

FIRST HEADING IN COLLISION CASE

Opening Argument at Vancouver in Charge of Manslaughter Against Capt. Griffin.

LAWYERS HAVE A WORDY QUARREL

Case Stands Over Until Today to Examine More Witnesses.

Vancouver, July 26.—(Special)—The hearing of the case against Captain T. C. Griffin of the steamer Princess Victoria on the charge of manslaughter began in the police court this morning.

E. V. Edwell, K. C., assisted by C. B. Macneil and J. E. McMillan, C. P. R. solicitors, appeared for the defence, and W. J. Bowser, K. C., for the prosecution.

Captain Jones, lighthouse keeper at Brockton Point, told of the accident as he had seen it. The steamer Princess Victoria seemed to be going fifteen knots an hour and the Chehalis six knots at the time of the accident.

Witnesses who saw the Princess coming towards the Chehalis and jumped out of the cabin on deck. He said the Princess did not seem to slow down any before she struck.

C. A. Dean, engineer of the Chehalis, was placed on the stand and had a lively time with Mr. Bodwell on cross-examination. On several occasions they got into a wordy quarrel, and the magistrate threatened to clear the room. Witness said the Victoria blew one whistle when a length and a half away and never slowed down.

R. H. Bryce gave evidence corroborating Dean's. During cross-examination Messrs. Bodwell and Bowser had a sharp altercation. The former reminded the latter that it was not a political meeting.

George Snider, the Victoria contractor, was a passenger on the Princess Victoria and was on the scene. He would have been stopped and the accident avoided.

Mr. Bowser remarked that the C. P. R. had evidently sent officials around to interview possible witnesses. He asked for a remand until tomorrow, when he would have many more witnesses.

The case was stood over. Captain Jones of the Chehalis may be able to attend tomorrow. Mr. Bowser said that the Chehalis was a passenger on the Princess Victoria and was on the scene. He would have been stopped and the accident avoided.

BEING KINDLY TO POLITICAL OPPONENTS.

The circumstance that it does not appear that the government is so kindly to its opponents is illustrated in British Columbia. There the McBride administration has appointed Mr. Fred Peters, K. C., a Liberal, to investigate a scandal. The Liberal organs, in commenting upon this incident, say that the government has no such thing as an honest man.

Another illustration of the folly of extending courtesy to some politicians is presented nearer home. The Whitley government listened to the importunities of a blither opponent who wanted to be placed upon the University board. Having yielded to the appeal for office, the government is now told that the man is not fit to be on the board.

Such a tremendous authority on university matters, and that, as a matter of fact, Mr. Whitley is a pigmy beside him, is a matter of course.

This is, however, a material difference between appointing a commissioner to investigate charges against a party government and appointing a university board. It is true that the Liberal press of this province was ungracious enough, after launching unground charges against the Conservative government, to make slurring remarks as the result of Mr. Peter's selection for the purpose of investigation. You cannot make slurring remarks, nor can you gather figs from thistles nor alter the skin of the Ethiopian.

Nevertheless that need not necessarily deter the government from doing what is obviously right. Had a Conservative been made commissioner, the finding would have lacked force to bring consideration to the government. Had a Liberal been appointed, the finding would have been unimpaired. It might have been an unscrupulous press would have conveyed the impression that the report was partisan and concocted charges against the Conservative government. TO REMOVE LEPELERS TO ALBERT HEAD

Dominion Government Has Designs to Establish Station at That Point.

RESIDENTS OBJECT VERY STRENUOUSLY

Province Will Resist Right to Re-Entry Upon Land in Question.

The Dominion government, it is stated, proposes to remove the lepers now held on Darcy island lazaretto to the government reserve at Albert Head, a clearing of four miles from the city of Victoria, where the federal quarantine station was situated before the removal to William Head some years ago. The clearing is to be known to Dominion officials, though not generally credited. It is stated that Senator Riley promised to telegraph to Ottawa to protest. The farmers resident in the vicinity of Albert Head are most indignant because of the threatened movement of the lepers to the point in proximity to them.

Mr. Bannister said yesterday that he had made an effort to purchase the point from the provincial government, but was told that it could not be sold unless by tender or by auction. Capt. Gosse had an application in at the time. Dr. A. T. Watt, Dominion quarantine officer, examined the point some days ago to report, and he says it is the most sheltered and comfortable place for the lepers. The farmers, however, are decidedly averse to the coming of the victims of the disease to Albert Head. They have held a caucus and threaten dire things to the member for the district if the project is carried out.

Equity at the lands and works department yesterday afternoon developed the fact that the property at Albert Head on which it is proposed to install the lepers now at Darcy island was set aside by an order-in-council for the use of the Dominion government for quarantine purposes in 1897. The Dominion government having withdrawn from the point and removed to William Head, it is stated, abandoned all rights to the point, and the order-in-council was rescinded by the provincial government in 1897. The provincial government has no knowledge of the proposed re-entry of the Dominion government or their right to establish a station for lepers there.

Hon. E. F. Green when asked, said that if it is the intention of the Dominion government to do this, the provincial government will certainly contest their right to the point.
