is what Mrs. C. A. Campbell, of Pownans, Ont., says in describing Zam-Buk. She writes: "I blistered my heel badly by wearing new shoes. Some dye from my stockings got into it and caused a poisoned sore. It was extremely painful and for a week I could not put a shoe on. Then I heard of Zam-Buk and commenced using it. It was just wonderful the way it drew out the poison and inflammation, ended the pain and healed the sore. Zam-Buk is certainly the finest balm in existence—everyone should know of it."

C. G. R. BOOSTING GREATER PRODUCTION

Urging Employees to Cultivate Land Along the Right of Way.

Property Owners Adjoining Will Also be Given the Chance to Raise Greater Crops.

With the idea of encouraging the greater production of food, the Canadian Government Railways is urging all employees who are in a position to do so, to apply for tracts of land along the right of way in various sections, and raise crops of garden vegetables, hay, oats, potatoes, bulk wheat or grain.

Hitherto in several favorable localities convenient to stations, it has been the practice for the agents and section men to utilize the land to a limited extent for farming purposes. Near many of the country stations will be seen the small vegetable garden, and between stations the strip of land growing potatoes, or longer stretches with quite luxuriant crops of hay. Last year, in response to the call for greater production, there was a very considerable increase in agricultural activity along the right of way, sufficient at any rate to show that there are tremendous possibilities if only more of the land available for cultivation is utilized. It will easily be seen that there are miles upon miles of good land where good crops can be raised. In many sections the land is distinctly favorable.

Last year 182 permits were granted to persons who cultivated sections of land varying from small garden plots to stretches of over two acres. In District No. 2 alone, in No. 1 District one hundred and forty persons took advantage of the opportunity to raise crops. In a comparatively small section of No. 5 District 41 permits were issued, and in No. 1 District 18 on District No. 4. Prince Edward Island being such a fine farming district, there was apparently not much desire to utilize any available land along the railway track, for only twenty permits were issued. This means that during the summer of 1915 some 245 acres were cultivated. According to returns received, the sections under cultivation were as follows:

District No. 1.	100.44 acres
" 2.	121.74 "
" 3.	6.00 "
" 4.	9.14 "
" 5.	4.35 "
" 6.	30.00 "

There are no returns showing the extent of the sections cultivated on the right of way on the Prince Edward Island Railway, but the holders of permits have raised good crops of oats and potatoes.

It will easily be seen that in nearly all sections there is plenty of land available for those who are in a position to make use of it to increase production. The Railway is thoroughly in earnest in its desire to assist in every way possible this greater production of food, and will place all desirable land at the disposal of those who will give a sufficient guarantee of their intention to properly till the soil and raise suitable crops. Permits for sections of land can be obtained from the Superintendents of the various Districts, who will acquaint the applicants with whatever conditions are required. The time for planting and seeding is now drawing near, and all persons desiring tracts of land are urged to make early applications. Preference will be given first to employees of the railway, and then to those who are immediately adjoining the right of way. All enquiries addressed to the Railway will be promptly answered.

NEED FIGHTERS MORE THAN FOOD PRODUCERS.

Big Delegation of Ontario Farmers Went on Cabinet but are the Two Weeks' Leave of Absence is Only Relief That Can be Promised.

Ottawa, May, 3.—A representative deputation of some two hundred Ontario farmers, for the most part summoned by telegraph yesterday by the officers of the United Farmers of Ontario to meet in Ottawa today, interviewed the government this afternoon, and pleaded for the temporary holding up of the new conscription regulations in so far as the taking of young men from the farms is concerned until at least the representations of the big deputation called for the 14th inst. are heard. The farmers, today, voiced a vigorous protest against the rigid provisions of the new order-in-council which leave no loopholes for any young farmer, no matter what the need of his labor on the farm. They maintained that if the government went ahead with its present policy, food production this year, instead of being greater would be decreased, despite the need of greater production to prevent starvation overseas.

Government Stands By Its Guns.

The reply of the government as voiced by Sir Robert Borden, Major-General Newburn, Hon. T. A. Crook and Hon. N. W. Rowell was that the first need was men for the front to hold back the Hun and that although the new regulations undoubtedly worked hardship and threatened to decrease production the government knowing all the facts of the present acute condition must stand firm by the policy it had deliberately adopted. The men must come from the farms as from other industries and they must be obtained at once. There was no sign of any backing down on the part of the government. Sir Robert's answer to the delegation was sympathetic but firm.

BRITAIN'S DRINK BILL.

Great Britain is spending today more money on drink than it did in 1914 though, as a matter of fact, the amount of alcohol consumed is only half as great now as it was at the beginning of the war. The enhanced price has led some people to assert that the people of the United Kingdom have steadily increased their consumption of liquor in spite of war conditions, but the fact is that they have it down by one-half.

1914	$822,000,000
1915	$10,000,000
1916	$10,000,000
1917	$1,295,000,000

I simply reckon $5 to the sovereign. This looks as if the United Kingdom were 5 per cent more drunk in 1917 than she was in 1914, but this is not the fact. The value of money has declined roughly by one-half. The true expenditure on drink today is about $500,000,000 not $1,295,000,000. And the number of gallons of alcohol actually consumed has been:

1913	$2,000,000
1914	$9,000,000
1915	$1,000,000
1916	$1,000,000
1917	$45,000,000

This means that in five years our drinking has gone down by one-half. In 1915 there were 190,000 convictions for drunkenness in England and Wales. By 1915 the number of convictions reduced to 90,000, and the number for 1917 was still less. Mr. Wilson says that these figures of recorded convictions are naturally affected by enlistment in the army, but that there is no question that the British are a much more sober nation than before the war. He says, also, that the great decrease in wages owing to war conditions has done a great deal to keep the drink bill above the level to which it would otherwise have fallen.

The open house for public house has been reduced by one-half in Scotland and by one third in England and Wales. Both credit and trading are forbidden. In England and Wales public house bars are closed for eighteen and a half hours out of twenty-four. Mr. Wilson expresses the hope that the American people will protest against the use of any shipping space to carry beer or grain for manufacturing alcohol to Great Britain. He says: "It seems to some of us that Providence is using the Atlantic to teach us in Britain that we can and must get on without alcohol, except for industrial purposes. The battle of Picardy and request for American troops were followed immediately by further drastic reductions in beer imports. I hope that America will make it a condition that not one inch of her Liberty ships shall ever be used for carrying cargo to Britain. You should cut off these supplies just as India cut off opium exports to China. All that is best on our side would be gratified by the fact that the brewers and distillers are still a powerful factor in Great Britain. Some years ago when the breweries were turned into limited liability companies and obtained hundreds of thousands of stockholders the trade as a whole interest greatly increased its hold upon the nation. Nevertheless Mr. Wilson says "the war has shaken that structure and drink in Britain is doomed to decline."

DO YOU SUFFER FROM RHEUMATISM?

If you had suffered for years from Rheumatism and then had found a treatment that banished your pains and made you free to go about your business, would you want to keep the remedy secret, or would you want to pass on the good word to other sufferers?

It is an outstanding feature of the hundreds of letters received by a prominent firm of manufacturing druggists that after referring thanks for the relief afforded, the wish is expressed to let others know the good word.

Here are a few extracts that will interest anyone who has Rheumatism—

"I have recommended Gin Pills to friends of mine who are troubled in the same way."

"I would advise all sufferers from Rheumatism to try Gin Pills."

"I take great pleasure in recommending Gin Pills to all sufferers from Rheumatism."
