain but rich in its appointments, the well-filled cases ranged about the walls showed his tastes to be in the main scholarly and intellectual.

"How long have you lived here" asked the judge abruptly. Fentress seemed to hesitate; but the judge's glance, compelling the proposition of But that fixed stare of the judge's for work like you got any business of his the judge abruptly. Fentress seemed to own at that hour?" The judge's tone was hesitate; but the judge's glance, compelling and insistent, demanded an answer.

"You have known many men of all For no discernible reason Mr. Cavendish classes as a lawyer and a planter?" said the judge. Fentress inclined his head.
"Mr. Hicks," said the judge, urbane and "The judge took a step nearer him. "People have a great trick of combrace." gracious, "I believe in frankness." have a great trick of coming and going in these western states—all sorts of demand rift and desired to the desired rift and desired rift and desired rift. judge's altered tone.

"Therefore I do not hesitate to say that new lands." A deadly earnestness lifted new lands." A deadly earnestness lifted the judge's words above mere rudeness. Fentress, cold and distant, made no reply. For the past twenty years I have been he quite lacked an interpreter. The > "Ever hear of him, Fentress?" demandne."

> the judge with a savage scowl.
> "What's all this to me?" The w There was a brief came with a gasp from Fentress' tw open his wounds. He reached over and poured himself a drink, sucking it down with greedy lips. "There was a wife—" embrace historical memoranda, diaries

After Abdul Hamid was deposed the revolutionists made every possible eftheir hiding-place in a hidden chamber closet in his bedroom, which was These journals filled 500 boxes. They are said to compromise several members of the new regime, who are making desperate efforts to prevent their

MONTREAL REAL ESTATE

Church.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Jan. 5.-The real estate

eason has opened here with extraordinary prices prevailing. To begin depth of 110 feet, which could erine street bought for $91,092 has drawn an offer for $210,000. It has a frontage of about 50 feet and 100 feet

Conference.

[Canadian Press.]

all the leading Canadan cities.

SHOE MACHINERY CO.

Member of a Monteal Concern is Satisfied With Its Dealings.

[Canadia Press.]

conpetition was not necessary.

"I judge not."

"Simply because you are not free

"It is merely a matter of opinion

CRIME IN PARIS

French Capital Is Suffering From a Series of Murders and Robberies.

now from a series of daring crimes including murders, attempted mur-

Paris, Jan. 5.—Paris is suffering just

Monereal, Jan. . -- After receiving

| electrical contrivance publication.

"There was a wife, Fen tress—" He fixed Fentress with his blazing eyes. "A wife and child. Well one day Gatewood and the wife were missing. Under the chromstances Gatewood's friend was well rid of the pair-he should have been grateful, but he wasn't, for his wife took his child, a Journal Holds Record of His Thirty Years Despotism daughter; and Gatewood a trifle of thirty thousand dollars his friend had intrusted at Constantinople.

There was another silence.

"At a later day I met this man who had been betrayed by his wife and robbed by his friend. He had fallen out of the race—drink had done for him—there was just one thing he seemed to care about, and that was the fate of his child, but maybe he was only curious there. He wondered if she had lived and married—" Once more the judge paused.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 5.—It has been decided to publish the so-called "Journal of Al dul Hamid," a Constantinople dispatch to the Daily Chronicle reports. They are the most authentic records of his terrible thirty-three years' reign, and throw a valuable light on social conditions and court life. They ore the judge paused.

"What's all this to me?" asked Fensocial conditions and court life. They one idea was to profit by it. With his hands on his knees he was now bending "Are you sure it's nothing to you?" demanded the judge hearsely. "Understand this, Fentress. Gatewood's treachery brought ruin to at least two lives. It caused the woman's father to hide his testimony of unbeard of companies. face from the world; it wasn't enough for him that his friends believed his daughter dead-he knew differently, and the shame of that knowledge ate into his soul.

It cost the husband his place in the world, fort to discover the journals, but in too—in the end it made him a vagabond vain, until Abdul Hamid disclosed and a penniless wanderer."
"This is nothing to me," said Fentress.
"Wait!" cried the judge. "About six years ago the woman was seen at her shut and opened by an ingenuous datewood had cast her off. She didn't go back empty-handed. She had run away from her husband with a child—a girl;

you know me now" "He was here yesterday."
"Mr. Cavendish——" and again the dge glanced toward the knife.
"Fentress' expression never altered. The judge fell back a step.
"Fentress I went the how" he said.

"What boy?"

with Mr.McGreevy, who has been dickering for St. James Methodist You are mad! What do I know of him or you?" Fentress was gaining courage from the sound of his own voice. "You know who he is and where he is. of $2,000,000 spot cash which will our business relations with General likely prove acceptable to the trus-Ware have put you on the track of the Quintard lands in this state. You intend to use the boy to gather them in."

"You're mad!" repeated Fentress.
"Unless you bring him to me inside of twenty-four hours I'll smash you!" roared the judge. "Your name isn't Fentress, it's Gatewood! you've stolen the name of erine street bought for $91,692 has er and addressed himself to Slocum open shame that had swept away pride and self-respect, came back to him out of the past.

"Well, what of that?" cried Hicks and self-respect, came back to him out of the past.

"Ther warn't no George mind you." He only paused when he steed on the long years, and the shame of the you've been—the thief you are! I'll strip you and turn you out of doors as naked as when you entered the world!" The judge seemed to tower above Fentress, the man had shot up out of his deep de-basement. "Choose! Choose!" he thundered, his shaggy brows bent in a menacing frown. "I know nothing about the boy," said

Fentress slowly.

"You lie!" stormed the judge.

"I know nothing about the boy," and Fentress took a step toward the door.

"Stay where you are!" commanded the judge. "If you attempt to leave the room to call your niggers, I'll kill you on its for a general Canadian organization

But Yaney and Cavendish had stepped sentative men at its head, the con-"Judge Price," uncertainly, and still evident, and Fentress' thin face east itward Movement closed here this after-and the other at Lake Couchihing. donie grin. "I look to you to return him. Stir yourself, Gatewood, or I'll hold so fierce ford will be held on March 26 and 27, When they entered the library Fentress urned and took stock of his guests. Malaffy he had seen before; Yaney and friend so heree to had seen before; Yaney and strongly he had seen before the his overwrought nerves ed next fall in both places by eight down had a certain curiosity respecting the At present I am what I am, while you are an. It was immediately satisfied. The a hound and a blackguard. We'll settle this as becomes our breeding." He poured this as becomes our breeding. He poured this as becomes our breeding. He poured this as becomes our breeding of liquor from effulgent personality might well have passed for a common vagabond; and if his dress advertised the state of his finances, his face explained his habits. No

> "Nothing could please me nan others. he declared. He turned to thmatter. Gentlemen, this is a private I shall When I have met Colonel Fent why this when I have met Colonel Fent why this dealing it had had with the Shoe with the I have met Colonel Fent why this dealing it had had with the Shoe when I have met Colonel Fent why this dealing it had had with the Shoe When I have met Colonel Fellywhy this made a public announcement til then I appeared necessary to me; given publicity. May I ask your sileed from the licity. May I ask your sileed from the > competition was not necessary. As a matter of fact competition existed a matter of fact competition existed in the ghost of a smale evil, the judge As if the very placetoward the road.

>
> As if the very placetoward the road on his firm was not interested in the movement. surried down the dand turned on his them however At the gate he pavatures wore a look > ompanions, but be comment or questo buy them," snapped the lawyer for the complainant companies.

>
> Mr. Holden acknowledged that unwealth of the fractional part of United Shoe Company they could not resources to you." United Shoe Company they could not my obligatio!" said Yancy, as much buy outside machines. Anyhow they Think of the judge's manner as did not want them.

by his woods shall keep his place in "His U life! We'll watch him grow my grant together." The judge was into mred. A smile of deep content visibly Yancy's lips as his muscular partesed about the judge's with fine of the process of the could sell it and he anspect to whom he could sell fingelorce.

' cried Cavendish, delighted at cruy." cried Cavendish, delighted at significant of Yancy's love for the the gleefully smote the austere was next asked.

"It is merely a matter of opinion," "For the past twenty years I have been the quite lacked an interpreter. The looking for a man by the name of Gate's looked back at the house, wood—David Gatewood." Disciplined affine: he muttered. "The clothes he he was, the colonel started violentiands in—the food he eats—mine! but I think it would," said Mr. Hol-

To Be Continued.

brief came with a gasp from Fendess the the ing lips. The judge looked at him, and frowning. "I have reason to think this may flash." "I have reason to think this may flash."

and Mahaffy sprang

Mr. Mahaffy was the spectacle of Mr. This man Gatewood, who by had the spectacle of Mr. This man Gatewood, who by had the spectacle of Mr. This man Gatewood, who by had the spectacle of Mr. This man face seeiness positively cures Leucorrhea, Ulceration, colonel winced—"this man fine as Displacements, Falling of the Womb, the moral asolonel winced—"this than the as friend who threw moneyexisted Painful or Irregular Periods, Eterine and Instance of the Tribunal of the First Instance of the Seine. The man waitcolonel winced—"this man fine as a friend who threw moneyexisted in his way—a planter hexpensive Gatewood. A sort of parsince he between the pair. It prodred more that the pair is the more as time / Fentress' sums of money was expressionless and more as time / Fentress' sums of money was expressionless and as ridderstood that By the door stofness and as ridderstood that By the d is to be published Free To Thin Folks SHE HAD

Send Today for Free 50c Box New Discovery Which Was Awarded Gold Medal at Brusser

The Mirror Shows Plainer Than Words What a Wonderful Improvement May Be Realized by a Gain of Even 10 or 12 Pounds.

mentary comment.

Lean, lank, skinny, scrawny men and trated tablet form. A week's supply can be carried in the vest pocket. ay Free Offer before it expires.

No one need know what you are doing until your gain in weight causes compliday Free Offer before it expires.

GETTING BIG PRICES s the plump, well-developed man there is the special offer for the purpose cuts the melons" and has the fun of convincing thin people in this commun-It is the plump, well-developed man socially.

Scrawny, skinny women are seldom popular. We all admire fine figures. No dressmaker can hide a bony, skinny form. All the series of the coupon below, a free 50 cent package of Sargol. socially.

Here is a chance to test free the one guaranteed, reliable treatment which has "made good" for years in this country, which has taken England by storm, and which was awarded a gold medal and diploma of honor at Brussels, Belgium, n 1910. Another gold medal at Rome in Church, now comes over with an offer Nothing in history has ever approached the marvellous success of this new treat-ment, which has made more thin folkks tees. Four St. Catherine street stores tees. Four St. Catherine street stores plump than all the "tonics" and ineffec-with a frontage of 74 feet and a live medicines for fifty years. There is a reason. Plump, well-formed men and women assimilate what they eat.

Thin, scrawny ones do not. This new discovery supplies the one thing which thin folks lack; that is, the power to assimilate food. It renews the vigor, re-establishes the normal, all in nature's own way. It is not a lash to jaded nerves, but a enerous upbuilder. This new discovery puts on firm, solid flesh at the rate of ten to thirty pounds month in many cases. Best of all—the flesh "stays put." The treatment is furnished in concen-FORWARD MOVEMENT General Canadian Organization WATERWAYS BOARD Planned at the Ottawa

Ottawa, Jan. 5.-After deciding upon Many Unsettled Problems To Engage general campaign throughout the Attention of New Members.

whole of Canada, to be opened in Ottawa, Jan. 5 - The Canadian Brantford and Hamilton, and planning section of the International Waterwith a committee of forty-nine repreways Commission has been holding sessions all this week in preparation for the first joint sitting, which will "Judge Price," uncertainly, and still advancing.

"I had flattered myself that you must have heard of me," said the judge.

"I think I have," said Fentress, pausing now.

"He thinks he has!" muttered the judge under his breath, "was more a greation than as invitation.

"If you are at liberty." The colonel advancing ward Movement closed here this after he was feeling the judge day. Many important questions are to it self in haggard lines. He was feeling the judge that there should be ability to deal with a supreme situation.

It was agreed that there should be a meeting of the committee of eleven already chosen to pick from Canada a committee of forty-nine, of whom the next meal or the next datable between the properties of the st. John's River, which separates New Brunston has been and loose of tongue and deed, a noisy tavern here, but now he saw that he was filling what must have the International Sundayto attending company has asked for the right. "If you are at liberty." The colonel deed, a noisy tayorn here, but now he smith will be in gantaged by the judge continued, saw that he was filling what must have company has asked for the right followed. "Allow me," the judge continued, saw that he was filling what must have been the measure of his manhood.

"Colonel Fentress—Mr. Mahaffy, Mr. been the measure of his manhood." "I tell you I had no hand in carrying gress. Two gatherings will be held Ridevelop power on the Richelieu off the boy," said Fentress with a sar- during the summer, one at Winnipeg plain. This range from Lake Chamthe plan would not lower the level of The preliminary campaign in Brantthe lake on the American side of the and in Hamilton on the two following There are several western questions to come before the board. The ed next fall in both places by eight-day Minnesota Canal and Power Company campaigns, which are aso planned for desire to divert water from Birch Lake, Minn., through the St. Louis River, which emptles near Duluth into Lake Superior. The Birch Lake FINDS A DEFENDER the Woods, and, it is claimed, it would basin is connected with the Lake of affect Canadian interests. Even the city of Winnipeg power scheme, it is said, would be hurt. Another problem is the old dispute over the St. Mary's and Milk Rivers, which rise in Montana and run through Alberta. The question of a dam at the Long Sault, Smith Drygoods Company. The exon the St. Lawrence, for power purposes is also likely to arise again.

DELIVERY WICKET

Young Girls and Women Receive Their Mail at the General Delivery Window.

New York, Jan. 5. - A national movement to prevent young girls and women from receiving letters at the "general delivery" window of post- Attracts Attention Everywhere offices may result from a crusade started at Jamaica, L. I., by Postmaster Warren B. Ashmead.

The custom of delivering letters at the "general delivery" window care, which includes the use of New was instituted for the benefit of tra- bro's Herpicide. at the postoffice.

But investigation by Ashmead and The prophylactic action of Herpicide by postal authorities all over the keeps the hair free from disease, and nation have shown that this is now with the scalp sweet and clean a only a minor part of the general deto them at their homes. The situation in Jamaica reached such an acute stage that Ashmead All first-class barbers and has appealed to Postmaster-General, A sample and booklet will be Hitchcock for permission to stop any address upon receipt of 10c by the practice. Hundreds of young the Herpleide Co., Dept. R., Detroit girls, he declares, are getting mail Mich. their parents, while many married! Anderson & Nelles, 268 Dundas men and women are clandestinely street, and Callard & McLachlan, 390 men and women are clandestinely Richmond street, special agents. receiving their letters from their admirers through the medium of the general delivery wandow. "There is a moral question involved," declared Ashmead today, "that really is a serious one."

SCOTCH CURLERS LOSE. St. John, N. B., Jan. 5.-Scotch curlers contested St. John's rinks for

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine who walked out after refusing to sign Cures a Coldin One Day, Grip in 2 Days defray expenses. PIN THIS TO YOUR LETTER 'KING LLOYD GEORGE" NOW

This large 50-cent free package will sent you in a private and perfectly plain wrapper, so that no one but yourself will know the contents. Accompanying this package will be full and complete data and directions, letters of testimony and a special letter of expert advice that in its self is well worth your time reading.

If you want to add ten, twenty, or even thirty pounds of good, solid fiesh to your bones, do not delay, send at once for a

All that you have to do it to cut out the coupon below and send it with your name address and ten cents to pay for distri-bution expenses to the Sargol Co., 467-M Herald Bidg., Binghamton, N. Y.

FREE COUPON.

To the Sargol Company, 467-M Herald Bldg., Binghamton, N. Y.

Gentlemen—I am a reader of the Advertiser and desire a free 50c package of Sargol, in accordance with your generous offer. I inclose 10c to help free 50e package of Sargol.

BUSILY ENGAGED His 'Incog." Visit to the Continent in Special Car Attracts Attention. London, Jan. 6 .- "King Lloyd George the First" is the way in which a London morning paper, the Standard (Conservative), describes the Chancellor of the Exchequer, who started yesterday on a continental holiday.

"Mr. Lloyd George," says the Standard, in an editorial article, "is travelling incognito. There is something inexpressibly comical in this assumption of royal dignity by the most aggressive Radical politician of the day Mr. Lloyd George, unwilling to mingle with the common mob, set out on his trip in a special saloon car, reserved for himself and fils personal suite, quite after the manner of imperial and royal personages. A group of courtiers assembled at the station to bow their adieux to the departing potentate."
The Standard, which must not must not for moment be supposed to be writing locosely, goes on to inform its readers that foreign observers of British polities have always refused to take the chanceller seriously, and concludes its editorial by a reference to the fable of the frog which tried to be a bull and In this morning's papers much more space and prominence are given to Mr. Lloyd George's departure for the contingent than to accounts of the King's doings in Calcutta.

BLOCK DESTROYED.

Biddeford, Me., Jan. 5 .- Fire early oday destroyed a three story brick owned and occupied by the plosion of the heating plant in ellar is supposed to have started the blaze. The loss is $75,000 and the insurance is $50,000.

SOURCE OF DANGER THE GIRL WITH BEAUTIFUL HAIR

There is one sure and certain way for every woman to have beautiful hair, and that is to give it intelligent vellers who were not sure at what ho- This remarkable preparation kills tels they would stop, and whose mail absolutely the dandruff germ, eradiwas held for them until they called cates dandruff and prevents the hair from falling.

livery mail. A vast majority of it health and vigor, light and luster, now appears to be for men and women who do not care, for obvious reasons, to have their mail delivered

All druggists sell it and guarantee All druggists sell it and guarantee one dollar size bottles All first-class barbers and

A sample and booklet will be sent to

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup

has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS OF MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEETHING, with PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOUTHES PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOUTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMM, ALLAYS ALL PAIN, CUITES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for diarrhaes. Sold at lever the world. thoea. Sold all over the world.

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

corsets all the time But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. A. A. GILES, Route 44, Dewittville, N. Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass, invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

Best Hair Goods in City

We carry an enormous stock in first-class SWITCHES at all

36 inches long, 3 oz.... $5.00 34 inches long. 21/2 oz. . $4.00 20 inches long, 2 oz $3.50 28 inches long, 2 oz $3.00 26 inches long, 11/2 oz. $2.50 22 inches long, 11/4 oz. $2.00 20 inches long, 11/4 oz .. $1.00

We dress same in any style without extra cost.

Fancy Combs

At very tempting prices.

We loan viving for parties.

Hairdressing and Manicuring

Our Specialty. Our Gentlemen's Toupees Are the Best

$15.00 to $50.00. Prof. Micheel

Phone 2336.

D. Campbell & Sons INSURANCE BANK OF TORONTO CHAMBERS

Appleby School OAKVILLE, ONT.

Established 1886

A country boarding school for boys, wenty miles from Toronto The Winter Term opens on Thursday, 11th January, 1912, at 10:30 a.m. Prospectus and full information supplied on application.

J. S. H. GUEST, M.A. (Cambridge), 91k-vwtz Head Master RESORTS

LAKEWOOD, N. J.

an attractive Fall, Winter and Spring resort among the Pines, offering a dry, healthful climate, social advantages and every opportunity for outdoor recreations. The ideal place to seek freedom from the cities' discomfort

THE LAUREL HOUSE ow Open. A. J. Murphy, Mgr THE LAUREL IN THE PINES Now Open. Now Open. Frank F. Shute, Mgr Booklets, Information on request. Reached from New York City via

New Jersey Central R. R.