Rev. G. F. B. Doherty Honored on Leaving
A farewell celebration was tendered to Rev. and Mrs. G. F. B. Doherty on Tuesday evening in Cronyn Hall at St. Paul's Cathedral. A short programme of music and addresses commenced the evening's proceedings. Solos were rendered by Mr. Sinclair and Mrs. Patterson, while Miss Layman acted as accompanist. Canon Tucker spoke briefly, and referred to the friendly relations which had always existed between himself and Mr. Doherty, and regretted that St. Paul's was losing such an able assistant. Very Rev. Dean Davis addressed the gathering on behalf of the clergy of the city, and also paid tribute to the ability of Mr. Doherty.

BETTER CONDITIONS FOR THE WORKERS
Liberals in Legislature Fighting for Better Regulations of Factories.
WOULD AMEND THE ACT

Mr. Rowell Points Out Ways in Which Lot of Labor Could Be Improved.

Toronto, March 26.—When the bill to revise the shops and factories act was in committee in the Legislature last evening the members of the Opposition returned to attack the provisions of the present act, and urged upon the Government the need for more advanced legislation. Several divisions were forced, but the amendments were voted down.

The Opposition were not satisfied to have these questions disposed of summarily. If the Government would consider the proposals the Opposition would not press the amendments for the time being. "We are prepared to stay here until Christmas if necessary to get a decent factory act for the workers of this province," said the Liberal leader. "The day is coming when a man must earn a wage that will support his family and insure his children an opportunity to secure an education that will fit them for their work in life." Certain it was that the Government had neglected its duty to provide better legislation in this direction. Six years ago a special committee of the House was appointed to look into the question and no action had been taken since that time.

Mr. Allan Studholme voted all through with the Opposition.

Make Fine Heavy. Mr. Rowell moved, seconded by Dr. McQueen, that the bill should be amended by adding to section 55 a sub-section providing that no person, firm or corporation shall offer or expose for sale any machine to be operated by steam, hydraulic, electric or other power unless it is provided with reasonable safety devices and guards for the protection of workmen employed in the neighborhood of the place where the machine is used, and for the prevention of persons operating or allowing the machine to be operated while the safety devices are detached, for the marking upon the machine of the manufacturer's name and address, and for the imposition of a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $200 for each offence. The amendment was lost.

The Opposition leader quoted from the factory inspector's report of 1911 to the effect that it was difficult to secure in Canada standard and proper guards for machinery. From the 1910 report he read a statement of the inspector that a large number of agricultural implements supplied hoods to cover exposed gears and dangerous parts of machinery intended for the farm market, but did not provide any hood or protection whatever for machines sold in Canada.

Mr. Rowell's Amendment. Mr. Rowell also moved (1) to prevent persons under the age of sixteen from operating elevators, and (2) that a young girl or woman appears to be physically unable to perform the work upon which she is engaged the employer shall have power to prohibit the employment of such child or woman. The amendment was taken into his employment any person under the age of fifteen years who cannot read at sight and write legibly simple sentences of prose. The amendment was lost.

Mr. Lucas took the ground, as on a former occasion, that the bill was from the statute revision commission, and such new principle should be introduced by direct legislation and not amendment in committee. The position of the Opposition might be proper for platform purposes.

Mr. Rowell's second amendment was: "No employer shall take into his employment any child, youth, or young girl under the age of fifteen years who cannot produce a certificate from the principal of the school which she or he has attended, or which she or he last attended, or from the school inspector of the municipality in which the employer carries on his business, certifying that such child, youth or young girl is able to read at sight and write legibly simple sentences of prose, and has such other educational qualifications as may be prescribed by regulations to be passed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council."

Dr. McQueen wanted a further amendment made so that a child, youth, young girl or woman if found to be physically unable, or the work is harmful to health, or if the employer, by continuing in the employment, until a physician has certified that the disability has passed away. He would transfer the administration of the factory act from the department of agriculture and place it under the provincial board of health. The district officers of health were better able to judge of these conditions than laymen. This amendment was also voted down. The House sat until nearly midnight. The persistent advocacy of the Opposition resulted in only a few clauses passing.

GOOD HEALTH FOR YOUNG GIRLS
They Need the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Perhaps you have noticed that your daughter in her "teens" has developed a fitful temper, is restless and excitable. That she complains of weakness and depression; feels tired out after a little exertion; appetite variable, complains of headaches and is growing pale. In that case remember that the march of time is leading her on to womanhood, and that at this period a great responsibility rests upon mothers. These are symptoms of anaemia—that is, bloodlessness, and no time should be lost in increasing and enriching the blood supply. Unhealthy girlhood almost always leads to unhealthy womanhood. All young girls in their teens need the help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich and increase the blood supply, and give sickly, drooping girls the brightness and charm of perfect health. In proof of this Miss Zola Gordier, Morrisburg, Ont., says: "I was pale and bloodless, and suffered from many of the symptoms of anaemia. I would tire easily and suffered from frequent headaches. My appetite was poor and I was very pale and easily discouraged. The medicine I was taking did not seem to help me, and then one day I read the story of a young girl who suffered similarly and was cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes of the pills and started to take them. Before they were done I began to feel better and look better. Then I got half a dozen more boxes, and before they were all used I was enjoying the best of health, and have continued to do so since. My young brother was troubled with rheumatism and they completely cured him."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or can be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.
