The World sincerely trusts that Mr. Mowat will have something definite on this question to announce to the members of the Legislature when they convene in a few days. He will find the press of the entire province at his back if he takes a bold line in this matter.

Join in the Good Work. trust The Globe and Mail will join The World in impressing on the Government of this province the desirability of developing the mineral wealth of Ontario. The country is immensely rich: if we can only have the country thoroughly explored and the facts made known, Ontario will receive such an impetus as she has never heretofore dreamed of.

The farmers, the manufacturers, the mer-look for an active policy in this matter.

The Dominion Government work is too general. We want to know about the mining resources of Ontario, and we look to Mr. Mowat to lead the way.

Mining Development.

Relief from the present stringency is to be had by opening up new industries such as mining.

Ontario is rich in minerals of all kinds, and we cought to have busy mining populations, smelting furnaces mining callegeds rolling the cought of the c smelting furnaces, mining calleoads, rolling shifts and the thousands of smaller industries that follow activity in mining. If you own a mining claim, if you are in any way interested in the Lake Superior or Ottawa country, impress upon your member that the Legislature press upon your member that the Legislature pearance before a Toronto audience. press upon your member that the Legislature must move in the matter.

The Mail has become suddenly solicitous for the interests of the British investors in Canada, which it regards as second only to the interests of the American manufacturer. In the Mail's eyes the Canadian investor and manufacturer's interest in his own country comes last and least of all. Such another example of moral and mental perversity can hardly be found in the records of journalism.

The Globe agrees with Sir Charles Tupper that there are few Annexationists in Canada, and adds that "they preach despair to empty houses." Our contemporary discovered this fact by actual experience, and is now endeavoring to edge in with the crowd, but is doing so for its own benefit and not for the country's. If the despairists had succeeded in rallying full houses The Globe would still be whooping it up for them. The Halifax Chronicle learns with regree from Attorney-General Longley that the people of the United States take little interess in the C.U. fad. Here again The World is justified out of the mouths of those who used to tell us that the Butterworth-Wiman combination was a power in its own country. Nothing could have been farther from the truth. While those worthies and their dupes were mounting about Canada and bragging of their influence at home The World demonstrated from the columns of the United States press that they were regarded over there with a good natured indifference bordering upon contempt, and we now speak whereof we know when we say that they are regarded upon this side with contempt intensified by indignation. In United States politics the bobtailed Ohio statesman and the star spangled States Islander are small potatoes and few to the hill, but in Canadian affairs they are smaller and fewer still. The Toronto Globe admits that "C.U. is blocked this side of the lines." The Halifax Chrenicle admits that it is blocked upon the other side, and the St. John, N.B., Telegraph has thrown it oversioned as a stinking fish offensive to the Rostrils of loyal Liberals. Of all the few who were Wiman's once The Mail is left alone in its—well, say'glory.

Now that the bats have been offed and stowed away, the hardworking secretary gets out a quire of paper, and after ten minutes work hires somebody to figure out his club averages for him. The lightning calculator who compiled the subjoined statistics of the Toronto Club's work for the season declares that they are correct.

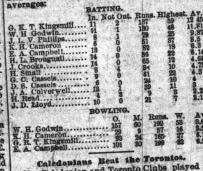

It will be seen that the dark and melaneholy in the Colts in batting. He probably bribed the secores and cooked the procords. The "Dark secores and cooked the procords. The "Dark Horse" is second. As a slugger from "away back," Mr. Godwin stands pre-eminent. The paternal Mr. Phillips is third, while the aristocratic Mr. K. Muldoon Cameron is prepared to damage anybody who claims fourth place.

Mr. Godwin is the star pitcher. The Committee is pleased to be able to announce that he got through the season without killing anybody or breaking himself in two. It wasn't his bowling, but the ferocious way in which he "sashays" up to the wicket that gave K. H. Cameron his good average. In fielding the team was away up. Mr. Broughall, the entertaining outfielder and contortionist, did remarkable work. He is now going around the town with a knee in a plaster of Paris cast as a consequence of his athletic tendencies.

It may be interesting to the readers of the World to announce that Mr. C. S. R. Laidlaw, the salaried unipine, is doing well in Quebec. The World wishes him well. These are the averages:

"Neglected Lessons of Life" was the subject of a highly interesting lecture delivered last evening in the Central Methodist Church, Bloor-street, by Chancellor Sins of Syracuse University, New York. The lecture was delivered for the instruction and edification of the audience, not for the popularity of the lecturer, which is too often the case. The points which the Chancellor drew attention to were:

1. While you are looking for high and noble attainments remember the methods.
2. Harmonize with your surroundings.
3. The value of what you have depends on the appropriation of it.
4. Never mistake opportunity for possession.
5. The hollest use is the use of ministry.
