Candidates Meet Tonight Again in Ward Two-Aldermen to Speak.

With last night's election meeting at Riverview school setting a precedent for interest and attendance, the present municipal campaign shows indications of warming in intensity and a big gathering is expected at Talbot street school tonight.

John Anderson and George A. Wenige, candidates for the mayoralty wenige, candidates for the mayorally will carry the election fight into ward two, where board of education and other aldermanic office seekers will also speak. Ald. L. H. Douglass and Ald. Harry Bottrill, who spoke briefly at Riverview school last night promised to fully discuss their polipromised to fully discuss their cies at tonight's meeting. James Donahue and C. M. Linnell are also expected to speak as aldermanic can didates.

Prepares Meetings.

Ald. Anderson is preparing to hold mid-day shop meetings and will give as much of his time as possible to permit the electors to "size up" his policy of harmonious council for 1925 and the elimination of the one-man system of government.

Tomorrow night two meetings will be held, one at Aberdeen school at 7:30 o'clock, and the other at Empress avenue school at 8:30.

Mayor Wenige furthered his campital when he speke at the King paign when he spoke at the King street plant of the McClary Manu-facturing Company at the noon hour. The mayor promised a further reduction of .07 of a mill in 1925. He promised that a new collegiate institute would be constructed next year on a site named by the school board. Attacks Statement.

Mr. Wenige attacked the statement that there had been padding of the estimates this year. If there had been, six other aldermen had to act in collusion with him, he said. He renewed his avowal that any city employee who did not meet his obli gation to be courteous to the pub lic would be dismissed by the mayor The "time for a change" argument was scouted by the speaker, who said that he had his fingers on all the city's business after two years
